Swati Meena : I don't think anyone on this campus as crazy as you when it comes to food and party. The very first impression of you was that of a very quiet and sensible guy. Over the course, I realised you were neither😂. One of the approachable person on campus. Conversations with you never get boring. Whatever happens, you will listen to anyone that comes to you. I admire the attitude that you carry (I don't think you need anybody else to have fun). All the very best for your future😊.

Anmol Gaur : Yo. I remember when we first met in the mess and the first impression you left was..omg this guy is so upfront but later I find this quality so helpful as I am always bad at starting conversations. I'll always cherish our walks either in groups or you,me and molu and lately us both. With you no-one can get bored because you enjoy life and make atmosphere around cheerful. Although you seem carefree but I know the sensitive and caring side of you. I remember how me and aisha used to pester you for gossips, gifts and shopping 😊. You are one best friend whom I can always count upon. Be ready for my consistent badgering in Bangalore too..

Anurag Choudhury : I still remember how we met 1st time.... searching for room-mates standing in a crowded line. Who knew that time you are also a foodie like me. I enjoyed our weekend excursions to fancy restaurants. I loved Rude Lounge, Jimis Burger and Castello the most. And Calamari of Crafter's . I always wanted to visit Rude Lounge and Castello again but then China crashed the party with Covid-19. And that goddamn Peking Duck also escaped our clutches. You are also one of the the most intelligent person I have ever met.....but you are also lazy AF at the same time. I still remember the day when you woke me up at 4 in the morning of 2nd December to tell me I was selected in TI. Damn.....wordlimit reache
