Devayani Verma : Last year when you sneakily made way into The Scope, I did not approve, ngl (because I am already so insecure, yk that xD and for good reason?). But then cut to a year later here now and I genuinely feel that you are the glue that kept all of us together and THANK YOU for that :) You know I don't say this enough but despite how sometimes I just can't stand the stupid debates, I fully agree with the idea that you all are and will always be my insti family and we may not be exclusive but I know I will always be there for you all because you all are my bois, whether you like that tag or not :P And Anmol, I absolutely adore your "stoicism". Please stay in touch cuz I will miss ya.

Risha Agarwal : So much to say but very few words to describe the emotions with. I know you love Batman, And I know you love cats. I know you love writing poems, And I know you love Emma Watson. I know this all but what I want you to know is that I love warriors and one of them is you 💕💕💕💕

R Aditya Narayan : Hello friend! The enticing remarks, the chilling in your room and random walks since freshie year, It was so nice hanging out with you. I've seen you rise in popularity but still be the down to earth guy who always gives time to everyone. Wish we could've had our quarantine party, but ughh. Stay in touch!!

Rahul Agrawal : Anmol Sir /\. If someone asks me whom do I look up to the most in insti rn, it will be you! I have bugged you since day1, and always received great advice. Specially during your GS tenure, when we worked together, I got to see how you manage the immense workload, and how you have time for everyone and everything!!. SAC me bahut maza aaya merko aapke sath kaam krke, believe me, it played a major part in my PhD apps :D. I know aap corporate job ja rhe, but I have a feeling ki apan kisi din kisi academic conference me milenge :P (I await that day :P). I guess the nickname 'Infinity help services' held true to its meaning on you :D. All the best bro, and keep showering your fundae :D.

Pranav Thakkar : Hi!! Having always known each other through mutual friends, it was nice to finally have you and so many others on the same floor this year. Random chitchats in the wing with you were always cool, especially with someone who loved to annoy Gult as much as I did xD and I love the content you post on Writers IITB! You're so different from all the General Secretaries I've seen. It's always been great to interact with you this year. Stay the same, buddy!

Pranav Sankhe : Each day just goes so fast, I turn around and it's past. Without you, these 5 years are a falling deck of cards: No shape. No size. No point of view. Nowhere to go. When I was down and out, when the evening fell too hard, you were always there, standing with arms open. What a wonderful time it was. Having random talks in H2, H7, insti ke random walks, then H18. All the activism discussed, rebellions staged, organized, and executed. Our Shor bazaar is essentially an echo-chamber. I am so proud of all of us. Last year of college was fucking Rang-de-Basanti! Keep sailing on your bright dreams and I will be sailing right behind, like a bridge over troubled waters.

Kushal P Yadav : Chahe kitne bhi GSAA aaye aur jaye. For me you are equivalent to GSAA and vice-versa #massive_respect

Pujan Biswas : The GS of Arkham Affairs for me always! How do you keep the insti good boi thing dude? but ofcourse we know you :P Your management skills, handling time in the way it has to, I'm a fan. SSS se EnPoWER bhejke duniya hi badal di hai aapne. And yes the random arrows in the groundwork is how I make my notes. When Batman goes to Bain, it's bound to be a million dollar deal but years later I'd still be waiting for the ever elusive Rs20 treat from you. Hum chote logon ko bhool mat jaana, please! Your almost-coordie, Bisso

Sumukh Vaidya : GS Sir! From bonding over a shared injury in the first year to bonding over it in the last, life's come a full circle eh? Kaafi respect for your epic time management and insti management skill, and hope you bring good management skills to wherever you are! All the best !!!

Saurabh Kolambe : Yo bro! You are one of the nicest person I have met in insti. And I really like your room :P first yr me bhi apan same floor pe the bt tab we didnt knew each other. All I knew about you was some guy who keeps doing weird stuff with his chair wo bhi corridor me (By weird stuff I mean your leg exercise :P). And then now in Final year firse same floor pe room mila, And even this time you were no different random awaze niklna (Lool) :P mast mast gaane bajana <3 haha ..it was fun. I will miss you bro. You were my lifeline for all acad related matters. kuch bhi ho jaye just ping anmol and its solved. Thanks for all the help bro. Stay in touch!

Ameya Mittal : Hello proverbial good boi (who wallows in self love so much to call themselves this?) I have had little interaction with you but have tons to say. Love your poems, your articles and your sense of humour (?) Lol. You were someone the whole distressed insti looked up to at one point, trust me it was amazing to work in a council headed by you. Wish you all the success ahead and ha woh 9079 waali baat reh gayi :/ Loving the flower filter picture still. Creepy SSS forever and will never forgive you for making us dance as coordinators on a random pop song in front of a rickshaw wala in HN at 2 in the night. Ugh.

