Pushkar Saraf : I have known you for 4 years abb. NSS mai head se energy mai my pseudo damp mentor for the next 3 years. Hahaha I hope at some point of time in between this i entered that bubble of yours. I wish you'd let me post all the weird photos I have of you online to congratulate you. I can't enumerate the amount of instances in which you have helped me out. Kitne saare hai ...kitne saare. You are the only senior jisne itne treats diye honge. Last time gulu mai rice was amazing. Thank you so much for existing and for being there for me!! All I want is for you to be happy and have an amazing life ahead! I hope you know that if you ever need a friend to talk to or need help from I'll be there :)

Jovina Vaswani : Keshaaa♥. You are the BEST thing I got from NSS. Sorry tenure k time toh baat hi nahi kar payi aapse. But that did not stop me in any way from noticing what a wonderful and sweet person you are. Kitne pyaar se baat Karte ho yaar aap♥♥. Thank you for comforting me when I started crying out of stage fear during the last NSS event. Thank you for supporting me and guiding me during some important phases of my insti life. Stanford intern lagne par mere liye itna khush hone k liye thank you😘♥. Aap Bohot bohot pyaara likhte ho. Please send me more of your poems. I read the one you sent me so many times, that now I know all the lines by heart. You deserve the best things in life😘😘

Pragya Valay : Yaar Kesha! Kitna rona sunti hai tu mera and humesha shaant dimag se sab samjhati. Tu bahar jayegi par mai Surat jaate rahungi, ab mumma itna acha khana banayegi toh appreciate karne jaane padega na. Apne ghar and tere ghar me thoda bhi difference mehsus nahi hota mujhe, except ki mujhe tere yaha jyada bhaav and kamm daant milta. Harshita ko akele nahi jhel pati mai, saath dene ke liye shukriya. Bahuut deep deep baatein kari hai humne, aur last me "kya pata ditch" bolkar chindi topic par switch karliya. First year mai tujhe dekha tha toh laga tha, Oh God, Sundar, lambi and padhaku ladki, ye bhaav nahi degi, par tune bahut bhaav, pyaar aur khana diya. Sab cheej ke liye thank you <3 I love You a lottt

Gaurav Chaudhari : Random bakwas is a rare kind of life source, so let's just keep it flowing! You introduced me to poetry, and it really grew on me. Never knew I could understand life better just by jotting down some words. I thank you for that. The way you are confident about life is just amazing and inspiring! Keep doing things the way you do! Also, never forget, time is ticking tiktoktiktok.

Aditya Chalishazar : I think I most distinctly remember our discussions during EN 653, when we worked together for Canada presentation. It was really interesting how we managed to pull that off almost at the last moment. All the best for whatever is to come! :)

Aakash Kapoor : Entering my final year, I was really sad that most my seniors were gone. Thanks for being there and proving this hunch wrong, making me feel just a little less old. I had some fun times at NSS and troubling you as my AA was the only reason I liked attending the NSS meets. In all seriousness, though, the very best for your life ahead and I hope we stay in touch :)

Prakriti Mehta : A really cute and fun person, talking to you was always fun, thanks for spending some time when i was just discharged from the hospital and none of my friends had turned up. I wish we had spent some more time together and had a few more memories. Stay awesome! Have a wonderful life ahead! With love..

Rohan Pathak : I feel like you are the mummy of the wing. Koi itna mature kaise ho sakta bhai :p Waise thank you for saving my ass jabhi bhi mujhe pela gaya hai and mai tere paas hi aunga future mein jabhi bhi pela jau wapas :p Also, meri sides lena shuru kar de pliss thoda arguments mein :p

Aadarsh Parashar : Hey Kesha, Seeing you from the early days of the dept orientation to today, I feel that you have grown so much as a person in the insti days, and it makes me feel so good. We got to know each other properly in the second year, and I have learnt a lot from you since then, especially how to admit my mistakes. I enjoyed our late night antakshari trips to the ED building, our bucket full of icecream from Naturals, and recently, our escapades on the dept terrace. We have gone through a lot of shit together, and I think that just makes our friendship stronger. I wish we grow together as we have until now. Also, it was not a litre of coffee, maybe 700 mL :p

