Rishabh Kumar : Sorry bhaai agar jyada chidhaya ya irritate kiya ho to but do not expect ki agli baar mila to irritate nhi karunga 😅 Baaki to best of luck man, see you soon !

Kumar Saunack : I'll put you at par with Aman on terms of crying ability. One crucial difference though, you actually work and still cry. He doesn't work and cries anyways. However, you both manage to get the same results somehow. I am surprised at your ability to compartmentalize. You do manage to set a time for studying and follow it, which is a rare quality in our wing. I hope your search for greener pastures ends one day and you finally get to relax.

Shubham Anand : Nangu bro.. First of all congrats for google. Kitna ro raha tha! We had lots of fun together. Well I have to say that you have the best hindi speaking capability among all the gultis I know. You are one of the most hardworking and maggu guy in our wing but you get the results too. And itna rich hai tu. Didi ke US mein hone ka fayda utha and chill maar thoda life mein.. Also you have the funniest proportion of fat in you, I am sure you know what I mean lol. All the best for future.

Manoj Middepogu : You are the best roomie teja. Helped me a lot during these 4 yrs. you study a lot, the whole wing knows. Don't waste money bcz your sister works in US. Atleast try not to cry and chill in Google. we 'might' be the only roomies who placed in same company 😄

Naman Jain : NST, well first sorry for causing your cyclophobia -- but well cycle chalana nhi aata toh race mat kiya kr :P . Kaafii chill maara apan ne ye sem -- infi modern family, squash, volley but kaafi plans rah gaye. Hopefully secret seven padh paaya tu. Also finally life mein rona band krde ab toh

From you trying to drag my ass to gym, to me trying to drag your ass to volleyball, it did become a routine for us. But one thing always bugged my mind, Why do we keep doing projects when we both know that both of us will not do any work.
