Harsimran Kaur : Titaash! We have had numerous scientific discussions and I have thoroughly enjoyed it with you. Your passion for science is amazing and it inspires me a lot. You have so much knowledge about so many things and you have an amazing learning ability too. I just wish you stop underestimating yourself. You are hardworking and intelligent. Just a little clumsy which I think can be managed easily. You are amazing and You should know that!

Rumjhum Mukherjee : Tor banshi r shobar bepare overwhelmingly care kora is something excellent about you. You are always willing to help and also unperturbed by accepting your mistakes, if you go wrong! And "eigulo e toh mone thakbe re" actually things to remember forever! Khub bhalo thaak r banshi bajate thak only to grow better with each day! :)

Sayan Roy : Titash, you are truly a talented person. I love your flute playing. I really hoped to discuss far more political and societal topics with you. Hope to be in touch with you in future.

Aparna Singhal : Titash you are one of the best boy I have ever met in my whole life...I am pleased by your loyalty towards Pallavi..😊..you are very hardworking, talented person I met...Your dedication towards learning everything in great detail with crystal clear concept is much appreciated...Your instrument playing skill is next level..Apart from that your fresher memory is one of the greatest memory I can recall now..Fracture k bawzood bhi itna accha perform krna was very heart touching...wish you success in life...😊

Priya Kumar : Hi Titash. I believe the most time we've spent talking has been during mess meals. You have a kind heart and a smart brain. The questions you used to ask during lectures were praiseworthy - I often wished I could question science the way you did. Your curiosity will surely take you someplace big! I enjoyed your honest talks and your dedication towards learning new things (such as the lanchak!). I wish you the best for your future! :-) Abhishek Datta : Pakka unmad balok, shara prithibi r enthu tor e shristi. You are the living example of "practice makes perfect". An encyclopedia of guns, geography and history. Tor moto concept r ekjonn er ache amar dekha, Rahul. You are like a bulldozer to reality. You are meant to cross all boundaries. Wish we could spend more time in campus. Take care of others but also yourself. Trip abhi baaki hai ;) And one last thing, don't ever change, its very important.

Pradip Karmakar : tituuuu...I love u ... tere bare me kia hi bolu me ,,,u are like my own brother, more than 5 yrs friends we are ... bohoot vola hai re tu and simple v... i love your dedication towards whatever u like ... i dont wanna say anything about your knowledge ; u are not comparable to anyting , like a human computer ... thanks for always helping me whenever u could and also thanks for teaching me many crazily tough concepts in biochem, chem, and biology ...tera us hizi bizi kora aka khatai concept boja was fun !! 700 characters wont be sufficient to write about our friendship ... tor kache bhat boke toke jalate hvy lage amr ...karon eai guloi toh mone thakbe ...

Rohan Kumar Parida : U'r the most energetic & unstable person I've evr seen who stays in excited state most of tym. Whn U radiate energy while coming down to ground state, it's so bright tht I can't c. In case of H18, I'll say "mere samne wali kamre me ek suraj ka tukda rehta h". ☀️ An exceptionally talented boy with calculator like brain & gifted voice. Ur gyan in history, geography, literature etc r unmatched. U r really gd at learning things in music. I cn nvr forget ur unique dance style, plz give a name to tht. I blv u cn reach many heights in biochemical field, punekar ka beta. i cnt describe our bro-hood in words so dnt hesitate to share anything. dnt take stress, keep patience. Enjoy life, be happy always Sreyashi Mandal : Titash. Ki boli tor byapare. You have always been like my little brother, so mischievous yet undeniably adorable. You are a really kind person and the human version of an encyclopedia. Discussing geography and music with you was always fun. I will forever cherish our shared love for food. The late night lake side strolls and sudden dessert cravings at Y-point will always top the list of fond memories of you. Lots of love and best wishes for your future. :)

Soumili Sarkar : Undoubtedly the Gem of BSBE. You are one hell of a God-Gifted talent. You have the biggest heart, I repeat the biggest. you are the definition of Loyalty. I bet your knowledge for rudiments and Basic Science, knows no boundaries. I'll surely miss the late night conversations over pizza and French fries on 6th Floor. Your thirst to venture new things is worth appreciating. Your enthusiasm is what I respect. You shall always be the sharpest mind for me, because it got reflected while we had real life conversations. In short..you are the awesome-est. I love the raw version of yourself. Stay true, stay you, brother. Undoubtedly, you'll reach heights. This is one of the many bonds that I will never wi

Lisha Awasthi : Hey Titash!! I guess everyone would have written this about you that you are pure soul..because you are..i will always remember the care you showed when we all went to visit sameer hills for first time..you hold my hand all the time to make sure i don't fall down.. i admire you from that day ...i love patience you showed while explain us concepts in biophysics lab♥.. you are unique, have style of your own..stay same always

Rohit Kumar : panne bhar jaynege ayee mere dost jb bhi teri yaad aayegi , likh likh kr thak jaunga phir bhi teri kmi na km ho payegi , mai khusnasib hu jo tu meri zindagi mai aaya, kisi k liye insaan or mere liye farista bn kr aaya . y to bs tere liye intro tha. i have seen many guys but never seen anyone like you before.you are spiritually as well as scientifically balanced. wo bolte hai na mathe(HEAD) se tej kiran(divine light) nikl rhi bilkul waise hi. tu bhut mehnati hai or tera talent in singing and playing instruments is very astonishing ... i have seen the burning desire in you to overcome the obstacles. one day u will learn the art of being patience and to be feared is ok my friend. stl lot 2 sa

Shalini Tyagi : Thank you for your cycle rides. You are an amazing person. My favourite memory of you (I don't know if you remember) is when we met on the road a night before molecular biology exam. Saw the saptrishi constellation. Talked about some stories and some philosophies. With the extremely little interaction that we have had, I realised you are an honest person filled with so much care for everyone. Also, a very curious classmate. Your questions have many times changed my perception for certain topics. Also, I remember your visiting at the hospital when you were yourself not well. Stay blessed. Stay happy. All the best for all your future endeavours :)

Rahul Shaha : Titash bhaaaaaai, tere ko dekhta hu to realise hota hi life kaise jini chahiye bhaai tu eklota aisa bnda hai meri life jiski mai as a human koi kami nahi nikal skta tera dil bhaaut bada hai, hmesha bindas khulke jine wala plus tujhe khush rhne k liye kisi ki zarurat nahi hai tu ek example hai jisse sbko seekhna chahiye ki life mai problem se kaise deal Krna chahiye.. or teri language mai to teri taraf dekha nahi jata itni roshni nikalti tujhme se... You are one of those most wonderful people I am not going to forget.

Jeyapriya T J : Oh my lab partner! 700 words are limited for you. Our bond started from Sameer hills. You were holding my hands so that I wouldn't fall but things went opposite just like our bond now. I was confused about which lab to choose. Then thought, "Ok titash is in this lab, then I'll also go there. He will give me company" that's how I ended up in that lab. And, that made all the differences. I never thought we would become friends but you've become my brother from another mother. So many exploration with you; Foods, places, night cycling. You care and make each and everyone around you special. Whenever you ask questions in the lab, I always admired how you come with your answer. You learn everyt

Neeraja .P.S : Titash! You have treated me like your own sister from the time we met and I love you for that. You are the most transparent person I met. Please don't change.
