We always wondered that. Bhai also rona kaam kr abb, chemical ka. All the best for your future, will be in touch :D

Saman Siddiqui : My attempt to store the people important to me would be more incomplete if I didn't write on your YB. The first time we met through that interview. Kuch toh freshie year ke starting mei tum kar rahe the. I'm so glad ki you found me on FB uske baad, because that was the start of one of the purest friendships that I have had. Losing you hurts more than most other things. I 'm so glad that we could be friends and I wish you nothing but a whole bucket of happiness and peace. Thanks for being Family <3 Take care!

Soham De : One word description, Noob Mile the coz Lab mein in a question, you had mentioned the word Cost function and bas samjh gaya ML banda hain lol. Then technical talk se shifted to going for 'classy' places which 'millennial' elite bandes like :p Just kidding. be it the overpriced Rainbow juice centre or that random 12baaje when you take an auto to my hostel to pick me up after giving me only 3 min to get ready and come downstairs, kaafi interesting chize hui hain :p Thanks for the help during placement season. Pata nahi about Genomics Course lol. TA ko kaam pareshan karo :(But good that you finally started taking my advises and see it worked for you lol

Akshat Raj Lad : Yo Devesh! You've had the maximum contribution in setting up the non-technical side of our team. Everyone from the team will be forever grateful! Aise hi machate raho aap! And apne "khaas dosto" ko fb memes par tag karte raho :-P. You'll be missed man. All the best.

Pragati Anand : I know it's not even a year when we met , but for me you have been one of the most reliable person , with whom I can actually share anything and everything . If I look back , I can't even imagine if I could have survived in the college without you . Your motivation, support , and availability , I don't even know how to thank you for all these, for listening to my problems at 7 in the morning or 3 at night , for being available at a single call , and for that endless support . I know it was a short journey but I didn't want it to end so early . Thanks for being that pillar of support and one of the best seniors . And yes , I still pray one thing for you, hope it comes true someday , and I

Priyanka Lakku : Devesh<3 Intern wouldn't have been half as much without you sachi. Kitna bakchodi kiye the. All those fun games, mall trips, CONTACT, random panipuris will be the best memories of us. There is an other side to this joyous person, who is very dedicated to what he loves and works the hardest. Ashi aur merko kaafi chidaya thanks :'). Anyways stay the same and hope you'll keep making people around you happy with your wittiness. Wishing you lots of luck and Pune me milte <3
