Anmol Gupta : Hello sir! "We should meet more often" is going to be our parting words for every single time we meet XD. It's ridiculous how much we admitted it and yet never could act on it properly. But yea, we connected on a whole different level in each of our talks and I'm so damn grateful for that :) So many mutual connections used to come up in them (also meant so much gossip haha!). Teaming up on Insight articles and co-heading the MI blog was super fun! I really respect the aspirations you have in your life, and I hope that you get them and set an example for everyone. We should meet more often :P

Apurv Tiwari : Karaaaaaaaan! One of my highlights of coordie year is tumse jaan pehchan hona and then friends banna. Coordie year wouldn't have been half as fun without our media desk bakchodi and wo last day par you-know-who se hour long talks :P And fanboying over another you-know-who even now <3 Thanks for introducing me to Ambrosia. Ab wo mera go to place hai (McD ke alawa) for random outings, and then 5spice ke desserts uff! Scrabble par aur active houna ab main :P and stay in touch forever <3

Aman Sharma : Hey Karan!!! Thank you, for being that mythical IIT senior that you can always talk to and always look up to, from resume correction to random talks. You are by far one of the most genuine person I've met. 4 years, short on the quantity of memories I suppose but each one as significant as they get. Your drive for the work you love (and at times that you don't:P) is inspirational. A better farewell is needed, hope to see you soon!!:)

Parag Mundhada : Yo! Aapke footsteps follow karte karte I reached meta dual. Phir aapne under orgie and coordie in MI. You have guided me in all phases of my life. Right from helping me decide which course to take to helping me take all my major insti life decisions, sab mei aapne help kiya hai 😊. I will be always thankful for the help and guidance that you have given me. All the best for your future endeavours.

Rohan Pathak : Jhuteeeee Wasssuppp!?! Bhai, mast ho aap. Kya random hugte apan saath mein. So sort out as well. Kabhi expect nhi kara tha ki itna banega apna :p Bahut maza aaya last semester yaar. Kaash ye last ke 2 ya 3 mahine bhi mil jaate :(Anyway, bhul mat jaiyo angrezo ke saath rehke mereko :p

Gali Meghana : Hey there mother, who would I rant to if it weren't for you? Can't believe we've gotten so close with me just roasting you and you just comforting me like a mother. You've been nothing less than a pillar of support to me since last sem and I couldn't be grateful enough for that. You get to live a college life again and i'm jealous of you -.- Go ace that unconventional route you've chosen for life and stay the amazing & kind human you are, Ashoka better treat you well. Hope we get to have those icecream treats which YOU have to give too (i won't forget). Kaash delhi door na ho, Lots of love, Meghana.

Sukanya Kudva : Hi Karan, I remember you had once said you were an introvert. That came as quite a surprise to me back then. But I guess you are. Just of a different kind. I'm glad I got to work with you in Insight. You are really straightforward. I don't ever remember you hesitating to say what you felt. And I admire you for that. It's sad that I never got to hear your fundae... you know, the ones you have reserved for all your bacchas😂. Maybe I'll get to sometime... Wish you good luck for all that is coming!!😊

R Sucheta : CG Sirrr, Remember how I randomly turned up to your Media wala meet and showed infy enthu to work? :P And then Insight, I forgot to pay you and you had to remind me, the rest is history :) Apne food outings, infy gossips, discussing careers, books, movies, crushes, music genres, my crazy dramas (Sorry :P) and every random thing. <3 And its cute how you always remember to get me gifts and food <3 Insight would've been very different without you. I've seen how you've developed over the years and I am so so proud of you for all that you've achieved. I am also amazed at how you always make me smile, no matter how low I feel. And haan, me aapko FIFA me harake dikhaaungi ek din :P

Harshita Verma : Hello lab partner :P bahot mazze liye hai tum logo ne mere :P but it was nice having you guys around maybe not as nice when i was roasted -_- but other than that I remember how we guys use to finish most of the experiments so late :P I never thought someone like you would go into the opposite direction of cooperate world but it's good people are exploring more and more :D So keep going on different adventures and since you'll be in Delhi toh I hope we'll get some opportunity to catch up :D

