Yaar back lgake ruk jao na ek aur saal 😞.I hate this corona,I wished to meet you the last time before you leave but I don't think that's gonna happen. Remember the first time we met, you explained me how we are lucky and should feel happy to study in IIT ,and you gave me a new perspective and brought a change in me. And that's who are, you make everyone's life better silently. I used to feel happy whenever you were around but I can guarantee that I am not the only one.You're special and will always remain

Himali Mhatre : Thanks Nisha ! And of your bunch of traits, what I remember is your strong stance in every smallest discussion aka argument aka bakwas going on in mtd lab ! :) Akhir khaadi and handloom same nahi hota! All the best !

Thirumal Reddy Vennam : Nishu>> what to say. Is there anything you can't do. Be it Study, Sports, Singing, Dance, fashion and many more you excel at what ever u do. I just contour ur arguments just to see how clear u r. I want you to choose your path clearly, so that one day if I may follow, u would be there to lend your hand. We sure climb higher, sit above all and have all the conversation we ever have over there... Sure that'll be taken as a Date :p

Aman Lonare : "Yes!" Bro I will always remember our talks on the 'Tatti'. Bro I was feeling so nostalgic while writing it that I literally had to go and take a shit XD Jokes apart, Bro if you remember once I said I always wanted a chill big sis like you and also you see me as your younger bro. I will miss our Sunny Bar wale hangouts and raat ko tere liye wine or alcohol lane wale kaam. Don't worry Bro, I will be in Mumbai only. We all will meet and had our one last party in Sunny before graduating bro. Till then, stay safe bro.

Instead I apologise for not fast tracking the process and kept you confused/waited for so long. All the best for this and for your dream/what you are thinking to do using this. I hope it will leverage that. Missing the discussions about religion, culture, and timepass. Thank you for the bourneville:) Keep inspiring me always.:) And sorry, main freshers me dance floor pe nahi aaya;)
