Pushan Bal : Hey man hey man! I never found out why you greeted everyone like this but I sure liked it. Your presence served as a comic relief for me whenever I needed it. Thank you very much for that and hope that we will stay in touch. I will always remember you as the know-it-all guy when it comes to electronic gadgets. :D

Chinmay Kalra : Hey man! Yagna man!" This was the standard way of greeting you all these 4 years. Your cheerful nature spread positivity in our wing, along with your jokes (which to be honest were sometimes terribly lame). You were the local hardware expert in our wing. I will always remember the many occasions in which DVD tried to win over you in some argument on hardware but you always clean bowled him, quite amusingly. Many thanks for the memories bro.

Mayank Sultania : Bro, I am a big fan of your technical knowledge!! Your life fande to Rushabh and you saying those Hiiis to all of us in H4 was something great...

Mangal Mannat Piyush : Hey man! I have always found you sitting in other rooms helping them in hardware or cracking lame jokes. I still remember you sometimes coming to my room early morning on the day of exam to revise concepts. You will always be the person who always enjoyed everything and honestly replied to people to all their questions. Let's keep in touch cheers!

Rushabh Vora : I remember getting to know u in the first year as the wierd guy in the other wing who doesn't who how to speak Hindi asks a question about pretty much anything u speak in hindi in front of him 😂. But after that, u have been for the past 4 years and will always be my Technical Consultant 😊, as soon as I have any problem in my phone or laptop, I will come running to u. I hope u reduce the amount of KFCs and pizzas 🍕 🍕 u order and get a bit better at baddy 😊. Keep smiling always and be in touch. See you soon...

Pujan Biswas : That damn smile man... Always cheerfully greeting wherever you met. Thanks for the awesome positive vibe and the will to carry on the conversation. Be it on foot or Be it on cycle. Keep up the good work and your love for the perfect badminton shuttle...Please do not forget me! Yours, Bisso!

Satyam Rai : Yo reddy!! Bro you are one of the most interesting person I have ever met. I really miss you man, those late night awesome movies, those BAHUBALI songs you play over and over again, those long discussions we used to have on any random matter. Thank you for sharing so much of your personal problems with me, I really appreciated it. I have never seen a tech savvy like you. You are truly a genius man, I know you are gonna achieve a lot. I do hope you get a control on the cravings of pizza 😊. I miss those convo between you and Varun 😊. Thanks for all the memories man, hope we meet someday again.

Prathmesh Shelar : Hey man (constant since the beginning 😊) . From the very beginning electronics god for our wing... Any problem in laptop, lets go to yagna was also constant for the whole wing.. We still remember your placement story which I heard more than 5 times probably lol 😊. Your always cheerful, positive nature and chill nature and obviously your lame lame jokes but obvio we also had dvd in our wing so yeah we were used to it 😊. Kaafi achi hindi bol lete ho ab 😊. Anyways will ask for help for any laptop related things 😊 and always stay in touch bro..♥

Amit Gangurde : Hey man! Will surely miss the way you greeted me every time we met. You keep asking questions on nearly everything which shows your enthu for learning. It was a common sight to see pizza and kfc boxes outside your door 😂. Loved how you thrashed everyone in any debate related to technology 😂. Thanks for helping me many times. And I probably will be buying a new laptop soon, so be ready for my call 😂

Divyadarshee Das : "My weight is 80 kg"- this might be the most renowned pj in our floor but I have heard even more. True I always had interest in gadgets and your impressive indepth knowledge in computers and games resulted in those discussions (more like classes from you). I still remember you had amazed me when you told me you have an Alienware. Since then you didn't stop you always the best of everything usb drive, earphones, smartphone, trimmer... even an umbrella. I would like to sincerely thank you for those days after gym when I was sick and you had helped me a lot. You proved a friend in need is a friend indeed.

Thangellapally Aman : Chala movies, chala discussions, gaali thirugudu, Goa, chicken pakodi fried rice, top ramen curry, chocolate milk shake, barbecue treat, chala unnai, marchipovadam possible kadu 😂😂, all the best rate, pelli kosam waiting...
