Yearbook
2020

Ankur Tiwari : Hello Neeraj Bro, I don't know from where to start... I remember how in our first class u stood suddenly and started telling about ur long list of hobbies while I was scratching my head what should I tell. Because of you, people in our class came down to a comfort level... and it become a family♥ Our geotech family. Im not going to talk about ur long list of hobbies... That people know how much u are an all rounder.... But for u the first thing that comes to my mind is the out of the utmost care u have for others.... Your love for others is so pure and serene which made me inclined also... I am lucky to know you as a gem of person and amazing friend. Stay blessed 😊 and happy bday once again

Shubham Gorase : There are some people who can be easily misunderstood by others. You're that kind of person. In a group where people mock the rules, you stand for the rules and encourage others to follow the same(some people may find this annoying). And this is what makes you odd one out. You want others to finish their plates, switch off the lights when not in room, take care of plants and animals etc. I'll remember you as a compassionate person, a generous friend and an all rounder. But the most interesting thing about you is that you can talk about the intellectual ideas with someone and in next five minutes, boom!, you can debate about the shittiest topics with anyone. Kaha se aati hai itni backchodi!

Ankit Kumar Kanodia : Hey neeraj !! You are very different from others and the best thing about you is you always stands for the right thing. But bro once you start speaking about anything you never stop (bahut chabata hai 😂).

Mohd Raza : Hey Bro some people say that you can be misunderstood easily and i agree to that maybe because you are too good and principled for people to really believe. But when they realise that you are actually honest and to the face kind of guy they get to know you better. You do so much things for friends which is a sign that you really value friendship highly and i am kind of envy because I can't do that much. Stop stressing out much and enjoy the life. All the best for future.

Yearbook

Debiprasad Bhakta : The youngest one from your batch and the active one. I still wonder how you do all these things in a day. Your timetable and the way you maintained, it's another level. You have interest in almost every aspect and you give time equally from heart. Will miss that cycle tour to juhu and your 9 am knocks😂. You have all-round knowledge and a great aspirant in everything. Hope to see you as AS officer. Stay happy always, don't let anything ruining your smile.😁

Ramakanta Behera : Bro, you are an ethical person. At the beginning, I use to ask debi, about you, the only answer I got is, If neeraj did something, means it should have some meaning in it, he must have thought before doing it. You are a true nature lover man, you never miss ur yoga, whether it may be at hostel or at any place, even I saw at lonavola & matheran also. U r an inspiration for many people who believes u. I have seen changes/decrease in food wastage after u convinced him/her the reason and all. You never thought of good or bad in spreading good things thats a good part of urs. I followed few of ur advices bro. I am so sorry I couldn't join a single south movie with u. Be happy as always and stay

Jasmine Lokesh K G : Bro! U were the most annoying little brat I've ever met! But I'm sad that we never played Mafia): U r the only person who tried and (kinda) succeeded to bring a positive change (even 1% is appreciable) to mine n anjusha's lousy nature. Indebted. From morn badminton sessions to BnB cheesebursts to talks about the world politics - everything was intriguing! I believe we would have a collab soon! Bass daaru k saath photo khichane ki fantasy hai bhai ki :D The kinda guy who would enjoy tinde ki sabzi more than being on Tinder :) I adore that! Khair, taang khichai to karne ka boht mann hai, par rehne de..You will cry :) P.S. Bakiyo ne boht tareef ki hai. Don't feel elated or anything -_-

Ajay Kumar Agrawal : You are one of the most hardworking and dedicated guys I met in IITB...U r a gifted spokesperson..have a vivid perception on all socio-political things..u have a great self confidence..which probably is your biggest strength...playing badminton with you for one day was good..you have been my partner frequently in mess...that intellectual discussion with you was enriching...all the best mann...

Tejaswini Satya Chinthagunti : Hey Neeraj! Such happy go chill person I have ever met. The one who appears first in my mind when I come back from home because of your love for sweets 😊 You are that Mr. Perfect I met in my life. They way you balance everything is really worth learning. I have learned so many new stuff from you. You are that one person who had used IITB facilities to the fullest in these two years! 🤩 I have enjoyed all my trips and Telugu movies in your company and look forward to many more. Please don't forget to call me during your trips in future. 😊 I felt really bad for the cancelled Goa trip. Anyways we'll make it possible soon. Ika selavu. Tata

Anjusha K : Neeraj.. U r a kind of person I always wanted to be.. Well organized.. Executing all the plans successfully.. An all rounder. Thanks for motivating me all the time. You gave me a word not to ask for that recording again! So don't ask! 🤩 There is something I never told u... The best thing about you I feel personally.. U just appear from somewhere when I'm down..confused..trapped..or stuck with something. Sometimes all I needed was a few words. A little support.. or a healthy chat. U always appear suddenly. May be a coincidence. But it happened uncountable times.! All the best and never change. 😊 Best of luck!

