Tanya Gupta : KIRRRANNNN!! ♥♥ I am sure it started with me staying in your room in the first year winters? Though we lost touch and made huge detours, I am super super thankful for the last two years. Shopping trips, artstore visits, dmart ransacks and daily pani puri and masala/plain/szechuan dosa at gullu, I don't think there's anything we left untouched. Hanging out with you is something I always look forward to. Specially love that our taste in movies and TV Series' matches like 95% (5% off coz horror movies ugghh) I think we made plans for everything but forgot to take this lockdown into account. Our plans to go hopping every Tuesday, MBA plans, wedding plans and now even funeral plans, I can't believe how much we talk (nonsense, bitching, gossip, serious shit and otherwise). How you managed to do so much research despite your dislike for electrical blows my mind. I love your artwork a lot a lot a lot and if I had enough money I'd buy all of it! I think you can single-handedly motivate me to greatness xD Life is a sucks, but you make it better (too cringe I know but you'll have to jhelofy it.)👩♀ You've made my dual year not only bearable, but the most fun it could be. And oh my god your obsession with prom and I love your Kazo dress and am really sad on your behalf that it won't happen this year ☹ Whenever you look back at this message can you call me and say HIIII? I LOVE YOUUU ♥♥

Prudhvi Kavya : Kirannnn!!! When I think about you the one thing that pops into my mind is, HOW did you voluntarily choose to work under Tallur for 3 years?! We started off as wingies in the first year, and the earliest memory I have is you showing me all of the BEAUTIFUL artwork you made everyday. The instant connection I had with you was of course the fact that we both were ghaties and har weekend ghar bhaag jaate the :P You still have the file I gave you during placements (maybe it was the lucky charm :P), so whenever you see that file, ping me so we stay connected <3

Akansh Vijay : Hey Brother!!! kya hi likhu yaha😁.. jab bhi tu ye padhegi apna discussion hoga mast sa .. lol 😂 Thank you for everything. Stay in touch. Be happy.

Arpit Agarwal : Kiran, you are an excellent conversationalist! You can make a person interested in things he isn't even remotely connected with. I can still recollect stuffs we talked about during our Nashik trip - heartless Bio students, your research work. Don't mind me dozing off in between that mid-night conversation we had!😂(I was extremely tired). Thanks for listening and assisting me with my doubts that came regarding the conference! I hope we get a chance to interact more in future😊
