Purushottam Kumar Sahu : There were a lot of ups and downs in those 2 years. I enjoyed getting into the situations which felt like trouble at some point but later admire them as memories. I won't regret if things happen again as such. I would remember our friendship as "class me kisi me bhi itna stupidity nahi tha jitna hum dono me tha" Aur han "Wo chand pta nahi kab tak bewafa rhega :D :D"

Gaurav Chaudhari : God, devmanus! Bhai, ap mahan ho! I hope you visit every part of world, and bring souvenirs and feed poor souls like us in lab :p. Still remember that tasteless cheese and that candy which really messed up my appetite. Accidently discovery of you being an amazing artist! And chef! Ab mehengi wali wine bottle layenge :p. I wish we had more time to discuss random stuff about politics, "lab politics" etc, but jitna bhi tha sahi tha <3

Birendra Rajan : Got connected with him through common research interest, later on so many thoughts started matching (travelling, cooking, business ideas). Akash being in the same hostel and same department, we often used to share any sort of ideas. In a span of less than 1 year, Akash taught me so many new things. He says himself a Nepali but I know he is "Bihari" and that's another reason we mingled well enough. Hoping this connection to stay longer in life and stay connected through social distancing and social media :-P Wish you all the best for your future endeavours. STAY HEALTHY & STAY SAFE Keep singing: 》 》 》 #Momo Chowmin khayenge , Nepal me bas jayenge

Gagan Gautam : You have good networking skills Akash. All the best Guru
