You will achieve whatever you wish in life for sure. Never let that cute smile go away from your face. You are really a soft spoken person. Good luck for your life ahead.

Avani Roy : Writasree!!.. We have had soo many memories together. Don't know which things to put first. It looks like a blend. I remember the badminton day the most, which turned out to be a philosophy discussion class! ;) I remember those beautiful days, so enriched in thoughts and life. We struggling in our own ways of life.. clashing, falling down, tired, can't take anymore, yet moving on anyway :) I never thought I would get a family there, within a class and within few floors of a hostel. I will always love you no matter how annoyed you become of my arrogance ;) Follow your dreams and stick to it. And wait for the biggest surprises of life! I will eagerly look for a grand reunion. Stay in touch.
