Kumar Ashutosh : Yo Parth!! Right from the first year you have been awesome. You dream big!! And hats off to your very first project in insti - digital calculator (we even named him). Thanks for always being in touch. Taking and giving advice. Outings, treks and what not. Trek se yaad aaya you posted whole trek pics on fb - including all embarrassing pics lol. We were never wingies though :(you always had the next wing. Keep up this high spirit of thinking big. Enjoy your MS. We will be in touch for sure.

Bhishma Dedhia : Har bandhe ke insti life mein ek Parth jaisa banda hona chahiye! Kaafi fun loving, pop culture enthusiast, meme lord and bakchodhi mein saath dene vaala. However jab kaam karna hota hai this guy can magically transform into the most focused person in the room. Kaafi projects saath mein kiye and bhaisahab aapne jo machaya hai sab mein _/_ (remember DIP project?) Itna lukha kaatte the milkar ki deadlines ka stress hi nikal jaata tha (MGK vs eminem diss kitna discuss kiya tha yaad hai?) Tera dedication, creativity and hardwork inspiring rahe hai! US mein milte rahenge and california mein jaroor roadtrip maareng. I can bet you'll be an inventor of the next billion dollar idea! Machate raho!

Sarthak Consul : Hey Parth! You're a man of many talents: cat-whisperer, pro-coder, hidden meme lord and an awesome friend. I am lucky to have met you from the first year itself. Thanks for bearing with my incessant bugging about your DIC in the first year - I owe my branch selection to you! We've literally done almost every course (and it's project) together! Cheers to your magical ability of debugging after napping which is literally the end of almost every all-nighter. I owe many a grade to you! Thanks for being my best friend and let's continue our adventures together over at California!

Deepak Gopalan : We started hanging out from sophie year, starting with discussing Devices and Networks ke assignments and went to gobbling up insane amounts of pizza together while gossiping lol. Being in opposite rooms this year, we have gotten even closer! Of all the people I scare with my anxieties of the future, you are probably the one I scared the most. As a fellow lover of 'The Office,' and a lot of different anime series, I have enjoyed all our discussions about them! Your low-effort memes and our 'Ethical investigations' are all so much fun. I'm glad we TA'd for MA 106 together! The prof made the training sessions very slow and boring (That's what she said - Michael Scott lol), and they were bearable just because of you! I'm glad we are both moving to the same state. See you there soon!

Pranil Joshi : Parth broo! EDL buddy and in-general craxx-machaxx launda lol. Also, fellow pseudo-BC junta. We've had so many good times together (about 80% of those were in labs haha). You're a really dedicated guy who deserves everything he has ever gotten in life. And you're really fun to be around, once you've overcome that silent, broody mood of yours. I've seen you stressed out at times, and you do NOT handle it well xD xD (like your first GRE). So chill maar thodasa, you're craxxing your way through life enough to make everyone jealous of you. Hope to see you soon, in India and abroad!

Yashvardhan Didwania : Parth mere bhaini, ye last sem kaafi epic hua apna. Roz TT khelna , mess me Office dekhna, aur fir room me beer and chips ke saath Office dekhna <3 nothing can top that. Insti khule to ek baar firse set krte hai. Tere interests kaafi diverse hai and that's what makes you such an interesting person to hangout with. Obviously this is after your regular stress taking. GRE mess up krne ke baad tune mujhe kaafi pareshan kiya. All the best for your future man, touch me to rahenge hi through our "club".

Nisha Brahmarkar : Hey Parth! Apparently we had NSO together :p The ipad guy is what I used to call you in dsp xD We have had a lot of fun interactions in courses, dept trek, starbox outings and at random junctions :p You are a really helpful and soft-spoken person. Keep up the sincerity and MS me bhi machana! :))

Sudhanshu Meena : Ummed sab badhiya. Sabse Pehle first day in convocation mei tere se hi mila tha as far as I remember. Baki toh aise hi padhte raho , maje karo. 🙌

Navnit Kumar : "Paarth yr tussi jaa rhe ho ? Tussi na jao. " Oh I can't express how much I want you to stay but life has to go on. Insti would not be the same without you. Always my padosi and goto person for everything : snacks, advice, meaningful and meaningless discussions, Movie nights, and TT and our love for kitty is unfathomable. All the best for your life. Cheers

Apoorv Kishore : Yo Parth... we have had so much fun together <3 Starting from our Mohammad Ali days to recently in every Birthday Party, through tough exams and also through classes. You are so fun to be around, a great listener and always in the mood to laugh and joke. I admire your abilities to shine in academics along with keeping your party mood on, i dont know how you manage to do that. What i respect the most is that you are very dedicated and motivated, you will achieve gr8 things bro. Good luck for MS, body banake jaana and mujhe bhi bulana... :P :P stay in touch <3

Aniket Bhatia : Heyy! I've known you since 10th or 11th class, and you've been the same hardworking person that has gotten you here and that'll surely take you to great heights!! You're this silent slayer, who doesn't talk that much, but aces everything! At the same time, you're so down to earth and kind!! Wish you all the best for everything!! :D
