You were the first person I spoke to in the college and it must have been fate, because a better choice couldn't be made. Your love for technology and drive to learn are inspiring. Your RnR makes you all the more endearing. Interop and the Youth Conclave were highlights, but there are too many memories to mention., of course we will keep making more. Shreya Sethi : Oh! GIS lab is going to be one of my most hilarious times. That one time when I could get onto the nerves of a TA. :D. So much fun. Well there are some people you just meet and you feel you know them, it was one of those times I guess but I do have my own selfish reasons to stick around ;) (just kidding). I met you almost in your final sem which is kind of sad :(but, I still have so many doubts (GIS) so you can be rest assured, no matter whichever datum (Datum: is an ellipsoid) you use, I will find your geolocation (you are a great teacher you know that now!) and I will bug you. :D Your are full of surprises and i shall be looking forward to more from you as a friend and professionally too
