Shantanu Thada : Shreyaa! There is no way in the world will i ever be ready to leave a place where you are! I cant ever imagine my campus life without you, the times we've spent together. From making the random-est of plans, eating breakfast for dinner, booking movie tickets five mins before the show and cooking together, these past four years I felt alive like never before! You have been the person that has held me together through toughest of times, you have also been the strongest support system! You have brought a maturity, a sense of stability & self-confidence in me and I cant be thankful enough. But know this, our journey together has just started & I promise to hold on till the end! Love, S. <3

Madhuri Pal : You have been a great supportive senior to me. Always helpful and guiding in nature. I really thank you for making my TA duty especially invigilation and correction of answer-scripts comfortable. I really appreciate for working on non- conventional area of economics and caring what really matters in this world. All the best.

Utkarsh Kulshrestha : Hey Shreya. I never imagined during our first GIS lab that it would go this far. Probably the best student of our lab. Just my passion for teaching and your passion for learning kept you going on and on. For all that, I'm all the more thankful for your company and support alongwith Shantanu during my job interviews. I owe you a treat since a long time. Your love for nature was something I've never seen in others. An impeccable author and a scholar. You can always count on me for any help. The instructor is still alive. Will miss you. All the best.

Raghav Goyal : Hi Shreya! :) Don't really know what to write.. but i just really felt like writing something! I have had some of the best conversations with you really! I am not kidding. They are so... umm.. funny? normal? unexpected? and i feel so free whenever i am talking to you you know..! You're an amazing person! "I wrote this" - is one of the best things I've ever read! You are an amazing writer and definitely an amazing person! Finally someone who likes cats so much! Thank you for all the help over WhatsApp and for trusting me with your stuff :) Hope to see you soon! Take care! all the best for everything ahead.
