Vaishnavi Gupta : Sowmii.. The first time we met you taught me tamil letters and I gave you besan k laddu :p during that treasure hunt i got this feeling that we're going to be buddies.. Bonding over scrabble, infi lukkha n sleepovers at your room, planning himanis bday surprise..1st yr was ♥ bunked my first class n had my first drink with you xD you were the best roomie I could have had..sharing to-do lists to keep a check, houseparties, laxmi/sunny parties, sharing weirdest thoughts..one of the best memories in insti is that post midsem party..and so much more that I'd rather not write here :p just know that I love you, i know we wont lose touch..and Im just one call away anytime

Himani Gangurde : My first roomie!!! Who in turn became my personal therapist 😞 I really wish we'd bonded more in the first year itself, but that's mostly on me, sorry 🙏 Although we've discussed it already, but how can we be so different yet so similar!? I'm really going to miss bitching and ranting with you. You're full of positive energy, always! And talking to you somehow always fades all the negativity surrounding me ♥ I hope you overcome all the future barriees that you're afraid of, and a badass that you are, I'm sure you'll tackle them all down. Will definitely come crying to you in case of need 😊

Sukanya Kudva : My first memory of us together is of the night we spent at the hospital in fresh year. It was weird, we were worried and somehow trying to still stay calm. I still remember some of the songs we were listening to that night. I am glad we got to be good friends. I will always remember the mess conversations I had with you. You are really very open and sweet.:) It always left me feeling a lot lighter. I hope you continue to stay the strong person you are. Keep in touch♥

Bhavya Garg : Sowmya! You always support me when I roast people, especially Vaishnavi 😂 I love your attitude towards everything, and wish you all the luck for future! Best thing I love about you is how you would never miss anyone's birthday, if it's your kind of party you'll stay longer, if not you'll make sure your greetings are well received before you leave but you'll always come♥. Stay in touch! And dude, whenever you plan to bother yourself trying to get something interesting out of Mekhala, call me too. 😊

Mrigank Ashesh : Hey Sowmya!!! although we have been batchmates but I haven't interacted until our 3rd year. I have been fortunate for all the help I have received from you side during my tenure. I have always seen you smiling and hope that you maintain that smile. All the best for your future

Abhisek Sahu : Hey Sowmya! I only came to know you well, in my third year, and I regret not interacting with you enough before! You are a remarkable person, and you really know how to live your life😊 I will remember our walks to naturals for ice-creams, and the delightful conversations about how capitalism sucked and how people are crap😂, and family and friends! The thing I really love about you, is how you take decisions and pursue the things that give you joy! I am happy that you are now doing something that you really feel strongly for and I am sure you are gonna do great things in Europe. Here's to hoping more conversations, maybe over some gelato!☺

Shubham Gunawat : Hey Sowmya! It's weird that we interacted mostly either in first year or your last year, a lot of things changed in between except that you are still that coolest girl around. I remember our first meeting when you were having so much fun(read: intoxicated) that you said some "not so nice things" to me. I had so much fun with you at last year's litfest. I wish you luck for your future and hope you achieve great things in your life. Also, keep coming with your book recommendations, the last two books you recommended were actually the last ones I read:)

Kesha Tamakuwala : Hi Sowmya! Figuring out Tarang together was a lot of fun! I find you passion for sustainability and a lot of other things super amazing. I love how you always stood up for things you believe in and took initiative! I remember teasing you and asking you to introduce yourself in hindi, they were good days. I hope you have found you calling and achieve all the things you want. Good luck and stay in touch!

Nirbhay Wadiwala : NIGGGAAAA ...oh dude from the trip to Sula to all the late night walks to the amazingly deep conversations we've had. I have no idea why you chose to hang out with me in the first place (If i were you I wouldnt have) but boy did your decision pay off (thats what i think atleast).... Hoping to get you pissed off real soon :)

Chitrangna Bhatt : Yo sowmii, sorry for blabbering so much in Hindi 😂😂 and now I know Chennai is on the right right? I'm happy you finally know some Hindi, and I hope you can someday understand some of what I say 😂😂 you've been fun to be with, celebrating birthdays together and all. All the best for everything forward ♥

Unmesh Raskar : Yo shorty! You are way too smart for iit and way too wise for your age; though you are no less fun than anyone else. XLR8, RC Plane, you teaching me physics lab exps one night before in the mess are sweet freshie memories. Girl you know how to party :D those sunny and laxmi drinks are incomplete without u. You always stood by me when I broke down and I am glad it was you than someone else. I have seen how maturely you handled all your issues. You definitely are a good mentor for everyone. Congrats for your admit and may you always get what you want. Stay in touch and keep smiling :) And lets have a grand party one last time

Kartik Patekar : Hey Sowmya! You are the kindest and sweetest and politest person I have met in Insti. You never say no for helping and care a lot about other people's feeling. I remember when we were planning the seafood-fest thing, and you were so concered with other people's preferences even though you were drunk. Thanks for explaining the Philosophy lecture at 3 am! I really wish we could have interacted more, but however much we interacted, it is memorable. I realize that you still haven't explained me your opinion on ecology and sustainability. Good Luck for your future, do stay in touch, and let's cut your B'Day cake next time we meet!

