Sudhir Shinde : When I came to know about you the first thing I noticed that "are ye to aankh band karke hasta hai :)". It always gives me pleasure to irritate you:) bt tune kabhi bura nhi mana. You have explored a lot of things in IITB bt fashion show me nhi jana chahiye tha:). I see a lot of common things between you & me:). Bhai bada aadmi banane ke baad yaad rakhiyo hume. Once you said that you are not getting married at any condition... Keep ur words:)... All the best and wishing you a very successful career !!

Divyaj Shah : Where do I even start? I think we had our first awkward conversation outside Dean's office and then almost did not talk for about a year. Well, maybe. But not really. Fast-forward to our second year I would have to get up and shut your fucking alarm EVERY DAY. We've been through a lot, from your endless girlfriend dramas and late night talks to your serious problems , "Bhai bottle chori ho gayi hai!". From a shy and reserved person to gym-freak macho, you have flipped your personality by 180 degrees bro. From discussing thermodynamics to stalking girls, and from running between classes to running 21 KM, you have hit a new high. Between endless trips ;) and Placements, we have connected well Riya Singh : Hi Azim.. when I first saw you in satlab I thought you are a undergrad freshie because you looked so young and you also look like a northeastern person. So, knowing about your whereabouts was surprising. Your efforts to mingle with "hum nalayak UGs" was exceptional in PGs. And so was your dedication to do tasks. I remember you and Shreeya alone figured out whole Nastran software, And then you shifted to low cost receiver which was not even related to your masters specialization. And sorry for the misunderstanding and confusion I caused with Sumitra due to a poor joke. Stay the same warm person that you are :) All the best for your future adventures!!!

Shankar Mahendru : Azim bhai.. When we 1st met, I thot u own a huge arrogance that was bcoz u r an introvert. But later to my surprise, u proved me wrong. U r a soft hearted and calm person. The thing I like in u the most is that "tu kabhi gussa hi nhi karta bhai, kbi kisi pe chilaate huye nhi dekha maine tuje" and this is the biggest strength of urs. If u r in grief bcoz of any incident/person/situation, u don't show it on ur face but inside u there is a storm prevailing which u try to convert it into developing a skill full of motivation. Stay the same brother. nd try to be bold sometime when/where needed. Tu mera chhota veer hai and a precious frnd too, i really enjoyed every moment with u. Hostel me paglo

Chodvadiya Keyur Pravinbhai : At first I thought you were little cousin brother of Ajay who just visited IIT for his brother but then I found that you are also an Mtech student. I still remember those days when you were under a huge financial crunch and the way you overcame it was an inspiration to me. In the second year I used to tease you very much from rubbing of your plans on board to locking you inside the room. In final year you just transformed so much you started reading books, you became fitness freak and finally placement where you got the perfect match. Bhai ese hi grow krte rehna aur duaon me yad rakhna.

Balwinder Singh : Hi azim... My first memory of yours is from Atrey's sir thermodynamics class, where in the first test, sbke bure marks aaye the and you rocked the test... Then, we haven't done much conversation but whatever we did, you always used to say, yr bss ab aur ni padhna... I hope and I pray ki you get satisfied with your job... I have seen you transformed from a shy individual to the one giving speech to 300+ people in LA (during satellite team orientation)... Keep on conquering new heights, keep on breaking new records..stay motivated...god bless you..:-)

Aditya Chalishazar : Thank you so much for all your help with the Council this year. All the best for whatever is to follow! Stay in touch! :)
