Raghav Goyal : nigga! <3 there are so many things I admire about you bro! like seriously! BC!! Whatever conversations we have had, whatever shit we've talked about its been insane! Cheers to all the tut solving sessions, cheating in solid mechanics, to winning the arcade, to passing on the cats here and there, to making stupid jokes, to all the Surbahaar and other music club moments! Sorry about your guitar ;_ ; i did pay for the repairs :p

Aayushman Mishra : Yo man! One of the few i met here who have such a glowing personality. My best memory? duh destroying your base in Minecraft XD

Mudita Rana : We have mutual hatred for a professor and I'm glad I have company :p going through that course together and then the phase when we discovered our grades xD it was fun to have done that project with you. We haven't interacted much in these 4 years though I wish we did. You're super chill and i hope you have a good time wherever you go!!

Aditya Dev : Dude. The very first time we met, you were drunk and half naked at CTE concert XD. After that, I just kept hearing stories about an enthu af guitarist practicing his ass off. Then I meet you again at surbahaar after party, drunk yet again. This time we got high as well. Damn what a trip. Also, my first one. Dude, you have been such an inspiration for me and many others in insti. Not just in music and guitar. But in memes as well XD. Miss those days at roorkee. Loved the journey from being just a part of the club to becoming the very music scene with 7 string guitars and all. Hope to meet you in weebland oniisan

Tanmay Garg : Dhwanjjj, i still remember that post lab time clearly when you were forced into moving to 183 lol.. it was crazy, but never had I thought that we would end up at this stage, though the journey is far from over. From being room mates for a year and a half (179 truly was legendary) to almost everytime meeting at sunny or ad to having rooms with connected windows to ending up at the same company, it has been one amazing hell of a journey. For sure we are opposites, but for the first time I guess opposites have co existed so well lol.. looking forward to even better times in the future :) I sure don't need to say that we should try to stay connected because I know we will hahaha :p

Pranav Thakkar : Dude. You and Dev are the reason I cherish Roorkee so much. Inter IIT changed my insti life and I'm so glad we met there, even though it started with Dhwanj patches and lots of Floyd-Rose related bt xD you've always been a kick-ass guitar player and one of the most entertaining people to be around. I'll always cherish all the Sunny nights and greetings visits so much, I made a family in PP Problems and Symphony because of you and our fellow mates. We're definitely staying in touch and sharing obscure, insanely good music and super niche memes that I'll never understand lmao. Tu Japan aaja, you know you'll fit right in there and then we can hang endlessly!

Syed Zakiuddin : Dhwanjj, the naughty guy!. I don't know where to start, there are so many memories with you. From playing cricket and Skating to playing Ouija board in H16 wing. From the late-night canteen to wresting on the floor and MMA talks. From out of the world messages on Whatsapp to actual philosophical debates. From random shits, we do in lectures to bunking the class just for the sake of feeling the rain and cold wind with a tea. Man, I loved it all. YAAR the things you and Omkar do in Whatsapp and last page of the book I will never forget. You never stop putting smiles on other faces. you are my aggiN ! .Love you Yaar!

Prathamesh Patil : Dhwan kamine. Bahut kuch hai likhne ke liye, but sab kuch likh nahi sakte. There were times when we would easily have got a DAC. The wall painting, the long latex balloons, the flamethrower, the firecrackers and the bomb, bullying rawat and kadam, summoning french ghosts with ouija boards, long debates, people sitting on your laptop, Rajdhani chhas bet, ping-pong ball track in yojit's room, the youtube channel and a lot more. This was just in the first year. It would have been exponentially more had we been together for all 4 years. It was a hell of a ride with you nigga. Keep in touch and stay out of trouble.

Omkar Ingale : "Abe sun; Kitna Padha???" Felt like smashing your face in whenever I heard this hours before any quiz/midsem/endsem but at the same time it was a sigh of relief knowing ki apne se bhi gaye guzare log hai. The guy who single handedly introduced me to shows like the Office, Rick and Morty, Bojack and bands like Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin to name a few, in my freshie year. I am allegedly your partner in crime but all everyone sees in the videos is you. Sure wish we got to do more of that stuff before leaving. No matter how hard I(& Zaki) tried to stay as far away from your room as possible fate always got your room right beside mine. Keep doing random shit and blowing things up and stay in touch AGGIN!!!

