Abhisek Sahu : Tedha hai, par mera (dost) hai. 😂 Jokes aside, If I were to describe you in one sentence, it would be- you are a man with the sense of humour of captain Ray Holt, combined with the moral acumen of Yudhishtir, although you will get irksome with exactly one of the comparisons. A mystery that I never could solve about you was your use of 😊 to denote a smile. Seriously dude, it's creepy! While you try very hard to maintain that nonchalant, serious, unemotional persona, deep within you are a very caring human being. I could not have asked for a better friend and you are an idol in many respects. Peace be with ya☺

Saipriya Satyajit : The force is strong with this one, is the best one-line description I can think of you♥. I still remember the first time we met, just after the orientation in the line. Then we became wingies, well, the time spent with you could have been a bit more if you stayed with us on the weekends 😊. And my god, it really took you some time to get my name correctly as Sai, not Sei 😂. Jokes aside, honestly, I don't recall any of my acquaintances who are so calm and practical as you. Thanks for helping me calm down in several situations. I hope you achieve all you want, keep being the badass you are! Ohh bdw I am always going to remember the Gaussian distribution joke I say to you 😂.

Sukanya Kudva : Hey Keshav, I'm glad Bosonic happened and I got to know you better. In fresh year, it was hard to look through your serious, mostly poker face (sorry😅). But really, you came out as such as surprise after that. I'll never forget the Vihar lake experience and how we ended up at your home all muddy, tired and sleepy😴...I still feel embarrassed about that though. Your ghar-ka-khana is just too great.. it was sweet of you to invite us home:). You are super-organised and disciplined. I am sure every person who knows you would agree😊. Wish you good luck with whatever you choose to do ahead. Keep in touch!!😊

Mrigank Ashesh : Thanks for all the treats you invited me to. I know I owe you a lots of treats but I promise to treat you next time we meet. You have been an amazing person. I really miss those Lola's you brought from home. I really appreciate your work ethics and dedication towards studies. I am thankful for your support during my GSEC tenure. I would have wished to hang out more with you than I did in these 4 years. Please stay in touch and all the best for your future. Stay in touch. Hume bhi yaad kar lena kabhi bhool mat jaana 😊

Adane Sahil Ravindra : Okay - the standard Keshav response to most things. Really cool. i have stolen that and use it sometimes with proper citation but I can never do that with your emotion and expertise ;) We have spent a lot of time together with MnP, DAMP, projects and labs -Nikhil and I just followed you here. Easily one the smartest people I know but also very helpful and kind. I really admire your work ethic, have seen it up close and I am sure it will only get better. Always an interesting discussion with you, regardless of what we have talked about though it was mostly just me blabbering and you patiently listening. Good luck ahead! And we will keep catching up once in a while! :)

Kartik Patekar : Yo Keshav! You are one of the most "precise" person I have met. I have learnt a lot from you, and because of you, from life philosophy to punctuality to acad stuff. In Acads, you drastically increase my understanding, and you were my go-to guy for all doubts and course choices xD. It was fun doing things with you, from that Biathalon to regular Jogging to Swimming to Gymming to this boring ML project :P. Conversations with you were always amazing (especially over milk), and I could say stuff on my mind without filter. Thanks for all those tasty food at your house. Let's not go to your house next time after getting caught by police xD. Lets make many more amazing memories in UK!

Sagar Kumar Seth : Yo Keshav ! Mr. Perfectionist ! Surely a man of focus and commitment. Our first meeting would probably have been me asking you some doubt XD. You have been life-saver for so many exams! Remember how we fought to sit beside you for exam preps XD. Your verdict on most things is final. I will remember you as the man who has the last word. Also a lot of weird but funny words ! pondu-pondu :P. All the trips were super fun with you. Berlin/ Prague trip and cooking at your guest house are fond memories I will always cherish :D. It's a loss for the world of physics now that you have chosen a different path. I am sure you'll be acing that path too! All the best for your future bro ! Stay in touch !

Edwin Saji Uthuppan : Aaaagh fuck it. I will have to plagiarise what sahu wrote: You are an unholy combinations of Holt's humor and Yudishtir's morality. You are a tough nut to crack man. You figured out the weakness of my methods: xkcd.com/2250

R Sucheta : Helllloooo, From co-conveners in MnP to DAMPCOs, you've been a very kind and helpful friend. :D I love the way you stay so disciplined and manage to complete everything so perfectly. All the best and stay the same ^_^

Sowmya Ravichandran : Hey Keshav! I got to know you well only through our tenure, and I'm glad I got to do it with you as I had a lot to learn from you. Also there were many times when I had tough things going on, and you were really understanding about it. Thank you for all of that 😊 stay in touch and let's hope to meet in Europe soon! All the best for your future!

Aman Sharma : Hey Keshav!! It's been really great having you as a friend, I found you as a real oddity in the whole group XD...calm, poised and warm. I read somewhere the more comfortable you are with someone the easier it is share silence, and I that's what I remember the most sharing those joyous moments of silence with you. Your dedication and discipline will get all you want I'm sure of it:) Hope to see you soon!
