Drish Mahnot : CHAUBAL aka Anshul Chabbra! Tere liye jitna bolu utna kam hai! Unbelievable ki I didn't like you much initially back in Pace, you've become literally my bestest closest friend. Whenever we meet (frequent af) it's always laughing and remembering crazy stuff that only we would do. Vivek Iyer waala moment is when I knew ki I have found someone really special. You're so incredibly unique, from your plastic and Kurkure covered bed to your privacy issues, I love it. Thanks for introducing me to Gintama, Arrested Development and so many other things. Closest bro in the world, I'm hurt ki you left for H18. Thanks for always cheering me up without fail, please active ho jaa on some social media so we can keep in touch. Easily one of the best parts of my IITB life <3

Vihang Wagh : Chaubal mere yaar <3. So happy that you gatecrashed into Racing. Our time together was soo fun, the seminars, the random discussions, you nagging me for code and simuls, lab me spend kiye woh din, and of course FSUK <3. You are a gem of a person, the only one I used to happily let invade my space in the far corner of h18 mess. Apne discussion lit rehte the and football in h6 was <3. I don't know what ingredients make a great friendship but flying angle grinders sure is one :P. Yaad rakhna broo... milte hai kabhi.

Yash Shrivardhankar : Chaubal Bhau! The coolest Marathi bhidu in insti, hands down! Bhai 'Rasikachya lagnaath' jyaani aiklay tyala me kadhich visru shakat nahi xD. Bhai thanks for joining racing! Namya Bagree : Anshul Chabbra! Coming to the wing for the first time and seeing you like yeh toh Vagad mein tha was just the start to a long time together! Playing football all day, doing trick shots, bottle flips during exams, making MI videos for Drish, working together in Racing, never meeting Dasjeep, infinite night outs, H12 canteen at 4am, the list of fun things we did can go on forever! Barca 6-1♥

Adane Sahil Ravindra : We go way back bro. But I had no idea that the smart shy kid I met early on would turn out to be this weird (still smart) kid who introduces me to Slipknot, Nirvana, that Japanese death documentary, and so much more. Movie nights were unnerving af. Drish and you always roasted me very well, much respect. ITSP was an interesting and challenging time. Never thought that the two of us, the laziest afaik, would have to keep the boat afloat (btw the 'laptop' xD). Pronites was a lot of fun memories (ex. scooter joyrides). A lot of respect for you and we have had many great discussions. I remember our random BnB fries plans. Not a goodbye, also Powai is pretty close. Always the Omega to my Alpha!

Kavya Bhandari : Feel like I have a special connection with you, coz you were there on the most anxious day of my life yet. Your amazing stories about your amazing school never fail to crack me up. Itna badhiya sense of humour to kisi ka nhi dekha xD.