Rajiv Kumar Saw : Neeraj bro. You are really a gem & a person which nation needs most. Bro your advices means a lot even we are unable to follow it. Be like you, you have a brilliant future ahead & you are the future of the country. & in recent months i came to know about your different shades, the artist in you. Bro next time not in pg cult but we will dance definitely.

Nikhil Pisal : ohh god.... how can i forget you chotu (kaash bhula pata😅). i think everyone must have said about the your misunderstood persona😅. the one of the most organised person i've ever met😅. one who always get into small fights with WRE guys (and with me too😅). you were the guy who thought me (aleast tried😅) how to stick to the plan. ohh that kalsubai trek😅 and you getting mad about not having the perfect pics😅. but whatever may be the reason i enjoyed your company in hostel 12. all the best for your new journey. Remeber..you are the friend we deserve, but not the one we need right now 😅 Just be as you are .

Suchismita Das : Neeraj, you are such a disciplined and principled person. Always standing up for what is right. You always have something to say whatever be the topic. Conversations with you were a delight. Still remember that run, i was barely keeping up with your pace. Thank you for your motivating words during the placements. (So you don't owe me , call it even)😅 You are meant for bigger things, and I am sure your path will take you there. Stay in touch. 💜💜

Abhik Mandal : Bro you know I still remember how you pronounced Hyderabad on our first meet😅 6am Gymkhana badminton court is not my cup of tea, you made it possible for few days😅 I enjoyed all our discussion in H12, whatever the topic is you always had some inputs... Keep up the good work👍 N take your posting in Kolkata 😅 -_- kidding.. Stay happy always Rashmi Bala : Daa I am lucky to have a good friend like you who not only inspires me enjoy the adventures of life but also motivates me to accomplish what left unfinished. You are a very pious, resonating and a down to earth personality. Having endowed with immense talents (except good humor😅), you are always so humble and kind. The best part is your empathy towards the society's downtrodden. I wish you all the courage and wealth to help this society. Also, it was fun attending the different stalls and your hyper-active curiosity😅 and also the field trip. Wish you all the best for your bright future. Hope to see you soon😅.

Shivendra Kumar Shailendra : Bro bro bro the most intellectually sound person that we have in our department who knows other things than book. The perspective that you have for things is damn. You are a very kind person. People have to think before talking to you as you could wrong them easily that's the kind of respect that you have. Yes the grill before my soapbox was lit that helped a lot. Don't change even if the people around you want you to. Keep it up and do your best.

Pravin Telang : We first met in ACE, Hyd. That time I thought of you as a very studious and a book lover, and after I had your company here, you really were a studious one. You had an amazing energy within yourself that stays on and on every day long. #Nature lover, #Book lover, #Determined boy, #Swimmer, #Badminton player. A beautiful soul and an amazing friend, who always cares for everyone. One of the most intellectual and disciplined person of our batch, who would always correctly state his point of view in any topic. I had many wonderful memories with you bro. Thanks for every sweet that you brought for me and thanks for the kettle. Stay in touch bro

Akshay Agatkar : Hii Neeraj!! A guy with lots of discipline and ethics...👏.. I love the way you used to manage lots of things 😊.. You were simply fabulous.. Your swimming skills🏊... Gonna miss those dining talks💖.. Your habit of asking people for extra banana😂😂... Whenever I am gonna finish my meal, I will always remember how you used to point out for wasting food😞... No doubt, that was a good thing..but accha hua lockdown hua..nhi to pakka koi na koi tujhe pit deta😂 (Just kidding).. I wish you all the best for IAS preparation👍 Stay happy..and be in touch😊

Vinay Maurya : Hey Neeraj Bro!!! Damn man I always liked our conversations on anything and sorry if you I might have said something wrong to you. Keep your aspirations always high as you have currently now. I am sure that you will get for what you are preparing now. Just be as you are now and always; this is your strength. Keep smiling and stay in touch:-)

Asim Mulani : Yo Neeraj Bro..!! The most the determined, displined guy and the man with ethical standards. Bro, i was and am the most lucky to have you as my roommate. You taught me many things bro though I didn't follow then and now I am getting the importance of those. Your morning meditation, reading books, listening to some inspirational speakers, organising the work and lot more. The most interesting about you was, you used to have a different perspective to all the things that are happening around us and you used to present them very honesty no matter what other think of it. Bro, I still remember those trees that you planted near our hostel and you used to water them daily. Bro, wishing you all the Mayank Bansal : Neeraj bro, the most punctual and dedicated person I know. I still can't figure out, from where did you used to get the energy to wake up so early and go for sports and swimming. Working with you as a team has been a pleasure. All the very best for the future, and you'll be in Bangalore only so let's meet.
