Bohra Ankit Narendra : Saman...honestly if i start writing the good adjectives about you probably word limit khatam hojayegi..so lets just name a few - sweet, caring, too dedicated, hardworking and ready to help always. You've always been there when i needed help. You've heard my endless crying during placements. Inspite of being in same branch in first year we never knew each other and idk how we became friends later. Third year was amazing with us going for movies, pizzas and gossip stories😂. Honestly you've been a constant support to me...thanks yaar! You are surely gonna rock it in future like you've done all your life. All the Best!!!

Swadha Sanghvi : Hi Saman! 2nd year mein wingies hokar bhi wingies nahi the and then after that there was no stopping. I will miss our feminist discussion and all the feminine things that we wanted to do together. Be it having a girls night to dressing up for various events to just eating chilly maggi in the rains. I will cherish all our impromptu plans. Stay in touch with your personal dress selector. U know I give the best dress advice😂

Namita Soni : Saman, Thank you so much ek saal tak mujhe aur mere alarms ko jhelne k liye 😂 Tumhe itna hard work krte dekh k me bhi kuchh seekh paayi. Thanks for listening my every problem very patiently and all your help. Room painting, goa trip, bhaagne jana kitne saare plans due hein abhi tak 😊 Domino's bhi chalna hai vapas kabhi 😞 I'm gonna miss you so much 🥺❤

Kushal P Yadav : "Ha Saman article post kar diya hai". "Ha Saman woh plugin install kar diya hai". "Ha Saman theme change kar dunga" :p

Soham De : One of my favorite persons in Insti who always had a smile on her face (except those scary faces you used to make when you were freezing in the insti roads at night lol). From encouraging me to apply to Insight, to the CL 335 lab where I was your TA, to the Insight tenure together where you did a wonderful job, to your amazing grand treats at Laxmi, The Studs, it was an amazing experience. When I was initially feeling odd being a senior, the way you took everyone alone at different occasions especially the Dance time at the Studs, or even the hugs for appreciation and the kind words at your Birthday party at B&B. You are an amazing person and I am really glad to have known you sis <3

Risha Agarwal : Hey, Ok firstly, I love that you came up with Baddi Buddies and I miss that whatsapp group so much! I can't wait for lockdown to end and get my broken phone and whatsapp back and spam the group again and play houseparty with y'all! Moving on, it was great knowing you since 1st year and you're a really beautiful and hardworking person. I will always remember blasting Vaaste and Kaise hua during our cab rides, and thank you for always appreciating the efforts I put into my diary! I miss hogging pizzas w you in Panchkula. Also - it's high time now, before insti officially ends you gotta sing and upload vaaste bro :P Always keep machaoing in life!!!

Pranav Thakkar : We met through MoodI in my second year where you were a great MC for MI Idol and I was really happy with your help. I always saw you as the great debater that you were and we went to a couple of tournaments too, where you'd regularly slay it with Gult I think? I'm happy that you became Chief Ed because you totally deserved that shit. Keep doing good things ahead like you have :)

Kireeti Akkunuri : It's true. I consider it a personal achievement that I got you to open up to me. I'm so glad for your branch change for the reason xD Continue to generously flood everyone with your power of empathy. How great is it that I got to share 3 years with you?! Continue to exude badass-ery. And most importantly, thanks for being there for me when few others were. :')

Omkar Ingale : I'm not going to add anything(nice) that's already been about you but I'll say this.....you are one of the nicest people I have met in the insti or for that matter life. From being your lab partner for 3 years to being your project partner again(-_-) in design lab, it's been a privilege, pleasure, disappointment(XD) and much more. Cheers!!!! P.S - Wo Lower Parel ke club me jaana abhi bhi baaki hai P.P.S - Yes you are my favourite lab partner (after Bharatha of course)

Lovesh Gupta : Starting with the word inspiration that you have always been to me. pura saal aapke dedication ko match karne me nikal gya. ek chhota sa sorry for annoying varun and you in almost every aspect of the work. For once let me win in some argument we have :P. Finally thanks for sharing that secret meeting place. Keep smiling :)))

Yash Samriya : I seriously don't remember telling you that I'm "ED God!" in the first year! In fact, I don't remember how we met, but its been a hell of a ride since then! From changing branch to Chemical Engineering just because we were getting it and then crying over the decision in the middle of 3rd sem at someplace in Hiranandani! Cheers to those amazing times at "TAP", endless discussions with Venki during second year summers and all the movie plans! Let's plan a trip for real sometime soon!:p Stay in touch yaar!

Ashi Gupta : Hey saman, I guess we came to know each other more closely in the third year (neighbours in hostel). I admire you a lot! Your debating skill, dedication to work, humbleness and time management in spite of the amount of work you have. Your adapting nature. From crying together for wasting time over binge-watching to doing assignments together, gradually we became good friends. Please do not forget me!