Aayushi Pankaj Agrawal : The person I've always gone to at all 'milestone' problems I have faced :)) Even though I didn't get a chance to interact much, you still answering all my doubts with utmost patience and care proves you are the good boi you claim to be xD Still awaiting the virtual valfi! 🥰

Shantanu Thada : Anmol brooo! Our journey started before we even reached insti! From your first text saying, "Hey my mom thinks we look alike" to our interactions lately in the H18 mess, I am glad to know someone as smart and inspiring as you! In the past years, you have stepped out as a responsible leader and you really have nailed all your responsibilities! And whenever you read this in the future, I want you to know that you are gonna be the best at whatever you do! Bas touch me rehna and dont ever stop sending me snaps!! I look forward to seeing you soon and wish you the very best in all your future endeavours!! <3

Prudhvi Kavya : Dude! I cannot think of any word other than 'respect' when I think of you. Honestly you don't even know how I always used to be in awe of the number of things you managed to squeeze in 24 hours, from being ISAA/GSAA to cracking case competitions to acads. I used to ask how many hours you slept and I was ALWAYS shocked xD I remember it was my ultimate goal to peek into your little to-do book that you were so protective about, and I finally achieved it :P Thank me for helping you get through EDL without much effort xD May your knee be jawaan again, and may you awe the people at Bain just like me <3 Also pleaseeee stay connected :*

Radhika Tibrewala : Helloo anmol :) Idk why but i'm smiling writing this for you. Probably remembering all the drama we've had in both our lives and how kiddish we were most of times! But also, not to forget how we grew together out of all of it and how we managed to again end up on absolutely good terms xD. I now see a friend in you whom i can come to with anything going on in my life and i know for the person you are, you will be there :) Many obstructions, misunderstandings, cold fights cz of many random reasons, but working with you and in that trio, i learned alot! Thanks for everything and stay in touch :)

Shubham Khoker : Yo anmol(:p). Trust me on this, you're that one person in the insti, jinke liye dil se respect niklti h. Thank you so much for helping me from resumes to manifestos(I hope koi ek kaam kr jaaye :p) I have seen you as a friend, a leader and most importantly a genuine person, and I respect each of them. I hope you achieve everything in life and thanks alot for all the help. All the best.

Naman Goyal : Without a doubt you are always a role model for me. The way you work, handle the team, be so active in the insti and life me itna machana. Me to apne baccho ko bhi bolta tha ki time mgmt aur kaam krne ka tareeka to aapse seekhe. Kaafi mazey kiye hai tenure me aur treats me bhi😄. Consult me ho to touch me to rahenge hi but life me aapse bohut seekha hai aur aise hi machaate rehna. Thanks for being the best head, GS, mentor, guide and a friend of mine.

Apurv Tiwari : Anmooooo! DD article se jaan pehchan hui, and then you were my go to person for random academic doubts at random times, and somehow you knew the answer to all of them :o And my fav random memory of you is tumhare GS results ke baad you were cycling in loops on the H1-H8 ring route, and were so happy. Why did you stop using your batman voice :(All the best for all your future endeavours, tum to macha hi doge waise bhi. Also, your profile question ka answer is so nsfw :P

Karan Trichal : Saaarr! From MI blog in coordie year to 5th year shenanigans - we've seen it all together :p The talks were long, the gossips were spicy, and here's to many more of both of these :D It's been amazing talking with you, getting new perspectives and exchanging ideas. I know for a fact you'll do great things wherever you go in your career - and I really hope we get to someday sit and talk about all the things we've accomplished, all the things we used to talk about achieving in those long discussions :D And yes - 'we should definitely meet more often' xD

Nikunj Mohota : You've always been the all-rounder, helpful and 'dhaarmic' friend/senior for me XD. Sorry for 'banging' the door that evening when I disturbed your 'abhyaas'. I wish we had some more common free time in the wing (where you could share your abhyaas gyaan in addition to resume making and mohanthaal)

Anmol Kagrecha : Hi Anmol :) I was so comfortable not being a part of the Yearbook and passing quietly into oblivion but here we are! I have always admired your ability to connect with people. You have made and will make a huge difference in lives of people who might only know your name. I find it remarkable that we share an amazing friendship despite stark contrasts in what we are, we do and we think. TBH, your opposing views didn't bother me as much as your propensity to chat during project meets :D. One day when you become a rich powerful man, don't forget that you have a researcher friend who wouldn't mind extra grant money :P.

