Drish Mahnot : ITSP ke time we realized ki we literally have the exact same choices, even bizzare stuff like Agar xD Tere birthday par we managed with like 30 ml "Pepsi" somehow. KYGOD, Bangalore and so many other memories. Bola tha ruk jaa thode din insti me, apna El Classico plan nahi hua

Aniket Ranade : aisa lag raha hai jyada yaadein lockdown mai PUBG khelte khelte ban gayi ho GG. tera baalon se khelna mai kabhi bhi bhul nahi paunga re. Jugheads ke din kaise bhul payenge. chalte hai phirse ek last bar pass out hone ke pehele. Hopefully mauka mil jaye

Edwin Saji Uthuppan : Dude, you are the chilliest person I know and your chillness increased exponentially and you shared it with us (wink, wink!). You were THE person for insti gossip man. You should have come to goa and nainital with us man! I know you are gonna rock it in your future. Keep in touch in bangalore!

Adane Sahil Ravindra : Bro! You are like a wise old sage, experienced yet extremely relatable. Needless to say, the discussions have always been interesting. I remember placements when you offered to be my runner and tried to get me into Aether. You are the mother who takes care of everyone whenever we have a 'different' experience. I remember Tarkarli where I was flipping out but you were the only one who understood, and stood beside me silently. Your presence was really comforting and I can never forget that. Pahaadi pardee was just epic, one of my most memorable trips ever. A whole lot of wonderful memories. I wish you had joined us for Nainital. Anyway, good luck ahead! We will keep catching up. Take care :))
