Prakhar Jain : Yoo Sarvan Broo. I really loved all our interactions, be it at Racing, making the 'gutter cleaner' :P, discussing about exams and homeworks. If I was worried about not doing a homework, you hadn't done it, then I felt ki like theeke time hai. Koī exam mein koi question nhi bana, tera bhee nhi bana, then theeke sabka hi kharaab gaya hai, which was sooo incorrect :P. People call me a chill guy, but I am not the tenth of chill as you. Best of Luck for your future, mann. Stay Awesome.

Tanya Gupta : I don't know the number of times I've been thankful for your presence last semester, be it during the Solid Mech TAsip or just sharing my DDP anxiety. You have always tried to calm me and help me out and I'm really grateful for that. Favorite memories of our interactions have to include us checking tutorials listening to cigarettes after sex, and you wishing me all the best just before my stage 1 DDP presentation (really needed the moral boost!) All the best for whatever you aim to do in life. Stay in touch!

Saurabh Kolambe : Yo bro! I really wanted to go on more trips with u man. I really enjoyed ur company all these years racing as well as outside racing. And thanks for inviting me to the trek bro xD. Aage bhi karte rahenge apn random last minute planned treks. Stay in touch bro, unplanned get-togethers karte rahenge apn randomly. Wish U all the best for ur future bro. Aise hi machate rehna life me. (bdw I still have ur bonafide u asked me to collect before going to UK. haha xD. kabhi le lena mere se. lol)

Vihang Wagh : Damn Sarvan, it's been a long time. It was always so fun interacting with you. You were always so chill and carefree :). My sophie year learning from you, jay, jain and pritam was the best time of my insti life. Thanks a lot for that. Let's meet soon. Drinks on you! :P

Gali Meghana : Chal, Goodbye. - Bivh

Apurv Tiwari : The OG Shawshank, as said by Prabhu sir itself! Bumping into you randomly in random places both in and out of insti has always been intriguing to say the least. Thanks for bearing with my headshots and the FB spam I do daily! <3 All the best for the future.

Ranvita Agrawal : Shaggs, the group was 10x cooler because of your presence in it. From listening about 'parindey' to dancing in some amazing house parties, thank you for giving me amazing memories :) Stay the chilled-out person that you are and life will be awesome.

Radhika Tibrewala : hello shaaaggy :P Had interesting memories with you (last year particularly), which basically always ended up you trying to chill things xD Wish we'd interacted more since start, but koi ni, maybe life crosses path again and we get to know each other. Aaaand one thing i know for sure is that you will do greaaat in life! All the veryy best in life ahead. Hope we stay in touch. Lots of love

R Aditya Narayan : Hi one of the few fellow Bangaloreans in the campus. Carrom was fun and you're were always there to buy our extra contraband. Best of luck for your future !

Shubham Goyal : Shaggy shaggy shaggy my best dual new friend xD :p chill courses saath me krke kaaafi maza aayaa, and also same prof ke under ddp krne me though i know you hate me for putting some extra butter from my side. Thank you for being there in the placement sem as i always said the only outing i was having with you to go for the attendance , thanks for making me do some more cases :p i'm glad you ended up in consult xD tennis plans were epic and corona ruined it :(I guess sunny ke lie bhaut bada gang ho chuka he ready :p phase 2 macha denge :p

Pranav Thakkar : Yoo shaggy thanks for the bathroom slippers man but I left them outside your room after you had left -_- you're honestly so chill I was really happy when Prakhar switched rooms with me. For 4 years our chilling was restricted to random car trips with Vijeth but we really did come a full circle this year. I'll always remember how we almost got locked outside the window with some extremely unwanted saamaan lying around in my room XD I wish I would have been on my phone less at Pawna but I'm sure we'll get at least a few chances to chill more. We also hold the record for shortest Sunny visit (a very productive 20 min) so let's make one for the longest :P stay in touch loser!

Shantanu Thada : Shashaaaaaankkkkkk, I am so glad that we were neighbors in the final year!! Yes, from sometimes walking to class together to placement prep, you have always been the one who has thought the best for everyone! Whatever discussions we have had in the past, I got to know more about how logical and sane-headed you are as a person! I am sure your co-workers at work will be very lucky to have you! Stay the same always and jald hi milte hai! :D

Ayushi Panghal : Shaggy, I first met you in H-15 mess, remember how we talked about feeling a bit weird in insti with sooo many strangers and feeling tadbit homesick, little did I know that I would be living the most beautiful times of my insti life and feeling at home with that boi. From lots of victoria's secret sesh to my always ready for hikes and trips partner to lots of movie sesh to spicy poha and chaas to infinite road trips to impromptu 'shit' plans to being my "DD" and introducing my innocent self to all the glorious things. I'm sure you'll do great things in life, this one will always stay by your side through it all. Our journey together has just begun, so no goodbyes here. Lots of love, sush.
