Shubham Gorase : I really can not decide what you'll be mostly remembered for: 1. Your fake candid (and the confidence with which you could claim it to be genuine) 2. Eating Speed (Probably the highest in the world) 3. Maggie Love/ Gym freak 4. The "Karrra" word ! And I've come to the conclusion that more than above all, you'll be remembered as a person who helped garib students like us in passing the exam, who had admirable work ethics, excellent track record (and future) in climate studies. I'm sure you will earn your name as "Chhota (or mota?) subi" in future. And...oh, I almost forgot, you will be remembered as a person who made THE best use of VMCC facility!!!! Will miss you brother.

Ankit Kumar Kanodia : Sarosh bhai tere baare me to kya kya bolu m unme se sabse acchi baat hai ki how you keep calm yourself in any situation. Tujhe yaad wo din mithilesh kitni acche se apni story bta rha tha or tu kuch or hi soch rha tha 😊 us din tune uske saath aacha nhi kiya 😂. Pure second year me hmesa ek hi bolta tha bhai subah naste ke liye utha dena. Bhai ka sabse best dialogue " bahut krrrra hai" or sbse best moments "random meetings Shubham ke room me". All the best bhai PhD ke liye and miss call karte rahna.

Akshay Kadu : One of the coolest person in WRE. How to keep urself calm in annoying situations is the quality that everyone should learn from you. We are lucky to have such a helping friend like you who never refuse to help anyone in terms of studies and other things. Will really miss playing cricket with you at indoors. Thanks for all the help and all the very best for ur future endeavours.

Roshan Jha : Ghausi bhai! Tere sath baith k hydroinformatics aasan ho gaya tha! Your sheer determination, hard work and intelligence will take you very far in future. Ab bade scientist banke bhul mat jana!

Nishikant Kumar : Sarosh bhai apna CR. Very talented guy. Research krne ke liye hi bna hi. Hr chij kut kut kr bhara hi bhai me. Situations koi v ho always smile si face. " bhai tum manoge nhi" " bhut karra hi" ye sb dialog bda mst lgta tha. Or food ki respect to koi ese sikhe 🙏. Bhut mje kiye sath me. And bhut kuch sikha tumse. Always miss you. Love you bro.

Akshay Agatkar : Sarosh bhai... It was cricket, jisne humko dost banaya ...aur wo bhi is level ka ki main shyd hi tujhe kabhi bhul paunga...Those mornings we spent at cricket ground were awesome😄.. You were very concious about your fitness... I was in love with your efforts you use to put in maintaining your fitness.. You were nice bowler and surely a valuable asset for the team. Gonna miss those last afternoon pics we took on cricket ground♥..You too were the part of my last day memory at insti😄♥..All the best for your future and for your PhD!! Be in touch bro!!

Mohammad Anzer : We share lots of memories. Nothing to say much but I am very thankful for ur help when I was admitted in campus hospital. My family specially my mother always ask about u Aur Apke liye Bhot dua krti h. May Allah make ur way easy and gives u what u want from this life. Best of luck for ur career and a happy life waiting for u.

Mithilesh Patel : If someone ask about the art of living in society my definition is you. Your mature decisions and endless forgiving character takes you to paramount in WRE, from starting to end I have always seen the leadership character in you. Your way of motivating is simply awesome. Talking with you specially in low moment always healed me. I feel Maine bhut kuchh sikha hai and I assure you that the your impressions to whole WRE batch is in-erasable. And one more thing you are more corny but your feelings not visible on your face, that is why society think of your type guys a decent but I know the Shikari hidden inside you😄 And how much you are Hungry for nonveg😄😄😄😄😄
