Goru Meher Ritesh Kumar : Yo Praneeth, remember I used to call you EP for the first two years ? Even though we all tease you for your fluctuating opinions and choices, you always had your priorities correct, and I admire you for that. I can't wait to meet you after lockdown and have a badminton showdown with you. I have much more to write, but I'll save them for our discussions in Japan as we are gonna be Roomies :)

Singampalli Rohith : Hey Praneeth , I really had a lot of fun playing pubg with you and ofcourse u had ur own japanese squad with you. Stop eating food from outside all the day and start learning japanese. I still remembered me knocking on ur door everyday and u r in the same position and those funny moments and i wish we had some more time in the insti. All the best for ur future achievements. Keep smiling and i'll always be there whenever u needed noob

Rahul chunduru : Yeah, living 3 years with someone brings them closer than I thought. It was a roller coaster at all times. I am really lucky to have you as my roommate. But first, I won't believe you watch more tennis. more baddy? maybe. It was extraordinary how our fights quickly dissolve and made our bond stronger. you are a formidable TT player, nadal to my federer in baddy. You take much less credit for what you do and what you can do, buddy. DIC project was fun, DLD project was even better. I will remember "Egg burji char plain parata", our conflicts, there were many times you surprised me, really. All the best in future and your first job. Let's keep in touch, definitely. (^w^)

Naveen Kumar Yalal : "Hi ra praneethu, navvara please" Nuvvu nee navvu thope ra babu, alane kanivvu.
