Sandeepan Dhoundiyal : Manoj I admire the passion you put in everything. You care a lot for your friends, and are always the life of a party. Your desire to dwell deeper and learn is to be admired, and you know learning doesn't just lie in books, but in experiences too. You are always ready for a challenge and to stand up for those you care about. I knew we would get along famously when all of us talked near the NITIE gate, and I'm glad to have been right. Thank you for the awesome debates, and for teaching us all Mafia. I hope you are ready for the cold winters of Hokkaido with a camera, because I am looking forward to seeing some great shots.

Three bottles down: The political debator That's what you have been Manoj. But in all of that, one thing remained common: The Gem of a friend. Will miss you my cassanova bro.

Swapna Sarit Ojha : Remember that game we played in Goa, in which there were two teams and the opposing team circled us and attacked us with a beach ball, and we had to dodge it! It was SO. MUCH. FUN! Thanks a lot for that game. And thanks for the photo that you took on the second day. That is one of my most favourite pics I have of mine ever taken. But most importantly, thanks a lot, A LOT for all the words of encouragement and appreciation that you said during our conversation in the last day of the Goa Trip. That meant a lot to me. They were the nicest words someone had ever said to me. Thanks a lot for them. Hugs and best wishes for the future!
