Ankur Tiwari : Dear Sis... I'm just writing this so that when u turn back in future here so u don't get annoyed that I didn't write anything for you 😊. I don't know how our sibling bond developed but I must say it's not less. This is just a flashback to the number of secrets we shared, laughed and worried together. Be it our TA work or 3 musketeers group, work, talks n long talks... Masti with Mohan sir we shared all.... To the movies I made u see and the fights 😊. How it worked but yes as my first status from first rakshabandhan said... My sis frm south.... 😊 I don't think that will ever loose it's charm. This bro will keep on bugging you long.... Stay safe and blessed 😊 baki we can chat I think im do

Debiprasad Bhakta : Bhuji, chota packet bada dhamaka. Really what we thought initially, you were not like that and we are happy for that 😊. This is the person who screams and laughs for no reason, (don't) jumps here 😊 and there always and famous for helical piles. You have a great voice, you should keep nurturing that. Though, inspite of our so many requests, you are not singing bow a days. Will miss your jolly and friendly nature and always smiling face. Though I haven't forgot that you people went to boat house without informing us 😊😂. Take care and best of luck for your future. 😊

Mohd Raza : Anushka or Anjushka oops its Anjusha this sums up our first few weeks of friendship. You are the reason that “Bawara mann” is one of my fav song because you sing it so well. The most scared girl of our class, the whole theatre used to get scared because of your screams. We were always in same group for so many projects. Did our labs together and never got bored. The project ppt in H3 common room. So many memories are there. Btw i am always in favour of woman empowerment so i never underestimated you. Stay in contact ANJUSHA.

Jasmine Lokesh K G : Everyone including my parents were deluded by u! And my parents still are!! U r the quite opposite of PAAVAM. Duh! We loved each other so much that I once broke ur tooth or lips whatever(there was too much of bleeding involved is all I remember :D) and u kicked me like a soccer ball -_- Its sheer luck that I got a night owl like u for a roommate. From studying to zumba sessions to covering songs on guitar - we did it all past 10 pm!! And no classes means waking up to make it up to at least the lunch hour. U r the only person (and Debi perhaps) in the entire insti who I know would at least listen to whatever I say rather than barging with ur own story! Shine bright like a diamond in the sky!

Neeraj Kumar Burugupelly : Kariyadan is one of few persons who patiently listens to all that I say. A diehard fan of helical piles 🤔. More than a friend. The best thing about you is that you laugh at your own mistakes. The way you take things is classy. I don't remember how many times I pushed you upon doing things, thanks for tolerating me. I am very sure about your potential to do things. You have a wonderful voice and do foster it . We will definitely do a cover one fine day. I always consider you as a lil sister! Let's meet soon and if possible shoot the cover song ASAP :). Till then take care of yourself.

Suchismita Das : Anju!! My cameo dene wali Gym partner. You are an extremely humble and a kind soul. Keep doing the lockdown Zumba classes. You have got what it takes. Your Guitar(Sitar) handling skills in Jazzz's Karaoke session was really commendable. Thank you for the mirror(Boohoo Jazzz). Lots of Love . Say hi to Vinoy <3

Rajiv Kumar Saw : May be we first talked during matheran trip. Your calm & composed personality with naughty mind is pretty cool. I just left speechless when i heard a song which is very closely attached to my heart "Bavra man dekhne chala ek sapna" from you. You also have a very soothing voice. Best wishes for your future.

Tejaswini Satya Chinthagunti : Hey Anjusha! You are such a warm and sweet person to hang out with. Thanks for making all my trips memorable and happy. The whole Geotech Fam is wonderful and I owe you people a lot. All the best for your bright future and stay healthy. : D

Ramakanta Behera : Anjushaaaaa.... Really you r a good friend yar. I enjoyed many chai pe charcha whether it may be at nescafe or once in gullu and i guess in our canteen also. As teju rightly said, we are fortunate enough to find you guys to which we have enjoyed few trips with you all. You are like simple living high thinking. I remember whenever we meet you use to give a 🍷 to my tummy👤 to decrease it, but i cant, thats impossible. Ha ha. I always saw u 3 (jasmine, u and dhanisha) together. I wish you a bright future and haste rehna muskurate rehna.... 😊

Abhik Mandal : Remember in cc lab one day you said we are pangalii.. I thought what this girl is saying.. Cause you know yours is the toughest language to me...I will not understand anything even if I already know the story😊 We spent a lot of time bitching about profs. in CC😂😂 Everyday at 4.30pm you asked "chai ??" I wonder how a person gets hungry so fast😋 Keep smiling 😊 Stay happy 🙌🙌
