Chainika Chauhan : Hey Picasso!! When I met you for the first time, I never thought we could ever be such good friends. I used to think that you're a serious person and I'm just opposite. But with the passage of time, we became best friends since *opposite attracts *. You're caring, friendly but lack sense of humour(I think 'm the only one who told you this) . And you know what is the best thing that you are pragmatist. Stay the same. OMG!! I just wonder how did you tolerate such a short-tempered girl like me 😊 You have a lot of patience. I will miss our useless arguments 😊, night walks(though very rare 😊) etc. Different but bestfrnds ♥ Partners in crime 😊 Will always miss you!! Good Luck 🎉

Harishankkar GK : first thing that comes to my mind about you is the first thing that I noticed about you..yes that deep bassy "ha ha ha" :P i should thank you for those awesome discussions though some of them ended with stupid arguments :D I enjoyed all your mocking at me and I miss them too! ur love for art and nature is very impressive..may you become a great artist in life(don't worry physics will follow :D) all the very best for your future!

Amrit Prittam Nayak : It all started with a damn "ciggi" and then evolved with time. The word "disgusting" just got redefined by you because you presented every such thing in the most artistic form. Talks about Goa will always bring back flashes of memories. The inside jokes will always be missed. The late night discussion about what you know in room no-280 was very insightful. 😊 I am glad that you are a part of this noice journey. One last thing: Don't worry if you ever run out of water. We all have got your back. 🤪

Mouli Hazra : Hey Mr. JOydeep....u r such wonderful person..in heart as well as brain..I love ur sense of humour..u r smart, u r intelligent and u r handsome 😊..a suggestion to u.. take care of ur health..my best wishes to u... have a nice journey...stay connected... 😊

Neeraj Kumar : Do we really need words to communicate? Well. I don't think so, neither you, I believe. What does friendship mean? I don't ponder on this anymore. Will I miss you? Asking this doesn't even make any sense. You are a complete person with extraordinary skills... Hindu and Stephens are hardly 50 meters away, but we met here, at IITB, which makes it unique in itself. I'll miss our long overnight talks, evening walks, shopping together, and of course Colaba trip. I can never say goodbye to you. You are a very special friend , a pure friend.

Lovish Gulati : Aeee Joydeep...bro!!!..gangaanagar k Rajkumar.😂😂...you have a great sense of humour👍...u are in so many memories of my IIT life...bhut mjedaar tha apna Goa ka trip...vo bike rides.🤪...i will really miss...vo sunny jaake..fir boat house jaate hue.baate krna...kabhi bhi ulte seedhe questions krk tang krna ik doosre ko😂...may u get what you want in your life...bs yeh dosti aesi hi rehnni chahiye..

Marnya Lomi : Hey Jaydeep Bro! Starting with the conventional formalism I have used , I remember the day we encountered. Remember? You kinda lost your key and I think katem was out. We tried hard to break it up, the lock. :) Firstly, you are one hell of an artist. Keep up the good and beautiful work! Keep on sharing. I remember the day you let me create something on your art book. Thanks for that. Just be the way you are. You can speak and express yourself out. That's a nice quality. You have been a wonderful friend and infact a good listener. I wish you all the best for the life ahead. Suddenly series of never ending events turned into memories. P.S. I will be in touch! 🤗

Rohit Kumar : Hi Artist bro, I was so impressed by your skill when frist time I saw ur panting on the sameer hill (remember?). And from that day I became a fan of you. I wish, I hope and I am very sure that you will reach great heights in your life. I like your away of thinking and tackle new problems, keep it up bro....Or bro aapki vo chocolate abhi udhar h 😂😂or our party plan also went out of the box 🤪.....or vese bhi ab to aapki job lag gyi h pese bhejta rhna bro khrche ke 🤗😂😂 All the best bro for your future, keep smiling and rocking 🤗❤️
