Sayan Roy : Nilu, I should gift you a wrist watch on your next birthday. Thanks for keeping me waiting at H18 before rehearsal and then take your cycle and reach H10 before me. I think you ate the maximum number of chicken lollypop at our hostel. I will miss our dinner table talks. I loved to discuss historical basis of the present day society with you. Your grasp on history amazes me. I wish I had your talent to eat a lot and stay slim.

Abhishek Datta : "Chandannagarer maal" Kaka, bhalo toh? An avid reader and helpful guy. Bukhar me bhi meeting. A career driven guy. Will miss listening to Sunday Suspense together. The only person who has the guts to choose astrobiology. R ektai kotha, Room ta bhai week e ek din clean korish. Biyer boyesh holo.

Pradip Karmakar : One of the most talented person i have ever seen in my entire life ... i love your enthusiasm to know something until you completely understand that ... wish i could have gone back to iitb and have those dining table completely out of field discussions again ... those were really great ... i appreciate ur knowlege on human physiology and since it is my favorite too, i always loved to talk with u about these things ... echarao bangla golpo toh achei .. from trip to hostel life to everything will be unforgettable ... always stay in touch :)

Sagar Baulia : Nilu baby and my memory of him was always cool guy who always took extra chicken lolipop which he finishes completely unlike #pradip,.U have very good understanding of topics , and u ask question sometime which I can't understand bcs may be I donot posses that much of calibre as u , but keep asking question they are very good ones .. u r eager to learn is same as titsss which is great ..U r cricketing skills are great too.. but keep practicing .# stay healthy , stay happy , live life to the fullest ..see u aftr lockdown although u can see me(sagar, indian ocean) from roof top bcs it's so clear outside due to lockdown

Titash Baidya : Bhaai.....I think you were my son in previous life. Really...I don't know whether I have much more similarities with any other person in the world. Crystal clear heart; if someone radiates a beam of light in front of your chest it will pass through. A natural overthinker just like me...okay. keep it with you. From that pool of overthinking you discovered many uncommon points about any topic which still bewitches me. One of the most exceptional person, prolifically tenacious. You dig in any topic in study so deep until you get it totally and I respect you for that. We have enormous memories like talking about movies, deep philosophical issues, history, music and many other things. Stay blessed

Rumjhum Mukherjee : K janto je amra emon ekta jaigay porte jabo jekhane Nilu baby will be THE handsome guy in the class, who'll be very famous among most girls in the department! 🤪 Jokes apart, ganta tui bhalo gash, so keep at it! Tor calm composed self will take you places! Eto kichur poreo amader Chandannagar e thakur dekhate niye geli na! Ki r bolbo?! May you achieve your goals and excel in everything that you do! 😊

Sreyashi Mandal : We shared a love for Sunday suspense and I really enjoyed discussing bengali literature with you. Also you are a really good story teller. I loved hearing stories about your family puja and the rituals. I hope we stay in touch. Wish you all the best for your future!

Ashish Kumar Choudhary : Bhawna ka Nilu baby..haha. the best part was discussion on any random topics we discussed on lunch and dinner. Your love for cricket and football is awesome. For ISCP post,lots of efforts you have given to become the mentor. And remember 1 thing marks will not decide ur future, your knowledge and hardwork will give u the right direction.. All the best and be happy.

Rahul Shaha : Yes, the Mysore trip, all of a sudden. It was an amazing experience. Nilanjan you are very hardworking and dedicated towards your work whether it is lab or your POR. One thing I like about you is how firm you are towards your decision. If you make up your mind on something no one can change that and it is a good thing but at sometimes it may not be the best thing. I wish you best of luck for your future hope to meet you soon for our pending trip :)

Rohan Kumar Parida : O Nilu baby! Talented boy with a lovely smile. You have been very good at understanding concepts but once you feed something in your mind, it is very difficult to take that out. So sometimes it becomes difficult to take wrong concepts(if any) from your mind. So it is hard to debate with you but those moments will remember me about you. You have been a very friendly and mixing guy. I have some golden memories of elephanta and bhandardara with you. You always sing with a smile on your face which I really like. You have so much of random ideas which can be pointed out from your questions in class. So build on your ideas to be a good researcher. All the best. Keep that smile on your face always. 😊😊

Abhishek Shaw : Nilu baby....I am always with you...one day I want to sing (Dil m ho tum) with you....amader saraswati puja and durga puja memories are best memories. Mujhe yaad hai NET k exam k pehle tu kitna kuch mujhe samjhaya tha....thank you for that..chal jab intsi khulega ekdin cricket match khelte hai..All the best for your future and stay in touch 🥰.....

Rohit Kumar : when I hear your name, I was so curious to meet you. For me it was like meeting the successors of Subhash Chandra Bose...your passion about the scientific query is commendable and passion for cricket is adorable... it was my pleasure for me that you became my friend... I hope to see you soon...

Soumili Sarkar : Nilu Babes, I have seen you growing stronger, both as a person as well as a researcher. Your inquisitiveness knows no bounds. Keep up your hard work. You'll always be that cute nervous brother of mine. Stay True, Stay You. Loads of love and best wishes <3

Jeyapriya T J : "This guy reminds me of our brother" that's how I introduced you to my sister. A pure soul and innocent person of our class. I always enjoyed your company in UG lab. I always treasure our group bond in the lab. You're the person who says something interesting apart from Hi, whenever we meet midways. You don't speak negative of others. That's the most impressive attribute in you. 🤩 for your interest in astrobiology.