Abhishek Rawat : Shit yaar I am getting soo emotional to write this even after the mental and physical torture I have been through thanx to you.....Man the awesome times we have spent whether it be our Little War of me stealing stuff from your room, or you doing those evil things omkar suggested clearly being the guinea pig to most of the pranks was fun.....Also thanx to you got to hear that bomb sexy rock guitar early in the morning.....Even now when I hear a knock on the door and hear someone laughing outside I suspect its you and omkar upto something.....I really wanted that drink to happen with the entire wing together but its okay I know we are gonna catch up soon and always stay in touch cause I know there are a lot of disgusting and mentally scarring memes to be sent by you to me. Also gonna miss you annoying me after every minute by asking ki exam ka pdhne mei kitne ghante lagengey....That drink is still on me lets catch up soon

Saloni Deodhar : Hello there! Dhwaj : the boy who cried simp before it was cool, Rings of Saturn worshipper, owner of circumsized guitar, terraria addict, recovering tetris & minecraft addict, master of "buying games on sale but never getting around to playing them", cocaine curious, destroyer of toxic gender roles, SEIZER OF THE MEANS OF PRODUCTION, slowest drinker in the observable universe, aspiring DnD DM, Katheen Kennedy hate club president, SUPREME LEADER of the formerly glorious pp problems & epic musician. Fucking love your vibe bro, you're a real one. Thanks for Led Zeppelin live stoned & VULFPECK. pls stop being broke once you become a slave to the banking clan, we shall watch your career with great interest. May the force be with you always.

Georgi Joseph Bobby : Unni Dr boby son 🙋♀️🙋♀️🙋♀️ Why man singal. Stay crazy till the next time 😁😄

Sarthak Sharma : Yo BC! I don't know if you remember this but I handled you outside H16 when you got wasted after 1st semester endsems :p cribbing about chemical profs and bunking classes together to chill on Kresit was amazing. Can't really count the number of times we have tried to study together minutes before a quiz or a night before some midsem/endsem. That CRE prep is something I'll always remember. We used to bump into each other a lot of time at Sunny's so let's hang out there again. Stay in touch bro!

Madhur Sudarshan : Okay, since my first post wasn't approved here's another go 0-0 You see... Dhwaj is like a gust of wind that knocks you way off your course but still gets you to your destination. A full journey unto himself, he's the one person in the institute that I don't ever have to explain references to. Dhwaj's room was my safe space in insti, and Dhwaj was my home away from home. All the late nights at arbit canteens, jams at H4 and SAC (will go down as legend in insti history), all our arguments, all our sunny and divine trips! I've learnt so much from this guy and shared so much of my life with him. I could always depends on you to be lazy Dhwaj, but I could also depend on you to be my best mate!

Jay Nalin Thakkar : All Hail The Supreme Leader. Hopefully i have been a loyal servant to PP Problems your highness. Thanks for all the amazing times man, You and Dev made the roorkee trip so awesome man(the award ceremony night was just divine XD). You were the main reason our Goonj performance was so awesome man!! Its a secret to everybody how we came up with the lyrics for the OC <3 Really going to miss the PP family. Stinky Poopy Funny

Aniket Ranade : bhai voh NSO ki shyaame, aur tune peheli baar phukaya hua gaanja mai to ni bhul paunga. paths diverge to hue par abhi bhi milte hai to ek familiarity reheti hai. daaru ni pi yaar kabhi saath mai bas ye reh gaya. mujhe voh walk yaad hai jab apan post office dhundne ke liye itna ghume the BC give up ho gaya tha. Convo ke time ek joint to saath mai banta hai! Cheers Mate!

Nutan Megu : bro if "cool" was a person it'd be YOU. u r cool ,an elite musician and yet ur HUMBLE like what!! we still havnt made a metal cover ... koi na... kbhi ho skta hai apan kisi metal cncert me mil jae.. .. dikhte bache jese ho but kafi playa hoap... _/__ wishing u well frenn

Bidish Ghosh : Bro, ye sab karna chhod de, it's really not good for you LOOOLLL idk what kind of funky story arc was going in the backdrop but like it makes for a nice story. I hope you remember the first weekend in insti, when all of us guys ended up going for an unplanned midnight outing through HN, begging Dominos to take our order :P Something really poetic about how you pulled through college; lets meet up once we're back in mumbai :D

Adwitiya Rao : Brooo YB pe kuch bhi likh ke no point, senti sirf sunny me you piece of shit. I am so damn glad that Rohan introduced me to you and the first time we met it was all music and booze. It's nice that you're in Mumbai, so looking forward to another year of Mom jokes, Gossip and stripping on the road. You've got a super chill vibe mahn, Always be yourself <3

Maitreya Khandagale : 2018 summers and Cholos maaan. Really wish I could've performed with you man. I'll see you in that Hexagon one day for sure xD