Divya Maddu : Hello Kesha, As you said, we indeed had very less personal interactions, but my god, that days interaction which we had regarding lab, felt like, I found another ally on the battlefield! Thankyou very much for suggesting and helping me regarding the RA. Pakka I'll let u know when I get one. Indeed labs work is very solitude one, but even one person who u can relate to, at any level and to any extent, really feels like a blessing. That day, just one interaction of ours made me feel like we were forever bitching buddies XD I really liked your gentle way of interacting with ppl Always have the same sweet and approachable aura :)

Anshul Verma : Kesha, iska kafi dhuk rahega ke apne tenure ke baad kafi mil nhi paye but I always felt inspired by your ways of living and enjoying life and i wish you continue enjoying every moment of your life. It was awesome working with you. I always look forward to be in touch with you :)

Parishi Gupta : Kesha diiii♥♥. You're the best mentor I could have had ever. I remember when we all met for the first time, that time, to be honest, I was a little bit nervous as there were lots n lots of thoughts going in my mind like how will I manage my acad/insti life here, whom should I'll talk to share anything. But the minute after I met you, I felt like being at home, I felt so good at that time as you engaged each one of us into your conversation. You're so sweet and generous person. Whether it's related to acads or insti or life problem you guided us in the best possible way and in short you taught us how to be chilll...in every situation no matter what...you are and will always be my mentor ;)

Niki Ashok Kumar : I'll miss you so much... The only one who knows about my insecurities like no one else. Always guiding and giving us positive vibes and hopes but I wish we had bonded better. My insti life was pleasant because of your existence. Indeed the best mentor we could ever have!

Mrunal Chavan : Keshaaaa!!Yar tu bohot awesome insaan hai Tere se baat karte he bohot accha lagta, I always gt a fresh perspective to lyf Mind clear ho jata hai Well u r my true DDP discussion companion, even in ths lockdown we have shed tears on that😭Yaar tere ghar ka khana is♥Tune & Fatima ne he muje Gujarati sikhai hain so much that mujhe Gujarati word yad ata instead of Marathi U 've natural empathy towards everyone Tere jaise bohot kam log hote duniya mai & I find myself extremely lucky to 've found u Tune bola likhne & I ws already writing for u, c how well we connect😭 I wish u always stay happy bt lyf is nt all rainbows & unicorns, remember it'll pass😊Apan acche dost to life long rahenge, loveu2♥♥

Harshita Verma : Hi Kesha!!! If I have to say what is that 1 thing I got from IITB it'll be you <3 U're a clear example of beauty with brains <3 We cnntd over that maggi incdnt n post that it has been an awsm journey with u...mere nakhre jhel na, shopping chal na, saath mein khana order karna, dress up hoke bahar jaana, coffee phett na :P n d best part meri roomie ban na <3 . U have supported me thru thick n thin <3 u were d reason of my confidence all these 5 years. Plcmnts mein khbhi akele nai chordha tune, none of it would have hppnd without u <3 N just to be clear U'll never get rid of me or my nakhre no matter which part of world u live in :P Like a couple would say :P ... I'm so glad we happened <3

Sowmya Ravichandran : Hey Kesha! I will always remember you as the senior with the big smile on her face always. I learnt a lot from you while working together on Tarang. I hope you keep doing amazing things as always and having a lot of fun. All the best and stay in touch! :)

Samruddhi Dodal : Keshaaaa! Bro parso raat wala vo conversation karke bohot hi acha laga. And so has almost every other conversation been. You have developed this amazing capability of hearing people out and letting them be themselves, all while yourself growing into a more conscientious and passionate individual. It feels so nice to see you enjoy the process of learning/studying w/o exams and putting all your heart into your work, I am so proud of you and I know this feeling will only grow. Rest assured, I really really love and respect you and I'm not letting you go <3 P.S. Main bhi aaungi Israel <3, Surat se aunty ke haat ka yummm khaana leke. <3

