

“ ”

AYUSHI PANGHAL

Metallurgical Engineering &
Materials Science

Abhyuday | Athletics | Fourthwall

Yearbook
2020

Radhika Tibrewala : Hi ayu! Have had some amazing most memorable memories with you, specially on our first trek to kalsubai! Actually got to know you there and that's where it all began. It's sad that we haven't been talking alot since some time now, but i'll always be you well wisher and i'll always cherish the beautiful memories we've made in the past! I wish you all the very best for life ahead and keep being the strong caring individual you are. More colors and balloons for you future <3

Gali Meghana : Hey there gutter boi, From not showering for days to reading a whole book about skincare you've come a long way xD I've had the pleasure of irritating you for 5 whole years :) To all the pacts, sibling treats, weird qissa tune, infinite fights, lot's of drunk nights, bole chudiyan choreos and a hell lot of giggles. You've always motivated me to do my best and I'm glad I met this cute potato who's this strong woman who'll fight for what's right. There's a lifetime left to irritate you, so I wouldn't say goodbye, a beginning remember? Lots of love, Meghujaan.

Anmol Gupta : Hi AU. Have definitely come a long way from competing over being the No. 1 :P It was fun tho XD. You were very helpful in keeping me calm last year around this time, thank you so much that :) And again, Team Anayurman was the best XD. Placements, ah - still can't get over those hilarious case meets (Amazon rainforest :P). Also, just sad that "Us" couldn't take off in our time :/ (wish we had connected earlier in insti). Perhaps something similar in future? :)) Raghav Goyal : Hey Ayushi! You're a really sweet person! We've had some amazing moments together from me messing up the "church wala case" to all our conversations on WhatsApp! It's been fun talking to you and hanging out with you! Looking forward to catching up with more often! :) take care! Thank you for all the life advice and for everything else!

“.”

AYUSHI PANGHAL

Metallurgical Engineering &
Materials Science

Abhyuday | Athletics | Fourthwall

Yearbook
2020

Ishita Shah : Heyyy! You're an amazingly strong and beautiful person. It would make me a better person if I was more like you :) I hope we get to carry out our plans and that you get placed in bombay, hehe! sunflower emoji <3 Risha Agarwal : Ayushi, I don't think we've ever even met properly, apart from bumping into each other here and there a few times I guess, but from whatever I've known about you, through people, through the internet, through your words - I know you're a really beautiful, pure, and kind soul. It's amazing how someone I've never really had a face to face interaction with, can inspire me so much! I hope you always find happiness in things like sunflowers and doggos and your friends, and I'm wishing you more of it 🌻 goodluck :) Oh and I've bookmarked that post and I'm gonna send it to you whenever consult life is taking a toll on us :P

Naman Chindaliya : I am blessed to have an inspirational manager maa and senior like you. Thanks for giving us the chance to prove ourselves. You were constant motivation for me to give my best, Abhyuday or otherwise, coz aapne single handedly itna machaya tha. Thanks for helping me with my internship. Aap jaise seniors blessing hote hai life mae. Keep in touch 💜

Harshita Verma : Hey there girl!!!! My only lab partner jisne mujhe pareshan nai kiya 😂. I remember in labs you coming to me n asking bro kuch kaam hai kya nai toh mein nikal jaau n I used to be like haa kuch hua toh I'll call 😂. Also let's not forget the ED labs one of us doing jugad and the other one was drawing...that was one hell of a lab 😂. In between all that we became friends. It was really nice meeting you n specially at the end when we were co-TAs 😂. One thing I admire about you is your professionalism. Also stay the happy n cheerful kind it suits you best 😊. And all the best for future and do stay in touch 😊.

“ ”

AYUSHI PANGHAL

Metallurgical Engineering &
Materials Science
Abhyuday | Athletics | Fourthwall

Yearbook
2020

Shashank Sarvan : Hey pangs/sush, thanks for adding the 'extra spice' in my insti life (pun intended). You've come a long way from being known as parvati :) The runs we went on in 3rd year are some of the best evenings I've ever had. The countless adventures we've had from that sofar concert in b'llore to witnessing people do their business at versova; the time we've spent together has been anything but uneventful. And it's all thanks to the energy you bring. Thanks for being at my corner through placements with the last min case preps :) Your strength and perseverance is something I've always silently admired (as well as your tolerance towards specific liquids xp) The music is just starting to get louder :)

