Karunya Baskar : Rishabh, I'm going to miss you so much. You're one of the most expressive people I've ever know, which is why I love watching movies with you. You completely steal the show, flailing your arms in the air at every bloody plot twist. Kaun nachega mere saath Girish ke assignments karte vakt? Kya karungi mein tere bina yaar. A great evening would be, Rishabh listening to Karunya ranting about her feelings over a cup of coffee at brews when you're not lukha enough to go to sunny. I guess I've to make do with Advait hahaha, don't worry, I'll take great care of him. Could you maybe come visit just so we could relive these moments again.

Rashi Gupta : Ayy my boiii Imma miss you so much, especially our times in Korea! I really appreciate your efforts and dedication for what you like (wish I had the same) Ik I've been an irritating little prick to you so many times, but thanks for being there for me! Your presence has always been the most comforting ones! Stay the machau person you are 🤖 And DO NOT FORGET ME 🐱
