Mrigank Ashesh : Bhai tu kaafi rota hai kabhi kabhi. Baki sab theek hai. Bhai tera .....ae dena ....wala act kaafi sahi hai. Also, I miss laddus. Bade aadmi banne ke baad hum chhote logon ko bhi yaad kar lena. Stay in touch bhai.

Adane Sahil Ravindra : I will miss not being neighbors and sharing what we learnt in the day. I have never known anyone else who thinks so alike and yet is like a role model for me (narcissim alert!). And that feeling is due to a lot of things. I mentioned this once when we watched Kabir Singh but it is a really cool response of yours saying 'hota hai aisa' whenever I ask a dumb relationship question. That single response conveys your experience, and your patience for the shit I ask along with conveying the feeling that I will understand why later minus any condescension. We have done a lot of shit together, not going to name a few and leave out the rest. And obviously, we'll stay in touch, this is not a goodbye

Kartik Patekar : Yo Nix! Well, I couldn't ask for a better roommate. We had extremely different lives outside our room, yet it was always so easy to communicate with you. In retrospection, it's funny that we never had any disagreement! You do a lot of stuff man, from Cricket to Dance to Start-up to GSec, and I learnt a lot about life from you. How do you stay so active, and yet take out enough personal time? So many enriching conversations, learning Skates together, and getting kicked out of the room every Wednesday, we ended up making a lot of memories together! Apart from you doing so many different things, I really admire how committed you are to your principles. Good luck for UPSC, and stay connected!

Edwin Saji Uthuppan : Man, you work too much, have a proper timetable and got your shit together... I don't like that because you were free very rarely. But when you were free, it was great bro. Also you are a bad gsec because you didn't open the gym before we graduate :P
