Maayla Siddiqi : I feel so blessed to have a friend like you! 😊 You are the most honest and emotional person i've come across during these two years. You helped me during tough times (make me understand the C language in a simple way). And how can i forget that late night walk to boathouse and our trip to Bandra sea link. It was awesome. Room no. C-205 and C-206, they were not two separate rooms, they were actually a single room we shared lots of things together. Many times i was angry at you also but that's okay. You were never the kind of person who hold grudges. A beautiful person inside out!. ♡ Because of you my english has improved.. 😂

Harsimran Kaur : Hey JP. We have had our share of differences but we still managed to be friend. I do really care about you. I may not agree with all of your opinions or your methods but I do see a will to tell everyone that you feel this way. I just wish instead of focusing on being a rebel if you focus on solving a problem you can bring the change because you have the courage to. I hope someday you make your peace with the system :P lol.

Shalini Tyagi : Hi, person from this universe! I have had a roller coaster of feelings toward you. I liked you and then un-liked you and started liking you again :P. To me, you are a good writer with wit and satire and a perception and attitude different from the majority. You are amazing and though irritating and annoying as you always say but also someone I would love to talk to for hours and hours. You are super-bold and a phenomenal person that I am happy to have met in my lifetime :)

Lisha Awasthi : Oh my sweet salty mixed TJ. I love your uniqueness, pure soul, your care for others (specially me). I am so proud to be your friend ♥ and so blessed with your love for me. You usually don't take interest in other people buisness but when you do it for me i feel so happy so special i can't describe in words. Your honesty, living for the moment are qualities i see in myself as well. You have one of the most important person in my iitb life and will remain for rest of my life😭. Believe me i am too chipku😂. Love you ♥♥♥

Rumjhum Mukherjee : The ever-inquisitive human from another universe, bold and upright and never scared or ashamed to convey her visions across, everyone's favorite JP will always be in our hearts! But even then, you'll be my favourite TJ, because of how you love reading books and asking me about them for advice! You have an interesting way of talking and I like the entire package called TJ! Stay in touch! <3

Aprajita Shukla : JP, I'm glad to meet you. You have a very different perspective. I have always enjoyed having little chats with you. :) Thankyou! ♥ Stay this smart and confident always! 📚 And miss me!!! 😊

Aparna Singhal : Girl from different planet...Have different perception to each and every concept. You did a commendable job by confronting each and every professor be it strict one -anirban or be it a soft one kiran sir..Your way of putting point forward is really what I liked the most..You are magical in your approach..Wish you all the good luck..😊😊

Priya Kumar : Hi Priya TJ :-) Literally the first person I talked to at IITB. A calm and wise girl, constantly smirking at other's stupidity :-D. A wild and free soul - you have taught me the importance of self-confidence. I hope you get to quench your thirst for quantum physics. All the best :-)

Neharika Sharma : Hi JP! We have had some great time together. That local to Mumbra devi has been one of the worst and best experiences of my life, all thanks to you. Here is to the girl who plugs in earphone without the music just to avoid conversation 😊. Best of luck 😊

Pradip Karmakar : Hey, jp, initially i didnt speak to u a lot because of the language difference and of course way of thinking difference; but now i truly appreciate your thoughts .. i like your confidence and cheerfulness to make solo trip by yourself ... this inspires me a lot honestly ... always follow your passion whatever u believe ... never give a f*k to other's negative comments ... always stay positive and cheerful as u r ... all the best for your future endeavors and dont delete whatsapp :) haha, stay in touch Sreyashi Mandal : JP!!!!!! You were my lab partner in sem 1 and I am thankful to you for being so patient with me. I barely had any idea what was going on in the classes and you constantly helped me with the journals and the graphs. You are really cool and a truly rebellious person. You give a damn as to what people think about you and I totally love that. I hope you continue being this weird stubborn unique girl and I wish you all the best for your future. :)

Nilanjan Bose : The captain of our practical group..so natural with her thoughts, so spontaneous in analysing something..you are here in this earth for a big purpose..never let your thoughts go distracted..never give up your cycling and travelling hobby..keep loving nature..

Abhishek Datta : You are one intelligently difficult person. The most outspoken person in our batch. From the very first day I was interested to meet you after your introduction in our common group created by Shivam, always be yourself. Never falter from voicing your opinion. You don't need my wish to have a great future, I know you will turn out to be a very strong and confident person.

Titash Baidya : My lab partner. Above all the earthly negativities. Exception of exceptions.. I think your soul is immersed in the world of quantum; you are incomparable to anybody and that's a matter of pride for me. Truly...I was the person who went in full phase war with you and now we are the closest. You are far away from any sort of selfishness...I will remember till my last breath how you pulled me out from my own problems during the last semester. I am also very fortunate that I am the first person with whom you tasted typical Bengali fish curry.. sometimes I really don't find anything to say against your opinions but you know....I somehow enjoy that.

Soumili Sarkar : Heyyy JP. I bet you are my favourite audience. Appreciating is an art, and people should learn that from you. Your inquisitiveness is limitless, and I respect that. I have seen people who does science for the sake of it, but you my gurlll, you reflect real passion. U'll reach heights of success. All the very best sweetie :)

Bhawna Bhawna : You are one hell of a crazy women !!! Earlier i used to think I am insane enough to drive people crazy but then you enter and booommm !!! you are epitome of craziness and yes one of few people with a transparent heart.. I love talking to you because you can understand my sarcasm and of course because we both are crazy !!! You are a person who could never give up in life and don't ever change that attitude.. Love you Sexyyyy JP..
