Pranav Sankhe : There are places I have been, there are moments that I have lived and there are people I have met. But there's no one that compares with you. Jo bhi duniya bhar ki baatein (panchayat) ki hai, it has been so easy and comfortable! A safe space for words to flow out like endless rain into a paper cup. We have shared almost everything, the pools of sorrows, waves of joy, sounds of laughter, shades of life. All these shine like a million suns of limitless and undying love :) Bahot mehnat ki tereko core mein rakhne ke liye. Ab higher studies ke liye fight maarunga. It's seemingly impossible to imagine we will be in different cities, different time zones for rest. PS: Big Lebowski dekhle please!

R Aditya Narayan : Heyy man! I still remember our dads talking about us back during the first day at hostel 15. I was immensely jealous of your single room. Sorry for being such a dick in the first year (tbh you can't complain more than Ranjan =P). I think we are good friends now and I hope we continue to stay the same. Stay in touch !!

Karan Kothadiya : Only a person as big at heart as you would let someone like me do as I pleased in Aavhan, you being clearly the alpha. That is the sole reason why we have become the friends we are. I remember before the fourth year, the only wonderful memory that I share with you is the night we spent in the car en route Lonavala xD Look at how it all has changed man! I wish we could have all those last sem trips. I also just want to put it out there that Bhand Ritik = Best Ritik. Happily looking forward to the time to come. Love, K

Devyani Verma : Hello Mr. Poet! ZNMD vali scope trip to karke rahenge (katana mat mar dungii) I hope Sule zyada gaand na mare tumhari without me :p Sunny chale once all this is over? Cuz bhand Ritik (Duchik?) is the best Ritik :)

Anmol Gupta : Aur Tatti Insaan :P Still remember that first sem bus ride on the day you became DD-CR (kyu matlab, POR Randi :P) and were telling about yourself (only remember a Lucknow connection tbh) Aah, how can I forget that H18 room mein wall-spitting wala explanation lmao. Teri poem ka follow-up likhna was kaafi feels! Also, har serious discussion mein bakchodi kaise daal deta hai bhaiii _/_ To Shor Bazaar (both trip and group), being creepy (different times ofc), 8th sem emotional roller-coasters (aaaa), Standing Up For India ;), case competitions, and having so many similarities in the profiles we almost thought ek ka katega doosre ki wajah se XD, to Bain(/BCG? :P) - it's been helluva ride :))

Neeraj Sohani : I feel lucky that I chose to sit beside you at our 1st orientation. Then again, knowing your luck, maybe you're the one who is lucky to have met me that day :P It's always fun being with you bey. Whether it's the late night timepass at h7 bus stand, the late night walk back from the library while I played guitar for some reason, or the late night (funny how everything is late night with you) talks at H18 terrace. I've seen you go through shit and get over it (hopefully) gracefully. On the other hand I wish you'd express more ungraceful stuff. There's really not enough space to remember all the shit we've done together. I wish we could do all that one more time. I'll miss you.

Sanket Agrawal : MCCR! 700 words is legit too less to express that we have been through all together. There's so much we have shared all these years, I cannot start to describe. Tenure rants, elec rants, last moment studies, bitching about system and people, always making a group together knowing we both won't do stuff till the end, FIFA and the tally, late night conversations, late night desert outings, aag lagana, mere room pr long heated discussions, DDP, elections, BIBA, friends, b99, breakups, missing classes, etc. etc. I am really sure there's so much more to come. Make sure we always stay close and stay in touch, okay? :) MI and Sports go a long anyway! <3 <3

Aniket Ranade : Hello Sir, apna woh saturday vala plan reh hi gaya charcha karne ka. abhi karenge kabhi toh Mumbai mai raha mai toh. mujhe yaad hai apan ek dusre ka existence bina kisi conversation hue hue hi acknowledge karte the. Yogi ke election ke chakkar mai acche se baat to ho gayi. Thanks for an amazing conversation!

