Koushik Konwar : The underdog of our batch. You have immense talent but you are too lazy to discover it :P . Batch ka first placement on the very first day and the tears in your eyes will be always remembered by all. I will really miss the home made foods you would bring for everyone which clearly shows your love and affection towards us. Had it not been you I would have never got to celebrate a homely Diwali during my college days. Do tell aunty that I admire her mutton recipe a lot and I wish I could have had more. last but not the least will be always be the 'Chanka chor' of our batchJapan ja rha h, atleast Breezer pena suru kar d. :D

Utkarsh Kulshrestha : JKB..JKB...JKB...acha hai...bahut acha hai...bas zindagi mein thori aflatooni aur machao...khush raho. I have observed one very good thing about you and that is to your unique interests and knowledge which keep you apart. You tend to be involved in those things, which we never try for ourselves as passionately as you do. Be it your Japanese knowledge, cosplay, home cooking and moreover honesty. Bas khud se thora aur lagaav rakho, khud be bharosa rakho...will miss your home cooked food. I just wish main bhi chal pata kabhi toh, hamesha koi pre engagement rehta tha.

Sanoj Prasad : Hemant.. the mysterious man. Itna jaldi tu open nahi hota but once you do, you are awesome. Music hum dono ki hi life ka ek important part h and I will miss those discussions over coke studio and underground artists with you. Baahar se jitna sakht launda bnta ho .. andar se h tu emotional number one. Ghar ka khana hmesha miss krenge tera and aunty ko firse thank you bol dio for all the food :)

Sandeepan Dhoundiyal : Gateway and Juhu can eat their hearts out, you were the best thing to come out of Bombay. I will miss your sense of humour, which swayed wildly between absolutely fantastic and utter garbage, but somehow always seemed to work. The times we discussed Anime and manga, were always special, I might have felt a bit incomplete without them. Thanks for all your help, and for the home cooked meals. I will miss strolling those nightly strolls around the campus. I'm looking forward to visiting you in Japan, and eating Ramen, Ichiraku or not!

Aditya Vitthalrao Chondke : Mr Hemant Prasad Shivsagar Rita, jitna bada nam utni hi versatile personality. Remember we use to say "Bahut maza aayega aagar tu day 1 marega", aur tune mar bhi liya yarr. I can still picture you being emotional and crying on the day 1 after you got placed bro. Anime lover, cosplayer, managa fan. A guy with so much talent and knowledge. It was really fun convincing you to come out with us with Sanoj bhai HAHA. So creative I have seen you building so many things from scratch, using magnets from headphones, the cloth folding setup (Sheldon inspired). Really had awesome time playing CS1.6, watching movies, endless talks in room. Learned alot from you bro. Thanks for being there. All the best bhai

Moni Shankar Dey : When I first met you, you came across quite aloof and indifferent. I couldn't be more wrong. A Uprite growing up with Marathi manus, you imbibe the best quality from both cultures. When you get to know people, you transform from a shy & quiet person, to a virat bakchod and a chatterbox. You're a fun and easy going guy to hang out with, and never got offended despite being roasted badly. You wished to go abroad to Japan, and we all witnessed your tears of joy when you got placed in NEC. Several beautiful meries are associated with you and insti. We r 6 Km apart in japan, apne room me bas baithe mat rah jana, kabhi kabhi hum logo k sath bhi mil lena. Can't wait to play Pokemon Go with u, JKB

Swapna Sarit Ojha : We have had very few conversations in our time in college, but I enjoyed them nevertheless. I had a lot of fun in Goa, in that game we played in the waters in which you lost your spectacles. Lets plan to go to Goa again, to the exact same place, and play the exact same game, and hopefully we will find the specs back :) P.S : I love the photos you upload on instagram. They are so beautiful. P.P.S : We haven't yet recieved the placement-treat. We accept Amazon Gift Cards ;)