Karan Kothadiya : Man, you've helped me stand on my feet in insti acads. I know for sure I haven't thanked you enough for teaching me entire courses at length before exams. I admire the way that you have so gracefully dealt with all the times when insti was unfair to you and sadly there were plenty of those. Yet, you never let it show and that is extremely inspiring. I love when we talk about books TV and films because I always know you're going to patiently listen and also that a fabulous suggestion will be around the corner. All the best at Ashoka! (there, do as the romans do xD) Keep in touch bro! :) Love, K

Samruddhi Dodal : Trichal! It feels like we always found a way to escape extremely boring environments - like meta labs. It is so easy to talk to you - and it feels like we always had more to talk! I really used to enjoy it, hope we keep catching up like that :) Wish you all the success in everything you do, stay in touch <3

Ishita Shah : Hey! Though we didn't end up writing our article (sorry, Varun and Saman :P) it was worth signing up for, for I got to know you. Interviewing profs and discussing lit courses with you was so much fun. You're a really nice person and a great listener. I enjoyed going to dinners with you and walking around insti. I hope we get to do our streetfood trip, even if it happens in Delhi now :D Troubling you is too much fun, that's not stopping anytime soon :P PS: Keep giving me book recommendations --- 'seasoned reader' XD

Shubham Goyal : Hello Big brother, I remember our first talk jab nauni se milne aayaa, and you were the first person jo pehli baar me legit acha laga from some other IB xD :p it started with teasing nauni to me cribbing about everything ,tu bade bhai wali vibes deta he n i respect you for that, tere life decisions kaafi sorted lagte he and jo tune path lia he i hope tu usme bhaut macha dega, thanks for the nivea intern too indirectly and all the gym sessions we had :p18 me kya mast position tha rooms ka but ab kya krre , kab milna hoga it's a new story now, kabhi kuch galat bola ho to chota bhai smjhke maaf krdena :D and i will try to get "her" someday after i become enough capable. thoda angrezi bhi sikha d

Saman Siddiqui : Star <3 I remember the first time that we went out. I think we ate waffles and walked back to campus. I also remember immediately feeling a connection with you. I knew us being friends just made so much sense. Ever since then, you've been one of the few people I have been able to bear my soul to. You've been more than a friend. Even the summer of 2019, when you were guiding me and being there for me, you were again more than a friend. Hours on the phone - with someone who I could trust with everything. As we pass-out, I want you to know that I will still trust you with everything and I hope you can do the same! <3

Satyam Mohla : the earlier moment i remember with you is... second year marketing coordinator, in front of F&B room/besides then MI room, talking about how you just started interning for Toppr... No wait its even before that right? day 1 tut 1 D2T4 :p man those freshie year times! From then I had known you constantly, and seen your journey as a MI manager to today when you are headed to Ashoka. Ashoka man!! :D [*khushi ke aansu]. Man your interest in humanities and writing and psychology is just inspiring. Sorry agar aajkal kam ping krre, believe me I 'm going to be pareshaning you a lot. You've been a great guy, and a great friend and I am very happy to have known you.

Yashaswini Chauhan : Thanks for being the person I could randomly call and cry to :p I'm gonna miss you every time I order peri-peri fries with cheese. And haan, thanks for vouching for us, and sorry for letting you down :p I'm so glad that I opted for the Water Infra article and got to know you. H15 wali FN meet se Laxmi ki chakhna-sponsored treat ka safar achha tha :D Bas hashtag game lit rakhna aage bhi #BhaiyaKaiseKiya

Kireeti Akkunuri : Hiya Karan! You're one person who I can trust to relate with even if we were just sitting silently and enjoy each others' company. You have been an inseparable part of my insti life, starting from a mentoring role to a really great friend. I'm glad we opened up to each other the way we did! Tbh one of the reasons I continued working in media is you, couldn't have asked for a better CG. Baaki Insight, those BnB meets, late night strolls, canteen talks, messenger rants, etc are testament to our friendship. I really missed talking to you of late! You can absolutely ping me or call me whenever and wherever. I'll miss dissing diacritics and discussing music. All the best for life ahead!

Alok Ranjan : Yo Karan! You were a great senior and a person to take advice from, about almost anything. I'm really gonna miss those gossip and gyaan sessions, and thanks for introducing us to the BnB Peri Peri Fries (damn I miss them!) I hope we stay in touch and wish you all the best with Ashoka :D, aise hi machate rehna! PS: still not done with Dostoyevsky (infi slowwww ho gayi hai) but the appreciation discussion for Sofya Semyonovna is gonna happen :3
