Shubhankar Mihir Seth : Aadarsh boss! Damn, we were the only mech peeps in our entire wing, and how we've survived - from copied cheatsheets to giving each other a crash course in Machine Design. From Goa to Hyderabad, you've been too much fun, and you can get everyone to drink! Your chilled out attitude towards everything, and your willingness to accompany on any food outing was just incredible. Here's to the endless ordering from KFC, Subway, Dominos and every place on every food delivery app in this world!

Rahul Agrawal : Aadarsh bro, constant 5th sem ka gullu partner tha tu- each week, wed-fri lol. We've discussed a myriad of things and I have always enjoyed how you had a good sense of humour in everything :p. (Jannu ko sikha de :p). You're definitely one of my chilliest friends and I can only wonder how you manage things :P. TOEFL ka speaking jamming session in Jannu's room hamesha yaad rahega merko xD. Machine design me bacha liya tune last presentation me :P. I will always remember our occasional criticism of non-core xD. I admire your efforts in switching fields, and I wish you the best at CMU :). Chutti me SF aa jana, basky khel lenge :p. All the best mate, have fun! Ameer banke thodi funding please :P.

Ayush Puri : Aadarsh bro kaafi maze kiye apan ne saath me, and especially baheti ka mazak udana, I am gonna definitely miss it. All the best for your future and keep spreading positivity like you always do.

Nirbhay Wadiwala : BHA! SAHAAB how do i put into words what an amazing character you are .. From mimcking someones sex life at the bus stand outside gullu to sharing a tent for four days and collaborating to minimize effort at 10,800 feet I feel like I've known you forever.. I hope my weirdness rubs off on you :)

Archiki Prasad : Hey Lovable Cow/ (P)Aadarsh! I recollect your wise words- "It took you so long to realize you can do this to my name" (XD). Now that I think about it, you have been a part of almost every group / friend circle in insti-debating, first year meta, our usual group, all the trios like- Adil, you and I, Shourya, you and I, Goa-trip, all the XOXO and gossip groups, and finally the two time pass course projects we did together <3. I remember the first time we sat in the first DIC class and we looked at each other and exclaimed 'Ab toh BC marna padega!' We have shared countless memories together, my fav is the rolling on the floor outside H15. I hope you have a 'sorted' life! PS. Lets stay in touch

Sahil Shah : College, for me, started when Pratyush, you and I went to Laxmi for dinner and then did some slick socializing in the mess! Over these four years, our friendship has evolved but there's never been a dull moment. Among the countless memories I have, some are you drinking a fancy mocktail at Apna Dhaba, doing push-ups at the bus stop outside of Gulu, cracking up over the crack in your room's ceiling, and of course you rolling outside H-15. Trekking together, planning weight loss and exercise, and attempting to learn cooking has helped cement this bond. You are one of the first to comes to mind when I think of lifelong college friends. Let's be sure to do the Euro trip. Keep in touch always!

Shourya Pandey : Arey my food buddy :D You've been such a good friend to me, and you're a great person in general. Itna positive attitude kaise ho sakta hai kisi mei? No matter how bad the situation may be, you're the first person to break the atmosphere with an ironic laugh out of nowhere, and that's awesome. Our friendship has been so good from the start. The first true sign of our friendship that I will always remember is you rolling outside H-15 and screaming "Shourya bacha mujhe" from a little puppy that was trying to roll with you lol. I will miss these days, but I am certainly leaving college with an awesome buddy and a true friend. Also, don't forget to take me on any Euro trip too :P