Sunil B : Kesha yr. You are the friend I have learnt the most from, some of which have been life changing at some times. AA times me tera dedication, aur head tenure me tera flexibility, hats-off to you. You are always so polite. You somehow always know what to stand for, and you do it so well. You are among the very few people I have been comfortable discussing the past with- probably coz u don't judge others. NSS ke toh infi memories hain. But I am really really glad ki heads tenure ke baad bhi we met and talked whenever possible. And everything you did for me during placements, no level of thanks will be enough. Stay well, aur kabhi kabhi yaad kiya karna... :D

Himani Gangurde : Hey Kesha! We did have limited interaction. I'm happy to have worked under you 😊 You've always been sweet and you're always happy and cheerful! Stay the way you are and all the best for future 😊

Apurv Tiwari : Hey! Mera fav memory to ED lab wala hi hai where somehow tum solution nikal leti thi, and I just used to copy paste :P And CS 101 mein dassi dilvai tumne doubts clear karke. First year ke baad interaction kam ho gaya, but the occasional interaction was fun. And especially Dean SA ko email karna for info on the youknowwho case. All the best, aise hi machati rehna in life :D

Ritesh Goenka : Hey Kesha! It was quite fun working with you during the NSS term. You are quite cool as a person and were an amazing mentor, both in relation to the work and in general. Khana to mujhe abhi bhi Delhi ka hi better lagta hai, but you know I have developed a taste for certain local foods from Mumbai. Baaki I remember the NSS trip quite vividly; kaafi mazaa aaya tha aap logon ke saath. And thanks for the candies and chocolates you sometimes used to bring to the NSS meets. I hope that you achieve meaningful things in life. You too stay in touch :D.

Vinayak Gupta : Hello Head! although bahut interaction nhi hua bt one thing i know for sure u are a very sweet and caring person. happy to meet u !!

Suditi Laddha : We were together for such a long time even in class and projects . I remember in sophie year, when you were absent for a class and the professor asked me where's your other half. That about sums it up. We might not meet anytime soon but know that I'll miss you. Love you and always stay in touch.

Nandan Prince : 'Walk pe chale?' and then all the conversations after that. Never thought we could share that much with each other. Well I always had this feeling that we could be good friends and fortunately we witnessed that last year. You know you have a different approach to everything which somehow feels like the right approach, but you're not always right :P. Boht ziddi hai tu boht zyada and slight weird also, bina slippers ke pura HN kon walk karta hai :D. Boht achi memroies hai yaar sath me and I know we both will forget those at some point in life but I'll always be glad that we spent those moments together. Keep sharing your poems, I love reading them and lets go for a walk the next time we meet.

Akash Deo : We have not talked directly but yet have take course together. And I also come to that you are a good artist during road painting. Best wishes for your future endeavors. 😊😊

Dhruvin Mehta : So here I am (at the eleventh hour, no less :p). I don't know how to write everything I want to convey! In case I probably never said it before, you have been a support pillar for me that never wavered. Your random stories and uplifting talks have motivated me to complete many assignments. CS minor to innovation lab to Surat trip to weaving, your company does bring out the best in me and everyone around you! also, Kane and Abel <3 <3! You are a unique mixture of carefreeness and focused determination, and don't let anything ever change that. Please watch more anime so we have one more thing to chat about! Definitely yaad raakhis tane, and hope you do the same!

Fatima Salehbhai : Hi Kesha. You have always been there for me. I love you. If you're looking through this please message karje <3 love you

Mookund Sureka : We didn't interact much, but the time we spent during the SMP meets was damn fun. It was a pleasure knowing you and I wish we had got the opportunity to talk more. Anyway all the best for the future :)
