M Arun Kumar : can some one live with zero contact ? i think he can, give him 2 desktop screens, laptop and mobile he will keep all of them running with game on mobile, simulation on 1 desktop screen, journal paper(along with many tabs in browser) on other and youtube with manga or some video just to act as back ground. When we first met him(in lab), all our lab mates thought him to be weird and crazy. It took us long to get to him, then we got to know how capable he is. He does all the lab work alone (which is supposed to be done by 3 people) and then takes a shit load of extra courses just for time pass and finishes them with AA or ABs. Be lazy as you are, do things in your style, be crazy.
