Plus one year of working together in department student council was fun. I appreciate the way you used to engage friends from first year for departmental activities like newsletters. Discussion with you used to be very interesting in topics you have already mentioned.. 🙌🙌

Uss dinn, sadak pe tujhe pakadke jo royi thi, mein kabhi nahi bhulungi buggie. Thanks for all the comfort. We no humans. Everest pe milenge. <3<3

Swagatika Priyambada : You are one of the true gentleman I have met. You know how to treat girls and show respect to them. Other boys should learn from you. Sameer Kulkarni : Ultimate source of calmness and patience! Brother in book reading, a silent MTP partner and the person who steered me towards entrepreneurship. Extraordinary orator, yearn to learn new things and your dedication are commendable. We will have to work on your time management though. I started mimicking others only after listening to your Wagle Sir's vocal mimicry. Let me tell you one thing, you are one of those few who knows and speaks better Marathi than me. Would love to travel and explore the world with you always. But for now, the mountains and forts are calling and we must go! Janmabhumi wegli hoti doghanchi pn I hope karmabhumi ekach asavi nehmi.

Prashant Jorwal : Aapke saath bas paf ki hi memories hai, usme bhi aap practice karne me busy the. Bahut acche insan ho aap, kaafi dedicated and sincere bhi. ♥

Sakshi Pandey : You are young. You can dream. And for some time you let me into your dreams. And I want to thank you for that! All the best & take care!

Naveen Markam : First person to meet in the IIT...humble and always cheerful....all the best for your future bro..

Nishant Chaudhary : Best parts of any journey are usually the unplanned ones. Particularly true for my journey at the institute. One such random encounter was with you at Durga Cafe, later running into at SoM and lecture complex over these two years, Every little conversations we had there added to my list of different aspects worth exploring at the institute. Your suggestion about CITARA sure helped me get a different kind of academic exposure and meet some awesome people, both professors and coursemates. The sincerity and enthusiasm with which you approach things is great buddy, keep that spirit alive. Wish you success in your pursuits and joyous contentment in life.