Avani Mangal : If a senior has inspired me with her pure heart and love that she spreads around, Its you panghal!! Eversince I've met you, you awestruck me with everything that you do, every way you take up things, be it solving cases, or real life issues. I've shared one most beautiful pie of my insti life with you. Seminar and khosla lectures were fun to be hrs. for us XD It's your natural instinct to smoothly go through every ups and downs that come your way. I adore you for everyhting. You are that one senior I could reach out to and you made me feel weightless after our talk (remember how bothered I was after case with Uplabdh). I couldn't have survived day 1 without you. Pls be in touch, Love u 4eve

Mrunal Chavan : Yo Ayushi!!It ws always fun to have u as my roommate & a much needed long distance running partner.♥♥Well if it wasn't for u it would've been difficult to survive those shin pains, tiring stairs, difficult up hill runs.😅I remember u always saying bas thoda hi baki hain ho jaega.😁Tbh u praising our team seniors ws d reason I gave athletics NSO trials & wanted to join d team. Nihal's treat, night out leading us to Sameer hill ws an unplanned amazing time.😁Though we didn't connect that well bt I've always admired ur way of life. U r an amazingly unique person. I wish we gt a chance to connect again. Macahte rehna & always stay d same cheerful & optimistic person that I know u r. Lots of lub♥♥

“.”

AYUSHI PANGHAL

Metallurgical Engineering &
Materials Science
Abhyuday | Athletics | Fourthwall

Yearbook
2020

Nutan Megu : I just wana say , i have always only swooned over your absolute beauty. i know u r much more than just that. but that is seriously all i think about. Ayushi Panghal= Greek Goddess of beauty

Mookund Sureka : It was nice to know you a bit in the final year. Your enthusiasm towards the social sector is _/_-^-. I will always remember those disaster cases which I did with you😂😂. Any way, I wish you all the very best for the future and hope you'll enjoy your corporate endeavor:)

Komal Swami : Hi Di! Sorry, I still call you Di and not by your name🙏 You have been a constant support for me since the time I had not even entered insti. In my first days of insti, when everything here seemed very alien, you came and made me feel comfortable and less worried about the forthcoming days. Then we have been constantly in touch because of Abhyuday. You were the one who introduced me to Abhyuday and see I have come a long way. You are an amazingly sweet person, insti aate rhna and milte rhna.

Ritik Madan : Hey, this is a coupon with lifetime validity which redeems an extra special letter in the best of my handwriting. Wishing you all the happiness in the world and so much more :')

Sarthak Khandelwal : Panghal! That night in Sunny and the adventures later were too much fun! "Handling a rolling ball of fun" XD It was fun attending lectures with you, especially the endless and unlimited extra lectures of Process and Control XD Too bad we couldn't see the end of the really really adventurous MM 650 :P You and Ishita are placed in Mumbai itself, maybe our Sunny plan can still happen! :D

“ ”

AYUSHI PANGHAL

Metallurgical Engineering &
Materials Science

Abhyuday | Athletics | Fourthwall

Yearbook
2020

Sanket Agrawal : Ayuuushhiii! All I knew before meeting you was how sweet you are and your love for pandas and balloons!! :) But once I got to know you I realized that you are one gem of a person :) You are very smart, very calm, open minded and funny :) That outing to theobroma really provided some vvv cute pictures :) Wo toh Beijing jaana padhta isliye nhi jeete, itne corona main kon travel krta! ;P I will always remember the Gullu wali meet, in some way it was really good for me too. I got a chance to introspect myself and improve :) Let's catch up as soon as we come back to mumbai and then keep repeating it again and again xD I really wish we become closest friends :) Forever, Tidda <3

Neeraj Sohani : Hey Pingu! I owe you a lot. If you hadn't helped me that 6th of November a year and a half ago, my life would've been completely different and definitely for the worse. So thank you <3 I also thank you for helping and supporting me in this year's AIDS. I know that performance meant a lot to both of us. I wish we had talked more in the previous years of our college but we kinda thodu sa made up for it in the final year. I wish you all the happiness in the world because you deserve it for being such a sweet sweet pingu. Main nahi bhulunga tujhe, tu mat bhuj jaana okay? Stay happy and spread happiness anywhere you are <3 Love always, Pingu

Kushal Mittal : Hi Ayushi! I remember that day you motivated me to become abhyuday manager and I'm so glad you did. You have always motivated me since then and it has helped me a lot. Thanks for setting an example before handing over the responsibility to me and chindi. I don't know how you managed it alone, hats off _/_ Single treat ke liye itni fight maari thi yaad rahega xD Hoping to hang out more, see you soon <3