Rohan Pathak : Mujhe toh lagta hai likhke kuch fayda hi nhi kyuki tujhe itne logo ne likha hoga ki ye daalne ki jagah hi nhi hogi :p Bhauuu, thank you mujhe paalne ke liye. Legit paala hai tune haha but ignore bhi utna hi kara hai :/ I think I am lucky enough to witness the great in making. And apni bandi ko aunty news dena shuru karo bhau, aise kaise chalega warna. Ab mai jyada kuch bol nhi paunga, I am just thankful ki itne busy schedule mein mujhe kaise sehta tha tu. Bahut kuch sikha hu tujhse mai. Apne Core ke interview mein bak diya tha mai ki mujhe Anmol se ye sikhna hai haha. Pliss aise hi sehte rehna kitna bhi aage badh jao aap <3 P.S: Mereko trip pe leke chal chup chap

Ankit Neema : Hi Anmol! I am so glad that I found a 'Big brother' in you. You have always inspired me since the time I got a chance to work with you. I will always be indebted to you for backing me throughout my tenure. From brainstorming to executing, You have made me realise my potential. I can't even keep a count of things I want to learn from you. You are undoubtedly the best senior I have known. And I take pride in saying that I worked under your guidance. Keep inspiring me like you always do ♥

Gali Meghana : Hello Anmuuuu :) Honestly, at first I used to think you're a pretty serious guy who loves perfection lives an organised life and is a maggu, while a major part of it is still true :P I've gotten to know the fun side of you through howmuch ever we've interacted. I've heard so much about your tenure as a GS and is there anything you aren't best at? You're a very strong person and I hope though you have only a 50% chance of ending on my side, I secretly wish you do :) Wish you all the happiness and a little more than what you deserve. Lots of Love, Meghana

Aniket Ranade : Are hello re, Mujhe yaad hai voh BnB pe apan kab peheli baar mile the. Kisiko to happy Birthday bhej rahe the re aap save kiya hua tha sabka. Itna kaun girta hai vote maangne ke liye XD har baar muskurate hue hi mile ho kabhi aapko gussa dekha hi nahi mai. Aise hi rehena aur gareebon ko bhul na jaana.

Samardeep Sarna : Yo! (pun intended, obviously) The most machau senior out there. The most helpful person I know in insti. The heist (the only time I broke "rules") was really fun and wouldn't have been possible without your support! Will always remember that rule-breaking. Learnt a lot from you! Thanks for making acad council so lit. Thanks for always being there and always stay in touch!

Aditya Chalishazar : I think I've mostly just bugged you with a lot of proofreading and policy doubts, but you patiently took out time to go through even some of the weirdest documents I have come up with... You've demonstrated how it helps to say a few words, but those words have to add serious value to any discussion. Thank you so much for all your help this year. All the best! :)

Pragya Valay : Hi Anmol, You are a very sweet person. Rohan ka pata thikana bataya hai kaafi baar is saal, kyunki uska phone toh kabhi laga nahi mere se. Last year me jaakar hi apni baat hui, par acha laga milkar, you are a good person, I hope we keep in touch. Tum hi Rohan ka pehla pyaar rahoge. <3 <3

Aakash Kapoor : You've been the coolest, chilliest and the most fun mentor I could ever ask for and you made the problems I faced at insti life pretty easy to face. And I will always remember how you helped me pull my act together and avoid getting the dreaded FR grade. Here's to an amazing future and I hope we stay in touch for years to come :)

Karan Kothadiya : Man, you're truly deserving of the plentiful success you've had and will go on to have! I have come to equate Anmol Gupta with Respect. Roadies Salute Yet, you're so polite, so approachable and so calm and humble. Look forward to learning a lot more from you in the time to come. Love, K

Ishita Shah : I still hate you for making me eat that extra waffle, though I'll never admit that I kinda wanted to have it too :P Thank you for always being there for me and for being so patient. Try not to laugh at me all the time, maybe? :P I love our discussions and it's so much fun to talk to you, even though you ignore me now, huh. It was a lot of fun when you got annoyed that I got the same grade as you even though i barely studied (HS 409). Admit it, I'm smarter than you. :P hopefully at least one movie plan works out for us, if theatres ever open again :P looking forward to making plans in Bombay and you hopefully won't ignore me then. miss you hugs <3

