Animesh Singhal : Sloth saale XD. Lazy bois organisation kab khol rahe hain apan? CEO tujhe hi banayenge. Abe saale, tu jab wing mein tu chalta tha toh neend ki psychic waves nikalti thi tujhme se, achcha khaasa energtic insaan bhi sone chala jaata tha XD. But kuch bhi ho infi bakvaas aur zindagi pe baatein ki hain hamne. But your motivational game is really strong bro. There have been times when you helped me cope up with things in life with your sincere advice. Thank you for that. Your mentees must be really lucky to have a mentor like you. Aur I hope jab bhi placement sochega toh mujhe yaad karega :P You know, we'll meet soon :D

Madhur Sudarshan : I've had a great time every time I've met you, even if for only a few seconds. From the pronites days to visiting your wing to catch up with everyone, it's been a unique experience to say the least :)

Saloni Deodhar : Hey Shirish boi, we've had so many memories in insti and during our interns in Bangalore. I'm going to miss your lame ass jokes in class xD Last summer was so great, all the pub nights and esp the pondi trip. The best memory tho, has to be the greetings/apna dhaba night, you've got a kick ass sunrise view :P I hope we stay in touch & wish you all the best for your life!

Aditya Dev : So grateful to have met someone in the same page as mine and for being able to help each other out when we were clueless af. The best foodie to hang out with and the best beer partner. Although it always ends up with my wallet getting empty XD.

Shubham Anand Jain : Hey Shirish! It's been always fun to know you and interact with you, you being as cool as you are :P. I hope that we continue to catch up beyond your graduation as well, see you around :)

Shubham Jain : Hi Bro!!, well this is how we usually start whenever we interact xD. You are a relatively chill person more like a person who always looked like to be in a constant state of drowsiness (no offense). It was great fun to play water polo match together. Despite being a hockey player you haven't helped us in the past three years, well last year made sense because of your back pain but anyways, if you would have been there (an experienced player :P), our chances of winning might have improved. Also your after drunk images with satish are imprinted in my mind :P!! Cheers and All the best for future endeavors :)!!

Praveen Saran : Yo Shirish! E-Cell coordie year or department se hostel walk ke time jab bhi tere se baat ki hai I have always enjoyed it. Tere jaise down to earth and genuine log kafi kam hai. Have a lot of respect for you!

Kevin Shah : Dude Shirish you were afraid to do bakchodi but i successfully pushed you to do some with me xD we went to goa together and till the last day i was in insti, we partied! Mumbai me hi hai, milte rahenge :)

Luv Nainwal : Shiro! Slowwww in conversation and so soft in speech, that's you 😊. I will always remember your Ghar ka khana and hospitality. So grounded SOBO I would say. I remember bitching in your room in freshie year which continued even till last sem. Almost everyday atleast once I used to visit your room. Prep se placements tak ke din, you're a warrior. Kitne random discussions kiye hai humne saath me from career to Finance to life. Apni sophie treat to nhi bhool paunga! xD Roomie love <3 I remember you dropping PoR just to do what you want. Kaafi proud be! :D Keep Hustling and stay in touch, apne random discussions should continue forever. Keep in touch! :)

Playing football with you was super fun especially on turf and winning the GC is one of my fondest insti memories. I will continue to have nightmares of the graphic images of you and prajapati post our freshie treats. Hogging on food, drinks and deserts with you was a pleasure although we never shared a dish you chicken slayer. We have so so many memories together, I will really miss you be. Meh apan to mumbai me hi hai milte rahenge :p Until next time :) PS - "The music stops and echoes on in sweet refrains, for every joy that passes, something beautiful remains."
