Anirudh Singhal : I don't know how you got the name "chindi" but you rightly did so. It was fun having a supportive and "shareef" roommate such as yourself and one of my biggest achievements in the institute might be making you resistant to bullies xD. I do hope you stop your RR after you accomplish all the awesome things in life which I know you are capable of xD

Kratvesh Pandey : Hello chindi, It's not quite easy to sum up your help and your support in few lines. You were always there with your rational and logical solutions for every problem I run into. Be it academics or be it related to life. I believe I will never meet a more disciplined guy than you, I still remember your those 5 minutes YouTube break between continuous mugging. I will definitely miss you and your Taylor Swift playlist :'(Machate rehna life mein and chindipana chhod dena please. Ab US jaye to please haircut karwa lena xD

Ayan Choudhary : Pranil man you're goals for an ideal student matlab kya notes banata hai yar(1st year koi to course tere se hi padha tha :P) +tu bohot humble aur time to time bakchodi me sath dene vala banda hai jo ki mast hai xD

Rahul Manglik : If someone looks at you from far, he'll think that you are boring and nerdy but only when he comes closer will he know that it is true! Only after three years with you will he realise that you are just disciplined and he never met you in your "fun" time (11-11:15pm). But being chindi is a full time thing. From a one rupee coin that went under a bed to the AC in Bangalore, you will extract everything out of every thing. Always stay an Overachiever and Underpaid. PS Phone ki advice humesha tujhse hi lunga

Sanyyam Khandelwal : I was going to write a long post ki kya mast 4 saal nikale tere sath and kitna acha dost hai tu mera and kitni help kari hai tune but vo already tu janta hai and that won't even come close to describe what a great journey we had so far. I wish sabki life mai ek, Pranil Joshi, ho. Thank you for all the awesome memories, and thank you for being a great pseudo roomie.

Aryan Agal : Pranil sir! Apna jitna bhi interaction raha it was great! You're always chill, always happy, and very inspiring. You put in a lot of effort towards your stuff and you deserve to be where you are <3. Agar kabhi pareshan ho toh yaad rakhna, elec waale are the human form of 🔥 Bhishma Dedhia : Souvik ke lecture mein I sat next to you once and that has been one of the best decisions of my life. Mera pehla elec ka dost hai tu :p Tere work ethics and dedication has always been incredibly inspiring! Intern fight, coursework se lekar grad school apps mein you have always been a huge pillar of strength. You have always managed to uplift people around you. Tere saath rr karne mein alag hi kick milti thi. Ab New Jersey <--> California hota rahega. Until then Rick and Morty jovaanu, bubble tea peevanu, majja ni life. Shine on you crazy diamond!

Aniket Limaye : Writing this post seems inconsequential to me coz we already know what we mean to each other, now and in the future. This is one of the things that I am trying to learn from you, appreciating others. One thing that I won't be even trying to learn would be your sense of discipline and time management, although I do admire that. I will always enjoy our philosophical discussions that seem to pop out of nowhere, all the time.... Much like Taylor Swift songs in your head, mid conversation. I could easily keep going about how great a friend you are but I'll end simply by saying thanks for being so close to an ideal person, for it makes me want to do that too.

Beni Madhav Agrawal : yo chindi, itna kaise smile karleta hain yaar tu, gonna miss the few bnb runs with you, insulting each other for no reason before class, crashing into Kholu's room just coz we can, and aur faltu ki cheeze. Remember this aint the end, fir milenge chalte chalte, zyaada lamba na khichte huye, ted bhaiya ke shabdo main : "son , when its after 2 am , just go to sleep" :P

Sumanth Kandala : You know I'm not used to long, senti posts. So here's a short one. Thanks for everything! I'm sure that our insti life won't mark the last time we hang out. To many more late night walks and random discussion in the Bay Area or Bangalore, depending on where life takes us!

Deshpande Harsh Saiprasad : Praniiiiiii! We never really got a chance to interact until our internship but that is when I realised how hard-working and dedicated are you. It also helped me understand why you are nicknamed "Chindi" . I'll always remember that I was there when the great Pranil Joshi had his first drink (Yes, I'm counting that sip of LIIT you took xD). I'll really miss all the 'lukkha' conversations we had last sem. Aise hi machate rehna and ho sake toh thoda chill maarna bhi seekh le. PS: Sorry for ruining DeathNote :p

Pranav Sankhe : Pranil bhau! Hamesha koi na koi sawaal leke aata tha xD Albeit they were super interesting and the conversation trail they initiated (often leaving the question aside) were super fun and something I will cherish. It's an honor when someone shares their aspirations with you. Thanks for sharing them with me. You are obviously super smart and a dedicated guy and I hope to see you ace where you go. Let's meet when I'm back in Mumbai and stay in touch!