Bhadri Narayanan R : Hey Anmol! Setting up lanterns during those lanterns was probably the last time I helped you :p After that, it's pretty much always been you, being kind enough to explain so much things to me and help me when I was confused for which I'm very grateful. You've been one truly amazing senior. Good luck for your future man, you deserve the best :D

Anusha Dubey : Anmol! I cannot fit in here the amount of admiration and respect I have for you. You're that person jiske bare me main kabhi kisi se kuchh galat sun hi nahi sakti, I hope I've proved this well enough in the past XD From not being very appreciative about UGAC to now loving it the most, you are the reason for this whole transition! Thank you for giving me the chance and inspiration to develop myself the way I have, zyada to nahi but jitna bhi, sirf aapke wajah se hua 😊 and I have tried to pay you back by always entertaining you through all those rants 😂 You deserve all the success and happiness and I hope one day you'll support me for what is 'right' :P U r the best GSAA bt GSAAA is da best :)

Mookund Sureka : BLEH.....

Neeraj Sohani : I sometimes feel that we are as opposite as two people can be in their lifestyle and the way they perceive the world. You've tried hard (sometimes) to understand how I think and you've failed miserably :P What you probably don't know is that I used to be just like you (in some aspects) and I gave up going that way because I got tired of eating shit that people gave me (Let's hope that you never feel this way). Nevertheless, over time I've realized that the other extreme isn't pretty and doesn't feel good too. So maybe we should both try to be a little bit like each other. Hope you stay happy and get the life you desire. I'll miss you buddy. P.S. Yes, I hate that smirk. Keep it away from me.

Shubhankar Mihir Seth : Ah, the golden boy of insti! I'd heard so many out-of-this-world things about you, that I just assumed it wasn't possible, but I'm so delighted on turning out to be wrong. You brought depth and insight into every little conversation we had, and I've felt tons of respect and admiration for you over the years. In fact, interviewing you has to count among the most awkward things I've ever had to do. You've achieved some terrific milestones in insti, and I hope there are even bigger things in store. I know you'll get them all while staying as humble, kind and driven as you are. Don't forget, you'll always be a part of ASIA XD. Stay in touch and take care!

Sarthak Nijhawan : Bas sir, badiya. I still remember the first time I met you (I'm sure you won't), Kabra introduced us in H16 mess over tiffin. We both lay there preoccupied in our thoughts, unattentive, while he rambled on (yours was probably nailing things, mine was definitely going back to my pending CSGO game :P). Anyway, immense respect for you man. Learnt a heck lot things from you all along. Really admire ur "sticking to the schedule"-policy. Wish we'd interacted more until final year, but I'm damn sure we're gonna have a bang ahead. Here's to all those case grp bakchdis, DDP-rants (led by me all along-obvio), IT-2 (:P), Bain(or...huh-huh.. talks) & the ONLY case grp dinner we'd at ur 'beloved' place

Sanket Agrawal : are Attention Seeker, CSP (when did we stop using this :P :) I have seen you struggling from becoming a part of scope to being an integral part (more than the original peeps :p) and it has been an emotional and funny journey for sure! What could we really say, bad phases in our lives have brought us this very close xD Infi stories from SOBO to pizza to indecent chats to emotional warming hugs :'). No matter what we say jokingly, truth is you are the best GSAA we have ever seen :) and one of the best friends I have ever got. But I guess by now you know I do a lot of that (I think? :P) Ever since then you've been someone who I can depend on! Getting to the essential things that I really want you to remember : a) Your voice does sound like a kitten, I don't know how but it's adorable! b) Jokes about your greatness are no longer funny :P c) You're very very important to me <3 I really look forward to an entire day of us just joking around! Whenever we've met, it was always just an amazing time and yes those walks were serene! Deep Karman Pal Singh : You're insti goals, the good boy of insti who's done it all (well, nearly?). Setting the bar far too high since 2016 (for me atleast). Your advice has been so important for me through the years, now that you have graduated, don't go around calling "consultation". Your work ethic is daunting, I don't know how you manage it. I hope you can still find time to help us out as the years go on!

Satyam Mohla : Man, you are one of the most genuine and down-to-earth people in insti I have met. Just nothing but helpful and kind and 100 other words that would still not be enough. Also the only other person who's listening to Giovaani's Hey Jude so yea, I mean I'd def fall short of words. We met in first year during academic council interviews and we have been up down a lot but last year we have really started interacting with you moving just next door. So glad this happened. In last 5 years I have always seen you as a kind leader, a changemaker but before everything else, a good friend. I am glad to have had you around and salut! to years to come.

