Nilesh Vadgave : Sirjee! I remember our first meeting. I was waiting for my Classmate near H15 Durga Cafe and you were struggling to find seat there. We started talking and then became friends! I liked your enthusiasm for Social activities our Dept conduct and then you also became part of Appropriate Technology course! I liked the way you follow your dreams along with family, academic and social responsibilities. We will keep on discussing various social issues!! All the best!!

Shubham Pallod : Hey DRDO guy, would you miss any opportunity to 'pull my leg'? I wonder how you make missiles or something like that if you can't even open a hair blower. (You actually blew it up. XD) Your jugaad worked sometimes waise. (that sprite bottle blower XD looks so odd in photos though XD) You like breaking department locks and acting cool as if you didn't do anything, don't you? But that night will be memorable for life! IDC and BSBE terrace. Wo spray painting ke nishaan IDC me ab tak honge shayad. It was always amazing to talk to you though. You know about everything hai nah? From best daaru to how to convert a massager into the blower, you've got everything covered. I hope we stay in touch.

Satya Balli : Sir... Remember our standard order menu at hostel-15/16/1...me always alu-bhendi rice or boiled egg-burgi rice...though you stop at nothing... cover breakfast and lunch in breakfast itself in h-15 mess... seeing angels...eating only twice a day... though covering 4 meals equivalent in those 2 times... Discussing old sanskrit stories in room in midnight.... breaking head over stress analysis, DO...sharing old question papers and answers of RPD... mimicking RPD-karunakaran sir and kartik sir(KDoM)...filling answers of communications quizzes and writing hw of stress analysis after consolidating answers from all possible sources....and feeling bad after exams everytime.... it was nice sir.... i Naveen Kumar : Hi Nishant bro... hope you may be enjoying project work at home in Corona period 😊.. We altogether enjoyed a lot in our dearest campus IITB. Whether it may our gatherings specially birthday parties in our canteens; our discussions on first sem project, preparations for SA, DMI on any random topic.. Abhijit involved 😊.. You are a good friend, deeply motivated and smart fellow. I sometimes expected from you a behaviour of bada bhai for me... 😊 All the best bade bhai..hope we will meet again. Be in touch...

Abhijeet Chandra : Hi Sir... Should I start by writing that you're one of the most balanced persons with positive outlook and ready to explore every field which in essence is what every life guru teaches us to be. You also motivate and encourage people to try new things. But I know while u read these lines you'll be trying to be modest and will be accepting and denying these words of praise at the same time with a wide smile which I hope burst into laughter. This Lockdown prevented us from discussing so many things. We would have covered the quota for 1st sem also. We had discussed politics, art, urbanplanning,theatre, stand-up comedy(by the way I am still optimistic about watching you deliver a killing Sushant Chavan : Sir..what should I say about you? You are great in my opinion..Your jokes has deep meaning and very funny..Your silent nature in class and cool minded personality always motivated me. You always guided me and supported in clearing doubts. Mostly we had conversations during road walk while returning from class..Sir, take care of yourself and family..

Tewedaj Tariku Olkeba : U are kind, positive person;helping others ;like sharing Ur beautiful India culture and like to know my culture which is best ; for sure u may visit Ethiopia for enjera ,tibs and doro wate (chicken)!I remember we straggled for those courses but we passed together by helping each others (mostly u are the one helping me).I spend good time with u guys .Thanks for everything !wish u best future.
