Sonali Singh : Let me start with the first feeling I had when I saw your name on attendance sheet 'chalo koi to non bengali girl hai' 😊 but I don't know at that time, you'll become my best buddy. Yrr I'm missing those long talks, late night walks and fighting with you. You are my friend, mentor, half roommate and problem solver. So bhut bhut shukriya ithi sari haseen yaadein dene k liye. Love you 🥰 and all d best

Sumedha Ghosh : Hey half roomie 😊 Starting with how much i miss your late night hugs and kisses 😊. And i used to ask you always for head massage and all and you always took care of me 😊 Last semester me apne room me kam tere room me zyada thi ♥ I miss seeing your face every morning. It became a habit. You always supported me and i love you a lot. You and Sonali are some of the gems iit has given me 😊. No byes because ye rishta urma bhar ka hai. I miss you and i always wish we could have had some more time together. I will be always there for you. Never hesitate to give me a call even after 20 years. I miss our late night gossips and walks. Loads of love ♥

Vibhor Sarawagi : Hey Priyanka, you are one of the best friend I had in IIT. Although we had a lots of ups and downs in our friendship but all is well that ends well. You are a helping and caring person along with a good teacher. With all your help & support I was able to tackle myself during my initial phase in campus. Thanks a lot. It really means a lot to me. I will really miss all those moments spent with you. Lots of night walks and memories of canteen. I wish we could have atleast one in the last semester. All the best for your future and wish you all the success in life. Or cycle chalana seekh jaldi. We will meet in Bangalore. :)
