Bhishma Dedhia : Tere se sabse pehle energy dept. oreo mein mila tha and uske baad tere peeche hi pad gaya. Fastforward 4 months and "Solar Cooking buddij" was formed. Socha that insti aakar acha engineer banunga, but tera dost bankar bahut kuch seekh liya. Thank you for making me sensitive towards issues I was completely indifferent about. Your crusade for LGBTQ rights and efforts to make the world more inclusive is inspiring! No one has roasted me as much as you and I have thoroughly enjoyed the banter. Even though we call you "disappointer", your advice has done everything but disappointed. I am probably going to spend the next year convincing you to come to the east coast for a PhD. :p *Drops pen*

Aryan Agal : Economics and Maths and Computing. This guys was all about these subjects when I met him. Then he broke a few vernier callipers in ph117 and saath mein submit kardiye XD. Then solar cooking kiya. He sensitized me, a homophobe, to the queer community. He loves lit. He loves Hindi daily soaps. He loves HS courses. He loves himself. He chills out but excels. Extraordinary guy. Extraordinary friend. Sorry for neglecting our friendship (you know). I still remember how we used to get irritated that tujhe Eco nhi krne mil rha and mujhe CS, how you came out to me on your bday, how we talked about life in that one night in Madrid. You're still best at what you do(you don't do much tho). Thanks for all the fun times. I love you dude. Thanks for the privilege of your friendship ♥

Apurv Tiwari : It was a huge ecstatic feeling for me and Appa when we heard that there is this freshie who is infi enthu for vintage bolly and bolly in general. So once we started that quiz, there was no looking back. The infi bakchodis done with you everytime we met and the witty references you always give to movies and songs. Shameless Libra bashing and saying ewww to some people's mere mention will always remain a constant <3

Ishita Shah : Taking that eco course with you was a lot of fun! That's the only course where I've sat on the first bench the *entire* duration and turns out it isn't all that bad :P Keep giving me amazing TV recos and fangirling with me over the same people <3

Nithin Kumar : Yo! 😊 I saved this till the end cz I just couldn't come up to end this chapter. There are a lot of things fleeting in life like ephemeral gossamers in which everybody is intertwined. It rains periodically to break and form new gossamers though. You're definitely not one of those 😊😂 cz I believe the past is just a prologue and we five have tons of pages left to fill until the epilogue. You know I don't believe in things but thank all the gods of probability that I took that beautiful risk with you. I definitely can't fill this piece with open cheese cz you know me better 😊 Thanks a ton for keeping faith in me. To dreams, passions, more Jazz and less Bollywood maybe.

Shubhankar Mihir Seth : Kummo, I don't even know where to begin. I think I got to know you when we tried putting together AFM for FN, and then Priya ma'am's course and Insight happened. But I'm so glad I could get to know you really well at the CGSP, the quiet quintessential I who disliked both Es and Js (but still liked me, how does that work? or have you just been pretending for USD 5k?). Panicking while getting to the CSIA (how it rained that day), Navigating the CDG airport and the Mystery Rooms, putting up ridiculous performances and disastrous videos, the shopping trip where you didn't buy a thing, and lame dancing attempts on the cruise, thank you for making this journey unforgettable!

Vishal Jain : Tere liye kyu likh raha hu? Tu toh graduate bhi nahi ho raha 😊. Mere sath minor ditch karke ishita ke sath chala gaya (gboard search dagabaaz re). Dhokha toh bhandardara ke time bhi diya tha. By chance kabhi Mumbai aana hua and milne ko bole toh assignment chhod dena pls. Thike waise ek do baar gullu aa gaya tha shayad (cue a semex story). Let's keep confusing these guys with our spanish talk and bolly references. Tera prime toh mai hamesha use karta hi rahunga, aur netflix ka paisa lete rehna time to time. "Fir kya hua?"

Varun Sule : Hey Kammo ( you know I've never called you this but it's never too late). I know nothing I write here is going to be enough but here it goes: You were that one person who I could always rely on, no matter what. My confidence would be half of what it is without you and your support. Thanks for keeping your faith in me. I've always looked up to you, ever since I got to know you 5 years ago, though the reasons for doing so may have changed over the years. You've great things in store for you, so don't settle for something conventional like the rest of us. I'm still up for 7 pending treats by the latest count, I wouldn't even mind Irish House again!

Aniket Bhatia : Heyy! Tu bhi hai insti me ek aur saal, main bhi hoon :P. But still, just wanted to say you're a really sweet and an inspiring person! Hoping to have some good conversations with you in the coming year!! All the best!! :D
