Sona Jose : Dear Irena (NITC junior turned IITB senior of mine 😊), you are on one of the most hardworking persons I've met in IITB. Love you so much for that genuine, sweet and supportive nature of yours. Seeing you in mess used to make me happy 😊. I'm going to miss our mess chit chats and church visits. I'm sure that you will reach great heights with your dedication and faith 😊. May God shower His blessings abundantly upon you. Meet you soon in Bangalore 😊. Once this Corona effect is over, let us compensate for all the trips that didn't happen 😊.

B V S Anusha : Irina..you are the most sincere, optimistic and hardworking person I have ever met..Very caring and helpful.. Still laughing at your sangemarmar song interpretation..Wish we could hangout more this final semester.. will surely miss you and the wonderful conversations..Hope we'll meet soon..All the very best and Take Care :))

Romil Jain : Hey kid....I didn't think u would get time to join this yearbookfor obvious reasons and for which you are know everywhere...your hardwork and dedication towards your academics ...:p I have never seen a person which so much discipline and dedication towards work(except in TT)...even now in lockdown you were asking why are we getting stipend if we r not doing our RA work...such things are expected only from you..:D :D It was always fun to tease you and thanks for not minding my jokes on your height :p You were my support in completing my formalities and passing marks towards EE1 courses... Will miss you kid!! Reach great heights in future (professionally as well as physically:p)!!

M Arun Kumar : In our first semester when ever you asked doubts in dmt class I was really wondering whether you understand everything or just ask even if you don't, well it didn't take long to realise that you understand everything 😊. If our batch had an official class representative that would be you 😊. I'm happy that I got oppertunity to work with the topper 😊. Thanks for making me your privileged laptop assistant, hope you find some one better in future. All the best for your future.