Aditya Venkatraman : What does Anmol Gupta mean to me? Hmm. Lemme think. How about everything? I think I got so used to you being around and randomly popping into your room every now and then that it low-key broke me when you left, but that's okay. You've always been there for me and you continue to be and any sort of appreciation post for your wont suffice lmao. Thanks for trusting me with council work and all and giving me a chance to be a part of DN, which is something that will be with us till the end of days. Love you, boss man <3

It took me a while, but 'you are your number one' has kept me going on good days and bad, rooting for your number one game to be this strong too. :p You trusted me and had faith in our friendship last year this time around, thank you for that. I've not said this enough but I will always be a text/call/hi ayu away for you. Ah, I so wish we had connected earlier in insti. Team Anayurman and baazigar were the best and I cherish our hilarious case meets so much. Our last sem impactful plans couldn't take off sadly but happily looking forward to similar things and our blooming friendship in future. Ayu. <3

Hetvee Marviya : Heyy, even though I never really got to interact much with you I have always had a lot of respect for you. Having looked up to you since being a ugac coordinator, it was inspiring just to even know you and see your dedication towards everything you did in life. Love your spoken poetry and hope you keep on doing more. Tbh I was amazed by your writing skills when I saw you edit the grad lookback right there in 15 mins to give it a whole new look:p Also, looks like this suit photo is going to be the new ideal boy poster

Ritik Madan : Aur 'proverbial goodboi', you better be one ghar pe because Sanket and I are relying on you to wake us up on time, make breakfast and basically take care of us like you already kinda do? Does that make you duDDes ki Mumma? XD. Anyway, sometimes I think we're more similar than it seems but then your sleep cycle is like completely opposite to mine (yours being messed up ofc) and you're such a playboy in disguise. Tu dil ka kaafi accha hai and it's only obvious that people admire you so much. If only they knew that you thought that Murg Makhani and Butter Chicken are two different dishes because Murg and Chicken are obviously two different animals! Chal bye, kaafi attention de diya maine :P

Kavish Rathod : Yo Anmol! " Squash e? ", The message I am surely going to miss a lot! Well about 2 years with you in DN were too good, learnt a lot from you, one of the most respected person in the institute, yaar aapke liye Dil se respect hai! The godfather of DN :P, kuch bhi problem ho, Anmol ke pass jaakar solve karte hai. Surely going to miss those Champions league matches. Stay the same, hope jab insti aaoge toh football and squash dono khelenge. Thank you for all the help. PS- ab toh Mahabharata bhi khatam hone waala hai :/ PPS- The flute is still enhancing the ambiance of my room -231, the adjacent one :P

Raj Savla : Hello Anmol!! GOD ho yar ap. Sab jagah perfect?? I wish we had more interaction in our coordie-GS tenure. But eventually jab me apse interaction karne wala tha, tab ye lockdown aa gya. I really wish to get some life tips from you!

Darshan Tank : Yo Anmol! Nice observation xD That mediator thing is the story of my life else things can go awkward real quick :p I would have love interacting more with you but that's that now I guess. Thanks for sharing desserts (actually not) Stay in touch :D

Aditya Kasture : Hey man! The oldest memory we have of us is in the h16/15 and it was a conversation about sports injuries 😊 when I was injured too and how we had to watch the others play. I have always believed and I guess told a few people too, You really have been THE GUY to emulate if ever there was one from our entire batch. Have always admired your opinions. Also, I have real fond memories of Working with you too for project kuber (special cut to the parallel WhatsApp chats we had discussing how people roast others while actually being on the same call 😊) .. You have been an inspiration and you will continue to be.. looking forward to the times we get to work together again ♥

Deep Karkhanis : Hey! We probably never interacted outside of the council but you're dedication to your POR was really inspiring. Learned a lot from you, hope we had interacted more. All the best for the future and stay in touch...

Amogh Kawathekar : Wondering if I'm late here xD. I'm told to please write 2-3 lines. Here's to me having to live with the regret of not interacting with you as much as I would have wanted to. But at the end of the day, if we really had the chance to fix our past would we?

Varshit Kumar : Hi Coco(1)!! Thanks for always putting up with excellent procrastinating. ISAA tenure was undoubtedly the most fun time in my institute life, a significant reason being the independence you gave me throughout the tenure. We sure had our ups and downs but I am glad we're on terms better than ever. Tenure-start mail ka reply Job-start mail se hoga xD Tapri nahi yaar apan Curious Life challenge! :')
