Neeharika Swami : Athena, you never made me feel as a kid in front of grown up, thanks for making everything so friendly. Thanks to jolly nature of people like you, German class was always something I eagerly waited for. Stay the same... genuine and smart. Have all the success you wish for. Keep in touch. Hab viel Spaß :)

Krutika Talegaonkar : Angrezan,I already told you everything on your birthday!!! Not going to repeat the same things here!!!You are the best thing that happened to me in IIT...I wish you become my roommate again.Though we are just poles apart from each other still we get along so well.I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for keeping up with me in these 2 years and I wish you keep doing the same for whole life.Again you are the one who occupies the maximum space in this big heart of mine!!! love you!! Love, Your Takolkaran

Ruchika Pandey : Hi neighbor! I think before even being friends we started sharing clothes. We bonded over sharing clothes:P I miss seeing your face while brushing. I miss dragging krutika for our post breakfast walks and coming to your room to see romanoff. We have so much left, so many clothes to be shared and so many girls' night outs waiting to happen. I have learned a lot from you but there is still a lot to learn, Athena. You have to teach me SWIM101, Pottery101, HandlingKrutika696 and blending soft pastels. There is a lot left in our friendship. I wish, I get to be your neighbor, again. You have to stay in touch and take me on Kerela Trip. Stay the amazing woman you are, forever. Love ya, ASS :*

Sayan Roy : Athena, you are an awesome human being. I wonder how we engage in any kind of discussion and continue talking and talking. I really really hope to carry out more and more post-mortems on movies, TV series, societal, political issue and everything. :-)

Prakhar Nigam : Everyone said to me that I am lucky for them but no one I met was lucky for me until I met you and everything just started to get into places. Lucky enough to have you.

Manish Kumar : Athena ..or what should i say .. #bhabhi 😊 I didn't know that you and I will be that good friends ..hope we would have met from semester 1 ..but still .. i had so many good time with you ..most important that trip we went together ..i will remember those moments forever .. hope ..you will be touch 😊

Aravindan S : #Bhabhi of our class. I liked to call you bobby.The tamil great poet BHARATI said in his poems "Modernized thought girl(puthumai pen).First time ever i saw in my life.It's you.you are my inspirer and admirable person.Whenever i saw you, you always made me enthusiastic.You passion-able different ideas,admirable for small matters, enjoying little moments in life at hardtimes made you puthumaipen.After dance practice whatever atrocities we made,one the best memorable days.Always be the same person now, don't change at all.I hope definitely you will get better job than petrofac.I hope be in contact with me.

Shubham Pallod : Hey Thena, I regret not knowing you till very late. I'd hear amazing stories about you (for example: how you stuck interesting quotes and one-liner jokes on your door, how you'd give surprises to Krutika). When I finally got an opportunity to talk to you, it was really wonderful. Your colorful persona and wit makes it pleasant for people around you. Thanks for the amazing time. And release Romanoff in its natural place (XD, jk)

Srimon Narayanasamy P : hey hai... we just met less than one month in the dance practice. Initial times i was felt lonely and i only spoke with aravindan. When you first started to spoke with me after that i had more friends. I won't forget our dance practice times. Wish you a good luck. Thank you ATHENA

Salil Salim Mathew : I'm truly sorry I cudn't fascinate u with a suspenseful and unbelievable tale about my simple name. Like u, I too wish that it was dramatic. I may have let u down in this regard, but u have never allowed me to cease being fascinated by u. U are a creative, buzzy, artistic, down-to-earth, bold and purposeful person. Thani Kottayam kaari achayathi..! I'm sure that u have brought out, and helped embrace the best in many people, and I very well know one of them in particular. Your energy is especially infectious and I have many awesome memories, thanks to that. I wish u all the best for the future. May the people around u be always fortunate enough to have u in their midst, like we had been.