Hritwik Ranjan : Yo Saman! Design project pe your PJs helped us survive that torture. You were always our knightess in a not so shining armor :p (our knightess for sure) on the podium in front of Ganeshan with your witty replies to his 'amazingly awesome' questions. MI '18 me mere events host karke machane ke liye thanks a ton. Baaki ab party kya hi kar payenge, Mainland China chalte hai kabhi 😊 Hope to see you soon!

Vatsal Khetan : Hey Saman. I remember the first time we met, at a freshie practice. Motion- THW as parents would introduce the harsh realities of life to their children (not sure about the exact wording). I remember how much I was blown away by your speech and how you asked me troubling POIs. Since then I have learnt a lot from you, especially during ILS 2018(I still don't know why you teamed up with a bad speaker like me and also it's been 2 years, damn). I mean who ends up getting so many debate achievements in second year itself. It was great knowing you, hope we stay in touch.

Varun Sule : Saman <3. I've no idea whatsoever how I would have survived this past year without you <3. You are the most caring, humblest, but at the same time the boldest and bravest person I personally know. Discussions with you have been ever more Insightful, though I look forward to participate in a proper 'debate' with you XD. I know tolerating my tantrums and 15-message long strings of rants of messenger must have been hard, but thanks to your calm nature and foresight for better times in keeping me sane through all those stressful times. Our tenure may be over but you ain't getting rid of me that easily. Sure, there will be some speed-bumps, but you're gonna be damn successful in life!

Arpita Mishra : Samaannn, kha se chalu karu! You were in my tutorial batch in first year and little did I know that we would grow so close in coming years! I love you! And I hope we never grow apart. We had such amazing time as roomies, we gossiped, fooled around and I saw how hard working you were. You used to leave for library early morning when we were sleeping and come back late at night when we were still sleeping XD. I learnt so much from you and I really respect your hardwork. I appreciate you. At times I might have not been the best friend that you deserve and I am really sorry for everything I did to hurt you unintentionally. Aur bohot kuch likhna hai but word limit :(But all Ill say is I love you

Atharva Jaipurkar : Saamaan!! You are one of the most helpful person in the Insti! We first started taking during second year summer vacations, when I asked for your help for my JPMC talk, and you helped me out even while being on an internship, by sending audio clips, pics on how to hold the mic and what not! That talk would not have been possible without you♥ Then you helped me with my AbinBev video during internships! And then again during the placements with gd tips and P&G Interview tips! And seriously I can't thank you enough for everything you have done for me♥ You were the provider of notes and PPU sath me padhne me maza aya tha😊 And yes that walk to Hiranandani, we speaking about our future goals was ♥ You finally making it as Insight chief editor, getting the P&G PPO made me really happy! Hope we get the same location🙏 Insti me milte hai😊Take care 🌻🌻

R Aditya Narayan : Hi ex-debate partner! You're such an excellent debater but We were soooo cursed as a team =P. Even beating Heena , Gore and Akshat (Your performance at a NLS was really incredible) in a bubble room wasn't enough to break. I have seen you as an extremely passionate and intelligent person, who always did well in whatever you did and I hope you have a hell of life moving forward. =)

Siddharth Mehta : Hello Saman, Yearbook 2020 me aapka swagat hai. Firstly, I'm grateful to learn that I exude a calm and not a clammy persona; gonna write that down in my list of strengths for interview prep... With your cheerful nature and decisiveness, I've thoroughly enjoyed working with you for the past year with no regrets but one: lack of more time.

Riya Singh : I have not met anyone more down-to-earth than you. I first talked to you in my 3rd year when you congratulated me for selection in my intern. I was startled to see a girl selected in all the 3 FMCG has initiated the talk. As I got to know you better, I admired your friendly and lively nature. I am sure you are going to achieve heights in your future.

Arnav Dewan : Hey! Your treat is pending and I am gonna charge a very hefty interest on it! I know you have had your share of ups and downs but that's what makes you such a strong and amazing person! Even though our winter vacations plan was sabotaged by Arjav, I really do hope we all make the best hypothetical plans in the future too. I know you will be there whenever I need and to tell you to stay in touch is just pointless, because we will! I just wish you the best for your future endeavors and I know you gonna rock the world!

Purushottam Kumar Sahu : Hi Saman, The past one year had been a wonderful journey. I know you pushed me a lot to go with the flow, whether it was in meets or parties. Thank you for that, it means a lot to me. Thanks for all the support and faith that you put over me.

Shreya Agarwal : Hey Saman ! You have been an integral part of my insti life as a roll model , mentor and friend . Your drive and professionalism is so inspiring that I literally ask myself to put on my "Saman mode" at certain times :D . You have always been very helpful - whether it be when you were the convener for debsoc and I was a freshie , D-AMP mentoring , intern preparation or just life talk - you always had time ! Thanks for everything ! Wish you the best for your journey ahead :)

Tushar Kumar : Heyy Saman, You're the sweetest & most caring senior I have met in my insti life. The finesse with which you listen, communicate and relate to other on personal or professional level is what I wish to have in my persona & I'm surely striving for it. The past year has been an amazing voyage with you as one of the captain (Yoda speaks: There another is:p) of the colossal vessel "Insight". I'll never forget our discussion on publicity clash of GOT S8 & IDF launch, it is both amusing and noteworthy. This speaks about your sincerity & dedication. I wish to stay in touch with you forever with all the fundaes & inspirations pouring and guiding me in life. Thanks for everything! omg wrd lim here too xD...

