Gautam Sharma : Met her on the very first day at IITB during orientation. Her principle "keep smiling". Survived on momos during mood indigo. Best wishes!! Keep smiling!!! God bless her!!

Krutika Talegaonkar : Hey pretty pretty gujju girl!! The most innocent and pure hearted girl I have ever met!! We used to hang out a lot in first semester. Baad me bhi jab bhi milti hai toh smile bhi karti hai hamesha. Final year me bhi emagica aur kalsubai gye saath me apan. U have a great level of patience and calmness girl!! I hope you get success in all your dreams and please Shaadi pe bulana mat bhulna. 2 states miss nhi karna meko!! Baki keep smiling

Rahul Pramjeet : There is a limitation of 700 words, so I will keep it short. It is said that Mumbai fulfill all dreams and indeed it happened. I got everything in my life which I could possibly imagine and that includes you. Meeting you over a samosa to cooking food together, we have seen everything. When I first saw you, I knew that you have a golden heart and you are an epitome of kindness and love. Not to mention, how blessed I am to find a beautiful partner in you. We have come a long way and I wish our journey of togetherness never ends. College ended abruptly, didn't get the chance to see you off but it's just a pause and will see you very soon. Wish you all the success and happiness in life.

Bharti Arora : Ye ladkii bas dikhtii hii shariif haii... Those naughty eyes. That evil innocent laugh. I've never had such a compatible roomie. Poori raat memes, endless gossip, fir poora din sona, kabhi mess naa jaana, our extremely clean room, never washed clothes, frequent bf fights, joining up for exercise and never finishing, getting attention from random niibbas and judging them together.... How could we be so similar? I take this opportunity to ask for endless apologies: Sammer hill tere bina chali gayii... tere bday par ghumne nikal gaii... Bhot baar disaapoint kiya hai maine tujhe... aur fir tu achese gaali bhi nhii detii. Shaadi kar yaar jaldii se... We need a batch reunion.
