Mudita Rana : Hi Karunya, I'm going to miss seeing you around in the hostel and having those quick chats whenever we'd see each other. I think you're beautiful inside out, and I'm always left smiling after our conversations. We've also danced a bit in our time together in insti, if you remember :p I hope you succeed in all your future endeavors 🍷 stay in touch!

Subha Govindaraj : Heyyyyyy! I love every moment I spent with you these 4 years, and I'm sure this friendship will long. Doesn't matter where you are, buying your ice-cream for your birthday or Doughnuts, I'll try to make your birthday a little more special. Thank you for having my back on valentine's day when we gorged on waffles and laughed out loud sitting there in Powai lake with a beer from Laxmi. Let's hope we finish the surfing course soon <3

Rashi Gupta : Heya roomie!!! I remember our first meeting, and when I was homesick, and so much more... There're so many memories we had together, and a lot more on the wayyy Oh, how much I love you r style, right from day 1!!! Stay the awesome and stylish person you are...And cheers to all the good times ahead of you 💙

Aarcha Suresh : Meh. Thanks for making me a coffee addict :3 k, bye.

Bhadri Narayanan R : Hello tamil ponnu (or whatever you choose to call yourself :P) I like how we meet at the most unexpected of times and always have something to discuss/rant about some or the other thing. The way you carry yourself is amazing. Thanks for singing for us and taking that beautiful pic. Keep smiling as always :D

I remember meeting you the first time in Madras when I congratulated you for your record in the mess - I admit I was terrified so much 🤖 ! I really looked forward to hanging out, especially after meeting again in Aavhan, but well... Back at you too - keep smiling 😊, otherwise people will figure you for a serious person.

Sowmya Ravichandran : Hey Karunyaa! You're one of the coolest and most badass girl I've ever met 😊 It has been incredible fun bonding with you over random things during the last few days, and I wish we get to party together again sometime soon! Keep doing crazy and cool things (like the safety pin earring 😊) cuz that's what makes you, you. I'll always remember the day you played ukulele for us, thank you for that, you were amazing.
