Harishankar GK : u r so unique to an extend that I used to describe u as weirdo! but now I take pride in meeting you..u r a person with so much passion in the things that u love, whether it be physics, movies. or ideas...I could see the passion in the explanations that u used to give..and...I really like your humour sense(in fb :D)...like..how are coming up with such sarcastic jokes always in fb!! u really are an unavoidable friend in fb..I wish u all the best!

Writasree Maitra : You're a very inspiring person. Thank you for boosting me up whenever I feel down. Your weirdest jokes at the serious moments are something I'll always remember. Stay passionate; stay eccentric; stay happy. You'll do amazing in research- i don't hope, I know it. All the very best.

Mouli Hazra : Oye hoye Dibbo...u r my inspiration....it doesn't matter wheather most of ur words draw a tangent to my head, wheather it takes atleast a week to understand what exactly u mean to say in the comments of my fb post...but these things make me more curious about u...yeah...u r talent. I loved to discuss with u about my project..u r not only my inspiration I think everyone could be inspired by you...not only because of ur outstanding jam net rank and academics but also ur sense of humour. Im a fan of the fb meme u share..they are not exactly what others share....I'm proud of having a friend like u.. happy journey...

Neeraj Kumar : Roomie, when i first met you, I knew It's gonna be an adventurous ride. It turned out to be a great one. You are an extraordinary person, full of potential, and I believe you will be a great physicist. Ok, that was obvious to you. Being your roommate, I experienced, you are a great human being too, I mean it. Whatever makes you happy(you know the context), go for it... I will miss our late night chats, sharing our experiences, not (only) related to physics. Wish you a great future ahead. Stay connected.

Jaydeep Lohia : Dibbo, the lab partner, The facebook friend (worthy 😂), the neighbour, you always felt as an elusive personality to me, until the last semester, when I got a chance to know you more! You are a wonderful person, although difficult to initiate interactions 😊, I will always remember you as a genius with whom I shared some humor, some experiments, some memories to be cherished, forever.

Rohit Kumar : Prabhu Ji, a Bengali guy. You remember first time we met in the BB when we were waiting for our mentor. In first year we didn't had much conversation as I was scared of bengalies :), always study and only study. But I think I became successful to reach you with my lame jokes in hostel 18. 😊😊 I will really miss you brother. And your intelligence level, 🙏🙏🙏🙏 waiting to read your research paper, that's different issues that I won't get anything 😊👤.... Keep rocking like this bro and motivating us with your kind heart. Hope will make good bounds with time bs bhool mat jana prabhu.....Eagerly waiting to tell a story to my children....there was a bengali guy👄👄👄

Sonia Rani : Hey Dibbo. I don't know you really but what I have figured out during these years is that you love physics. Sometimes, when I sat with you in classes, you said something and I turned my head to listen but then realised you were murmuring about the topic which prof is teaching. Sometimes when you really asked me something, I had to make sure that you are actually talking to me. You seem a really serious person but your fb posts tell otherwise xD. I was so nervous to talk to you when we three went to hanging gardens that I could not even talk to you. But anyways, continue your love towards physics. Stay happy always.

Chigicherla Venkata Sai Prasanna : I first saw you along with Sahil in the convo hall. I saw you nodding head in acceptance and enjoying prof Sai QM class while I was clueless of what is happening 🤔. I am fan of your handwriting and the way you manage all subjects in one book. That tells us how well they are developed and organised in your mind. I don't know whether you remember this, it was one rainy morning and I did not have the umbrella. You opened your small umbrella and enthusiastically said Lets go ! 😄 I am sure you are gonna be the next Prof Rajesh Gopakumar and Prof Ashok Sen in Theoretical Physics.

Avari Roy : Well, Divyanandan_Dibbo, (doesn't matter however offended you become by this short form ;)) means a humble, at the same time a very strong guy to me. To be honest, I thought you would be just the same nerd guy, with big arrogance and little care for peoples' feelings :P untill something (I can't recall) happened that you became too friendly with me (was it the after class walks towards our hostels?) I saw that you have soo many 'Well Defined' layers in your mind.. I was really stunned by your maturity (which often boys of your age lack!) I am really proud to have a friend like you, a always available reach! A 'never leave you offended' person..thank you so much for your balanced support :D