Sagar Kumar Seth : Hey Sowmya ! I guess our interaction started with the Data Analysis project, where we also had some fun. Remember making me drink that bitter espresso ! I am still waiting on that treat I was promised :P. Your presence added an extra charm to every group outing we had. I wished you were there for more of them. You are smart and a really cool person to hang out with. Sorry we couldn't fulfill your wish to see me drunk :P. Yet ! Hope we meet again someday :D. I really like your passion for pursuing things you believe in. Wish you great success for future !

Jovina Vaswani : You are a very strong, and cute girl. It was nice working with you in NSS. I wish you good luck for your future.

Priyanka Lakku : Sowmya♥♥♥♥ I really love the way you carry yourself and your outlook on life. Freshie year me we had a lot of fun. It would be difficult for me to get through all those anxiety in first year without you. Thankss♥ We should have hung out more in the next years. Kitnaa chill and smart h tu (Oops, I used hindi). You taught me all those bad things remenber?We failed to teach you Hindi though. Stay the same lovely person you are and keep rocking. My best wishes for you. Lots of love, Lakku

Puneet Kaur : Hey! You are one amazing person! You pursue your interests even if it means taking the longer, harder road and I really appreciate that about you. Although we didn't interact a lot after freshie year but it was fun knowing you. Wishing you all the very best for your future 😊

Saipriya Satyajit : Hey Sowmya! It was really great knowing you and having you as a part of the bosonic gang. I wish we had interacted more and had become friends earlier. Also, I wish you came to the bosonic outings more often 😊. Kidding. All the best to you for everything that lies ahead, and hope you achieve all you want in life!

Adane Sahil Ravindra : Bro!! Always knew you were cool based on our limited interactions (DAMP, jung's class, etc.) We will keep roasting Wadi together; I'm glad to have found a partner here ;) Do keep 'putting something there' on the group (easily one of the highlights of lockdown). Happy to know we are just getting started, but I wish we had started earlier. Good luck ahead! Not a goodbye, hope we stay in touch :D

Keshav Janyani : It has been fun to know you since the first time we met on Freshie Year Department Kurta Day. I am glad we became DAMPCs together and I got a chance to know what a cool person you are. You have been incredibly helpful throughout the tenure and I have learnt a lot of things from you. All the best for your future plans, stay in touch and meet in Europe if possible :p

Subha Govindaraj : Kuttachii!!! Here's hoping you'll sponsor my Europe trip if I write nice things about you and listening to your dramas in the middle of the night. Unfortunately, I like you too much, and also hate you that much, but do I still want you to pick up my calls when I feel like ranting? Absolutely YES. And will I pick when you want to rant? meh (But maybe charities might help me get points). Thank you for stopping me whenever I tried to make stupid decisions, and thank you for not killing me when I threw your phone in rage. I think I can tolerate you only for another year until you sponsor my trip, then maybe we can renew the friendship

Richa Agrawal : Sowmya!! You have been such a kind and amazing wingie. I will never forget Harry's in 2nd year when you were so kind to me and transformed my low into a dancing night. We have had such lovely girls' nights and fun times playing heads up. Wish we could hang out more!! However, stay the lovely person you are and best of luck for the future!!

Aarcha Suresh : Hey Sowmya, you're one of the sweetest people I know. Thanks for always making sure I never feel awkward while hanging out with you guys! I hope you get that tattoo done soon!

Bhadri Narayanan R : Okay, so if you ever read this in the future.. remember that you brought this upon yourself like you always have in these 4 years. If there was one thing you learnt from all that, it'd be 'Shut up and Listen to Bhadri!'. I'm so tempted to reveal a tiny portion of our friendship to the world, but that'd mean destroying more than half of the entries here. From making our first trip to campus hub to making it to confessions page, we've seen so much shit XD Making your BP shoot and seeing you lose your shit, best thing ever. You're the Voldemort to my HP as well as Joey to my Chandler. Stop forcing me to write non-existent nice things about you 😂😂

Karunya Baskar : Hi Sowmya. You are so smart and beautiful, you remind me of rich dark chocolate. The kind I bake my cookies with :D Let's partay again someday. I have a feeling we're very much alike. I hope you have a wonderful (sustainable) future. I'm so funny hahahaha. <3 - From way across the corridor