Sarthak Sharma : Ritik :""") Squash GC ki bakchodi se lekar last semester ke CAA discussions tak, kafi awesome raha hai sab kuch! Aapke election mai toh kya alag level maza aaya ta ! Thanks for helping me out on so many occasions Placements ke time SOP ho ya bas aise hi emotional upliftment! kabhi kabhi right baate karlete ho aap (please get this pun xD) Stay in touch and haa govt ki phir se nayi scheme aayi hai aaj dubara messenger par debate karte :p

Mukul Jangid : Madan aapko roz nahi dekhta toh shyd mera 2nd year hi nahi nikalta 😊. Pta nahi alag hi luck tha uss time toh roz mil jaate the kahi na kahi toh. Sorry agar aapko jyada sataya ho meine toh. I've always idealized you and wished ke aapse aur interaction kar paata (aur seekh paata). Secy election ke time when I was facing problems tab aapne meri baatein suni and mujhe sahi advice kiya. I'll be always thankfull to you. Again saare irritation ke liye sorry but I don't think apna yeah randomly milne waala connection insti band hone se chutega 🍷🍷. Milte hai jald hi.

Manit Rathi : Ritik elec mein kuch bhi pain hota tha you were the first person jisse me puchta tha cheezein! Also uss din dean office ke bahar aapne Jo bola tha ki agar kuch bhi cheez chodega toh boht regret hoga baad mein, woh aaj bhi yaad hai! Thanks for being so sweet and helping me throughout ♥

Viraj Singh Parihar : Thanks for always being my side. Helping me out in each and everything. Placements, tenure etc. Thanks for giving me freedom to work in my own way <3. 700 characters mai ho nahi payega, senti in our own yearbook <3

Sarthak Nijhawan : Bro, I never got a chance to interact much with u until 5th yr, but after hanging out with y'all, well, I wish I had. Here's to all the fun we'd in all the CTMs & the dismal "family" dine out we'd xD (kya tha yr wo - but no worries, we'll have plenty more opp. to get Anmol to make up for it). Btw I still recall calling u a LONER during the interview :P (it was by mistake, I swear - Hahahah) instead of lonely which was entirely correct in that context tho :P. DONON situations alag the- srry for that :P. Anyway, I'm sure we all shall paint the town red every fkin time we step out in the days to come. Just can't wait more in anticipation. To worsen it, bhai date hi aage bada di h unhone! :(

Himanshu Bohra : Aapki breakfast treat ka aaj bhi intezaar kar raha hoon mai xD. Kaafi gyaan mila hai aapse during placements ya fir Aamby valley waali trip pe. Bahut hi bhole insaan lagte ho mujhe to aap. Breakfast treat ka intezaar rahega <3

Ankit Raj : Hi bro 🙌, u will always be special !! We started with a very professional relation in "sports" And turned out to be a good friends. Still remember all those meets, handling every situation off field politely. One word Tenure machaya 🙌... You are truly a nice person who respect all and behaves gently. Whenever we meet, it all started with a gentle smile 😊 and then off topic baki 🤔. Regret rahega ki mil na sake😭, anyways party due hai 😄. So be in touch and be the same bcz logo ko serious look ke piche wala bindasss look nhi pata. Hope 2 see you soon 🙌

Mookund Sureka : 1. Our similarities curve has diverged way too much over the years :p 2. You would have been rotting in NSS if not for your luck to meet me that day :([Started the domino effect] 3. If your luck was traded in the markets I would have been the highest bidder ;p 4. You'll always stay No.1 in that ranking [for a 3rd person reading, dont worry nothing to be proud off] 5. Thanks for helping me out then. 6. I was happy tune nahi likha tha ab mujhe bhi likhna para