Anupradiksha Rajan : Apun Pehle baar auto mai mile the, jiske paise mene nahi diye:P aur mene tujhe pucha tha ..tu Punjab ki hai kya? and 2nd year mai tere room pe terese jyada mai rehti thi. Vo Nutella mene nahi khaya tha yaar, although mene tera khana bahut khaya hai, lekin us din nahi, Arpita aur Meghana ne mujhpe galat inzaam lagaya tha....kafi dinon se bolna tha, abhi bol rahi. Tu kafi helpful aur humble hai. Stay the same! Aur tu infi machati to hai hi, aage bhi aise hi machana <3

You were always a very easy going person, a person with whom I could talk about almost everything and be the stupid kid that I am (I admire this about you). The giggles and laughs will be missed the most. You have a really great personality and would do great in life (just like you aced all our design project presentations). Hope to always stay in touch <3.

Anmol Gupta : Hello Sleepy Mi(/e)ss :P This arrow in the dark really did fall into the right place, eh? That was one loooong series of exchanges we had, opening up to each other from miles away! But for what it was worth, it led to all those serene(?) walks in campus, and I'm really grateful for that. Walking with those small steps like a tiny sparrow journalist haha :P Discovering that staircase in SOM was an experience in itself! Too bad we never could make that club scene happen :P Would've been amazing wing-mates for each other XD I'm proud of the way you've kept going despite of everything happening around you, staying strong, and I hope you do the same in future. And damn, Stanford GSB _/_ Slay!!

Aashay Biyani : Saman You have been really sweet and pragmatic person. Your combination of sweetness, professionalism and pragmatism is very unique. From being convener of DebSoc to helping in CVs and just some chats, you've been really helpful. Hope you stay this way!!

Aditya Venkatraman : Samann <3 I have had really high regard for you write from day 1 at that Gulmohar dinner. You have great things lined up for you for I've seldom seen such a diligent and hard working person like you. The amount of effort you put for your Chief Ed tenure was out of the world and I'm glad I could be there with you for some of it. Thanks thanks thanks (:P) for being such an amazing person. I might appear as an open book, but with you I have truly been one. Lastly, I hope that you get all that you desire for cause you truly deserve early bit of it. Hope to party in Pune soon!!

From debating to Insight, it's like I've followed your footsteps :p I wish you all the luck and energy for all your endeavors!

Sanjeet Sahoo : There are a very few times I have said no to people. It pains me that one of those was when I had to refuse the prospect of getting the pleasure to work along with you. It was especially hard given the fact that you were nothing but good to me (as you always are) and your arguments were backed with dedication and a sweet smile (as they always do). Being a muggle, I had to prep for placements among many other things. This is an apology masquerading as a post.

Bidish Ghosh : In many ways, you're the most inspiring person I've come across in college. Till the day we randomly came up with a plan to go to Theobroma, I'd never imagined having a proper conversation with you - our attitudes towards life seemed very different for that; you, a sincere, ambitious person, and I, pretty much the epitome of a Bohemian individual in later years. In many ways, you seem child-like, and perhaps that is what makes you unique. Here's to many more never-ending debates on life, and morals, and existential crises, and what not xD P.S. its weird how many times I remembered seeing you just randomly walking in HN; how many appointments did you keep per day?!

Manan Agarwal : Heyy Saman! Those 3 years in Lab would be really missed...they were so much fun <3 It was always so insightful to talk to you! You have a truly scintillating wit that is enough to lift anyone's spirits <3 Stay awesome!

Priyesh Gupta : Saman, I definitely remember that first year walk and conversation. Actually we dont have much more to remember after that except that we have always been like "let's meet soon" 😂😂 . I also remember Doctor Strange which actually introduced me to Marvel for the first time 😂. All the best for everything yaar and for the last time, Let's meet soon <3

“Loads of love <3 ”

If you could pack up a bunch of things from the institute to keep with you forever, what will those be?

Silu Panda : Hi Saman, you are irreplaceable. You are one the kindest and caring person i know of (except the fact that I always wanted to steal your bag). I suck at writing sentis but I hope our insti moments find a place when you take a trip down memory lane.

Kajal Kumari : Lots of things have already been written about you. Always be the sweetest like you are. <3

Abhay Tomar : Hey there, idk if you remember but our first meetup was a few days after we joined and were looking for (as far as I remember) the badminton court in gymkhana. I know I was very weird at the moment, but you were very encouraging 😊. Also, it was nice having a chat with you sometimes. You're an awesome person. All the best for ahead 😊.

Akash Sharma : Koi perfect ho skta hai yaa uske close bhi ho skta hai toh vo saman hai 😊..Dude our first interaction with you & karan talking about something & I ran into you guys...That day I got to know ur caring & understandable nature ..I know for sure you will achieve great things in life 😊.All the best for your future 😊