Kumar Ashutosh : Yo chindi!! You are super awesome. No doubt. Your notes helped me and 100 others to pass the course. H18 dinner discussions will be incomplete without your valuable inputs. Its always fun talking to you. I admire your discipline. Have fun at Stanford. Sadly, I'm not in your Tier-I pals :P

Aman Mishra : Chindi mah boii! What a friendly and hard working person you are! Always an overachiever yet always so humble. Jo bhi karta hai, kitna dedicatedly karta hai be. When did we start calling you chindi? Nevertheless, completely justified XD. I'll always wonder vo kok'em sharbat kaise piya tune. Thank you for proof-reading all my resumes and SoPs. I came to you numerous times for doubts and boy, I was never disappointed. Your singing never helped but your notes always did. <3 Will cherish every moment spent with you :)

Sushil Khyalia : "waddddupppp chindi" that's like 69% of our interaction. to idk what to write maybe best of luck for your future also thane is a gaanv edit: I hope you know more than regression trees ab

Vineet Kotariya : Pranil bro!! I don't really remember ki hum dost kab bane. Par from that day I'm sure ki mere jokes ke liye tera appetite hamesha badhta hi gaya🤔 Sorry tere naam ka matlab 100 baar pucchne ke liye! Apne H18 mess vaale aur lectures ke baad vaale discussions miss karunga.. Thoda life mai rona kam karde :p Ab toh US ja raha hai vaha pe bhi aise hii machate rehna! P.S. Thane ko Mumbai bolna bandh karde XD

Archiki Prasad : Praanil! The best of our interactions happened around internships. From apping in the PC lab in the second year to finally being co-interns in the third year, we sort of always sailed on the same boat. I will always be proud that you got drunk, well more like tricked (but again history is written by winners) at my birthday party. If nothing else that should teach you being 'chindi' comes at a cost XD. You are hardworking and sincere, and most importantly, you know how to treat that fine-tip soldering iron (well the one that actually worked in the entire WEL) just right. And for all these qualities you will always have my respect. :)

Vatsal Khetan : Chindi! I dunno where to start from. Working as Co-Coordies during MI with you was so awesome, one thing I realized was how you have a chill and calm attitude towards life. You were one of the most amazing persons I met in insti. And I hope we stay in touch in future PS: i am still not paying for your ice- cream lol

Aaron John Sabu : The litt lit fella... No more comments! :-P

Deepak Gopalan : I have known you since 3rd sem, but I guess we really started talking a lot more from the 6th sem. Whenever I talk to you, my intrinsic 'rona hai' feeling is immediately amplified, maybe coz you do a lot of RR yourself :) (And FYI: I still have nightmares about being in an EE325 quiz which I didn't prepare for, despite having lived through it twice lol) I have always thought that you are a really cool, well-rounded sort of a guy who can connect easily with different kinds of people. And now, I have started to understand a little bit about how you do it so well :) It's unfortunate that we didn't really talk much in the second year, but I'm super glad that we are moving to the same univ! Looking forward to our unfinished discussion that most likely will remain unfinished forever lol

Viral Shah : Chindhi mere bhai !!! Sabse pehle tujhe Vagad me mila rahunga. Tab se leke abhi tak tere se zyada disciplined aadmi nai dekha maine. Saala hum saare masti karte rehte but tu, akela so jaata. GOT ke episodes din me ek he dekhta, Kaise kar paata hai be ye sab aaj tak nai chamka mujhe. Aise he rehna bhai (bas chindhipana chod de). All the best for the future

Nisha Brahmankar : Pranil! As every single person of ee will thank you for all the life-saving notes, thanks from my side too ;p We had interactions majorly because of CADSL and yes I can relate with your struggle to meet viru xD Your hardwork and dedication towards your work is truly commendable. You have been a very helpful, kind and down-to-earth person. Wish you all the very best for your glorious future! :))

Yash Shrivardhankar : Chindi boi! Tu tujhya ajoba'nchy shalet hotas na? xD. Bhawa tu mech madhey hawa hotas, majhe 4 varsha sort zhale aste xD. You are such an interesting guy man, I still don't understand why you don't open up. But I do remember we talking our hearts out at dining table, it was fun! Mala pan english madhey vichar karayla shikav rao, lai vande zhalet xD. You have a rock solid work ethic and I can only imagine being as disciplined as you are! Jaa aani US madhey pan connect madhey Americans la tough wat'til ase words de xD. Coffee popcorns were <3. Stay in touch man!

Parthasarathi Khirwadkar : Yo Pranil! EDL PSP junta! You are one of the most friendly and chill person in the insti! I have never seen you stressing out other than your usual RR 😊. It was only that one time during EDL, when our DPAC wasn't working that I saw you getting stressed out as our AA grade was on the line 😂. Even in such situation, your determination and hard work made the circuit work. I admire your ability to form a strong bond with anyone you talk to. We had a lot of fun discussing random stuff in labs and in H18 mess 😊. Other than being awesome in acads, you are a great friend and mentor. I know tu Stanford me bhi machayega! Thanks for all the notes 😊 and see you soon in California 😊

Shreyas Pimpalgaonkar : i still hate you for sleeping that night in Goa xD. Thanks for bringing me the ipad from US. intern mein kaafi maze kiye (wish you were around more). you are a highly motivated guy and i'm sure you'll achieve all you want to. All the best for the future!

Aniket Bhatia : Hey Pranil! We never really had any deep conversations, but still jitna baat kiya usse I know you're a really nice and a helpful person! Keep being that hardworking person you are and all the best for everything!! :)

Sachin Tak : "Pranil Brooooo!!!" I don't think any word will do more justice to our four years then this...