Rohan Pathak : Ritik Madaaaan. I still remember jab vote maangne aaya tha for Squash Secy haha Fir jab tie hua toh bola bas ban jaane de, fir treat dunga. And lo behold, GSec saheb _/_ Bhai, that fifa game jisme saare players nikal gaye the and poora maidan saaf tha haha Isliye Juventus se khelna band kar diya XD All this aside, though we haven't been close for a good amount of time, it was a pleasure to be in the same wing. I have learnt a lot looking at you. Tu bahut jyada mature tareeke se rehta yaar and waise hi mature tareeke se hug bhi deta 😊 And apna bet reh hi gaya yaar. You are lucky, you didn't get your ass whooped. Pata chalta baddy kya Squash mein bhi pel diya hota mai hahaha Challenge kareng

Patel Harsh : Ritik!! kaafi respect h aapke liye. <3 kaafi saari yaadein h.. <3 Thanks for helping me out in many situations and showing your anger wherever needed. Baaki ka council wali yb pe! Just writing here so that in future aap koi bhi yb khole aapko meri yaad aaye.<3 Jao ab council wali khol ke padho!:p (for future ref.)

Satyam Mohla : Regrets cut deep, as time passes by, they say. Good that,not meeting you and not knowing you, is not going to be one of them. I think I knew you a little bit from my occasional scouts to H7 but I was glad that you were just two doors down in last year, and we got to know each other. You are an amazing super chill dude and man don't I see why people hold you in such high regard! Thanks for helping me with Terahertz, and occasional drops to LHC when ya were Gsec, and guiding me with my unwarranted attempt, I'd say :v , at consulting.Wish you the best and all the success at Bain and you better stay in touch!

Ayushi Panghal : The following statements transcend distance and difference and time: 1. My handwriting is still way better than yours, stop comparing already. 2. You're probably copying one of my ideas/plans again. 3. Your sleep cycle is still fucked up. 4. Mississippi Mud is still the best. 5. You'll always find me around whenever you want. 6. You can still redeem your senti over that email/letter I said I'll write. 7. You're probably smiling and thinking about 'what a journey it was' now. Oh, and here's your balloon. 🎈

Bhadri Narayanan R : Hey Ritik! Have no idea how this entry slipped out. You were a great teammate in our case group and I learnt a lot from you. We had tons of fun in your room and the messups while giving cases! Takes a lot to deny an ITC ppo and go ahead with placements man XD So much respect for just that alone :p Good luck with your future bro, take care :)

Anirudh Mittal : Hey Ritik! Squash sikhado yaar!! BFunfact: I called you in the first week of my freshie year sooo many time to ask doubts NSO Squash! Thanks for staying in touch as club seniors and coming to events. Will hopefully get to meet you after graduation as well! :)

Lokesh Agrawal : Ritik yaar sabse pehle toh thank you for helping me out in placements and all the other things throughout the tenure. During placements you were my constant source of support and help. I wouldn't be able to thank you enough for that. Also I have infi respect for you and I have learned a lot from you.. Baaki saari details yaha nhi bata sakta😂. Aage bhi kuch bhi help chahiye hogi toh aapko hi pareshaan karuga😁. Stay in touch always😁Milte hai jaldi hi♥♥

Tanya Gupta : You are part of my most embarrassing moment in insti ever - when I was in H7 and I am telling you in 5 minutes its my birthday but you are actually going to the surprise plan at Brewberry's XD Will never forget that. 🤦 I always like catching up with you whenever we cross in insti and wish only the very best for you. Slay all you do and keep in touch! Dude omg that trip scarred me for life. 3.5 years have gone by post that and I didn't go on even one road trip 😭

Atharva Vijay Kanakdande : One of the most helpful and frank seniors at IIT. Resumes, internships, other life decisions, thanks a lot for all of this! Being from different councils, we still had a lot of fun times together, would definitely cherish each one of them. Thank you for being completely frank about your experiences and guiding me through the huge dilemma waala phase during January at Gullu, yaha nahi likh paunga but you know what I mean :P Definitely idolize you, looking forward to a lot more parties and fun times together! :))

Karunya Baskar : You're damn cool chief! Wish we'd gotten to hang out more :) I hope you have an awesome future <3
