Mudita Rana : Why are you here so late??? Abhijit, the dancing gem of the institute that I missed so dearly in last inter iit. Watching you dance makes me so so happy. We first met during the Mr/ms freshie dance practices, and I being the usual introvert that I am didn't really talk much but you were always super friendly with me. Sorry for being so distant then ok that's just me 😞😞 I watched you kill it in PCSA and from that day, I'm a fan. All this talent and skill and you're still the most humble guy around. HOW?? Missed having you around in our last year, would've been so much more fun then. Merese pehle Germany bhi chala gaya tu 😊 Milte rahenge, and do dance in ur last year!! 💖💖💖

Rashi Gupta : Uff! You are the most talented person I know! I always wonder...If I can be half as good as you, my life would be really great 🙄 I do miss waking you up in first year 🤪 Remember the times when we used to calculate our remaining time together! Oh how I wish we could turn back time to those good old days! To tell my old self not to count the days, but live them, enjoy them while they last!!! I'm really gonna miss our random talks, about just anything! I really appreciate you as a person, and more so as a friend! Let's keep this friendship going...💜 And maybe not count our together 🤔

Tanya Mamgain : Abhijith !! it has always been great seeing you all these years. We have come a long way since first year and I am glad I got to know you. From dance events to exploding kitties , I am going to miss everything. Also I hoped we could have performed together once :( best of luck for future and I really hope we do stay in touch. <3

Subha Govindaraj : I'm glad I met you 6 years back in MIRS, you've been an amazing friend and a shoulder to cry on when things seemed bleak. Even if we were distant, there were times when I wanted to talk to someone, and you were there. Thank you for making that one Delhi night very special and for being there. Here's to hoping that you'll stick around <3

Aarcha Suresh : Looking forward to the two bottles. Hopefully in insti :)

Bhadri Narayanan R : IDC fellows are the worstu :| Seriously, even here you had to drop-in right at the deadline? Jesus christ. Abhijith you all round machaxx boi. I've heard laurels about you from MIRS about your dance, football, baddy, topper and I was not disappointed. Your aura is a bliss and great to have had so much fun with you throughout college. Rock the future like you have always done till now :D

Neeraj Sohani : Krishnaaaaa! Have I told you how amazed I was, sitting below PCSA stage, watching you dance? You're a great dancer, but more importantly, you're a great guy. I can safely say that I relate with you the most in Insti and I respect you a lot. There are so many things that we understand so easily about each other. I feel honored to have found a friend like you. Here's to malhar, to Sobo trip, to the chilly morning jog and berger, to "Neeraj tu change ho gaya hai kya?:P", to cheese burst dosa and to the always interesting conversations we have. I hope we stay like this. Stay happy wherever you are and be the kind humble lovely person you are <3. P.S. Finish the book I gifted :P #malharKarnaHaiKya

Yogesh Yadav : Yoo.. Now win a kiss, No... (Abhijeet KrisNa)😂😂... I admire your musicality and dance.. it's always a treat to eyes to watch you dance 🥰... I remember the conversation in H13 where you were telling us that you had a 101 fever and did a jamming, that was crazy af 🤔😭.. Now I remember that we have only a few moments to cherish🥺, I wish we had done one more event together😭.. Best wishes for your future, ese hi machate rehne 🙌..
